WOMAN SAFE BY 24 INCHES

Driverless Truck Smashes House

A fast-thinking housekeeper dived into a closet yesterday as a driverless two-ton truck and trailer shattered through two bedrooms in a house at 2250 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The truck crashed through the front bedroom within 24 inches of where Mrs. Betty Jane Mazzio, 37, was cowering. It flattened a second wall before stopping in the back bedroom.

As plaster and timbers collapsed, Mrs. Mazzio's daughter, Toni Ann, 8, ran screaming from the living room to find her mother.

Pale, shaken but unhurt, Mrs. Mazzio slid back the closet door and grabbed her daughter in her arms. Then she called police.

Officer Raymond Bleasdale said the truck, carrying a trencher machine on a trailer, was parked on the south side of Fifth Avenue while the driver walked to a nearby subdivision construction site.

Minutes later—at 2:40 p.m.—the rig started rolling down Fifth Avenue, crossed the street, careened over the lawn at 2250 Fifth Avenue and crashed into the house.

Mrs. Mazzio of 24 Jordan Court, San Anselmo, was in the front bedroom turning on the television set.

"I heard a rumbling noise, getting louder and louder," she told Bleasdale. "Then I jumped into the closet on the side of bedroom."

Mrs. Mazzio, wife of San Rafael postman Anthony Mazzio, told police she had been baby-sitting and housekeeping for the owner of the house, Mrs. Norma Jean Taaffe. The two Taaffe youngsters were visiting friends at the time of the accident.

Driver of the truck, William M. Keller of San Jose, was cited for having no chauffeur's license and driving a vehicle with a defective emergency brake.

Pharmacists Plan To Ask Dismissal Of Indictment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California pharmacists accused by the federal government of price fixing on prescription drugs will ask court dismissal of the price fixing indictment.

John W. Broad, attorney for the Northern California Pharmaceutical Assn., told newsmen today the indictment would be attacked on two major points.

One will be a claim that the indictment covers only dispensing prescription drugs in local pharmacies and therefore does not involve interstate commerce under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, he said.

Another claim will challenge the government's effort to apply Sherman Anti-Trust Act provisions to the profession of pharmacy. Broad said the act was intended to cover trade and commerce, and declared California law recognizes pharmacy as a profession like medicine and the law.

"The U.S. Supreme Court has recognized that forms of competition usual in the business world may be demoralizing to the ethical standards of a profession," Broad declared.

At an arraignment hearing today, Broad asked a delay in entering pleas for the association and Donald K. Hedgpeth, San Francisco druggist and pricing committee chairman, so that he could file motions to quash the indictment.

Federal Judge George B. Harris set the pleading date for Jan. 26.

SUB-FREEZING SHIVERS HIT MARIN COUNTY

Marin County shivered this morning in sub-freezing temperatures with the mercury dropping as low as 24 degrees in Alto.

Woodacre registered 25 degrees and Novato 30.

In other parts of the county it was warmer—but still chilly, with Corte Madera reporting 32, San Anselmo and Tamalpais Valley 34, Terra Linda, San Rafael and Mill Valley, 36.

Bolinas "sweltered" at 46 degrees.

Decline Noted In Paralytic Polio Cases

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Paralytic polio declined slightly in California this year, the Public Health Department reported today.

But officials, in a report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, noted that Salk polio vaccinations—the only protection against the disease now available in the state—should be used as much as possible.

"Eighty per cent of this year's cases have occurred in non-vaccinated or poorly vaccinated individuals," the report said.

The new oral polio vaccine will not be available in any appreciable quantity before the end of 1961, the department said.

Health officials also said reported cases of venereal disease substantially increased in the state this year.

The reported incidence of all types of polio through the first week of December has remained about the same as it was in the same period last year. However, there were only 364 paralytic cases as compared with 409 in 1959.

Forty per cent of the victims were under 5 years of age.

Congo Rebels Enter Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—A column of rebel troops from Stanleyville was reported today to have entered northern Katanga and made contact there with Baluba tribesmen fighting against the separatist regime of President Moise Tshombe.

A United Nations report said the rebel force entered Katanga through Kivu Province, and was approaching Kongolo, the center of a bitter guerrilla war between the Katanga Balubas and Tshombe's police.

Board's Chair Seen Certain For Fusselman

Chairmanship of the Marin County Board of Supervisors starting next Monday seemed today to be in the bag for Supervisor William D. Fusselman of San Anselmo.

"They can have it," commented present chairman Walter R. Castro of San Rafael. "I've been in six years and there's a lot more feathers than fried chicken in this job—no extra pay and everybody on top of you."

INDICATE SUPPORT

Newly elected supervisors J. Walter Blair and George Ludy indicated they would support Fusselman who has already had one period of chairmanship, in 1953 and 1954, and who today was in a modestly receptive mood to take on the job again.

Fusselman has served on the board since November of 1942, when he accepted a short-term appointment.

"I'd go for Bill," said Ludy. "Over the grapevine I hear that he'll be next chairman. I imagine he feels that the new board will be behind him."

NO 3-MAN HUDDLES

Both Ludy and Blair stressed, and Fusselman confirmed, that there have been no three-man huddles either to elect Fusselman chairman or to scheme out strategy as a new majority on the board.

William Gnoss of Novato, the fifth board member, is friendly toward Castro but it is felt that both he and Castro accept the fact of a natural pull-together as between veteran Fusselman and the new members.

Election is expected to take place immediately after swearing-in of the two new members, replacing Mrs. Vera Schultz and James Marshall, Monday noon. It could, however, be deferred until the regular weekly session starting at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Belgian King Flies Home As Strike Violence Continues

Monarch Curtails Honeymoon To Cope With Growing Crisis

BRUSSELS (UPI) — King Baudouin cut short his honeymoon in Spain and flew home tonight to stave off disaster in his riot-torn kingdom where saber-wielding gendarmes and police armed with tear gas battled mobs of strikers in the leading cities.

The nation was wracked by a nine-day strike called by Socialist workers in an effort to bring down the government of Premier Gaston Eyskens and end his austerity program. The Socialists claimed the king's return meant Eyskens would have to quit.

There were outbursts of violence in Brussels, in Antwerp and in other big cities today but few casualties. (See picture on page 2.)

OUT OF CONTROL

The worst violence was in Brussels where mounted gendarmes charged with drawn sabers into mobs of stone-throwing strikers who surged 15,000 strong through the city, wrecking buses and street cars, smashing windows and screaming "Eyskens to the gallows." The mobs fled unhurt.

Thirty thousand strikers demonstrated in the port of Antwerp, Belgium's second city, in a mass parade that started calmly but flared out of control. Mobs there smashed windows of department stores, hotels and street cars before police drove them back with tear gas.

BUNTING FOR KING

Many political observers believed the resignation of Eyskens would follow the return of the king. Eyskens had opposed the monarch's return since that could give the impression he was unable to control the situation.

Two weeks ago when Baudouin flew to Sevilla, in Spain, with his new queen, Fabiola,

2 Germanys To Continue Trade Pact

BERLIN (UPI)—East and West Germany agreed today to continue trade next year, avoiding a possible Communist blockade of isolated West Berlin and a new international crisis.

A West German press office announcement said East and West German experts agreed at their ninth meeting today that trade relations would continue on the basis of an agreement which the West German government canceled in September.

The West German government thus effectively withdrew its cancellation of the old agreement just two days before a Communist deadline for a settlement of the trade issue or reimposition of a probable new Berlin blockade.

Murphy Given New Term On Bridge Board

Leland S. Murphy, veteran of 17 years as a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, won reappointment to another four-year term today.

Marin County supervisors voted 3-to-2 for the reappointment, on motion of Supervisor Vera L. Schultz of Mill Valley, seconded by James A. Marshall of Tomales.

THIRD VOTE

This was almost the final official act for Mrs. Schultz and Marshall, both of whom failed to win re-election. Their successors are scheduled to take office at the next meeting of the board.

The third vote for Murphy was cast by Supervisor William D. Fusselman of San Anselmo.

Board Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato voted against reappointment.

Castro and Gnoss questioned Murphy at length on bridge actions which have in times past brought public criticism.

HIS OPINION

Referring to Murphy's outspoken opposition to rapid transit across the bridge, Gnoss asked Murphy why the bridge administration "has not worked too closely with our rapid transit district?"

Murphy declared his publicly expressed opinions were those of a private citizen of Marin County, "a taxpayer and 30-year resident."

His principal objection was

Mayor Makes Vain Try To Halt Fatal Quarrel

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Jean Eldridge Sooy, about 40, an attractive Mill Valley cosmetician, was shot to death by her estranged husband, Ralph C. Sooy, in the front yard of their home last night, after which Sooy turned his .22 caliber pistol on himself. He died of the gunshot wound at 6:15 a.m. today.

The shootings climaxed a violent quarrel which Mayor Robert D. Huber, whose home is next door to that of the Sooys, tried without success to stop. The mayor was ordered away by Sooy almost as the latter squeezed the trigger of the death gun.

The double slaying ended a marriage which began in Reno on March 26, 1949, and which was scheduled to wind up in a divorce hearing before Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating on Jan. 3.

CHARGED VIOLENCE

Mrs. Sooy filed for divorce Nov. 22, charging cruelty. She alleged her husband had inflicted physical force and violence and recently threatened further violence. She asked the court for a restraining order and was arranging to have the locks on the house at 389 Throckmorton Avenue changed to keep her husband from entering.

But Sooy, 49-year-old assistant poundmaster for the Marin County Humane Society, went to the home last night. The quarrel that followed ended in what Police Chief James M. McGowan said was the first murder in Mill Valley since he joined the police force in 1937.

Mayor Huber and his wife Jean, in their home at 365 Throckmorton, heard the door of the gray-shingled Sooy home slam at 9:25 p.m. Mrs. Huber went onto the Huber back porch, then called her husband.

'TERRIFIC FIGHT'

"There's a terrific fight going on over there," she said.

Huber went to the telephone and called police.

There had been other fights between Sooy and Mrs. Sooy, he said, "with him chasing her around the house and hitting her."

As Huber hung up the telephone, his wife called: "She's run out of the house. Help her into our front door."

"I ran out the front door and got about five feet short of their gate and Sooy yelled, 'Get away from here, Bob!'" the mayor related. Almost instantly two shots went off.

"I fell down beside my car in the driveway when I heard the shots. Then I ran back into my house and on the way back I heard another shot. I called the police again," the mayor related.

RALPH C. SOOY
Shootings climax quarrel

Lt. Charles McCourtney and officer Carl Mead Jr. arrived within minutes. "When I got there the Sooys were lying behind the gate in the front yard inside the fence," said Officer Mead. "I looked over the fence and saw Sooy lying there groaning and Mrs. Sooy lying on her back with blood coming out of the back of her neck. The pistol was lying between them.

"I couldn't get through the gate because the man was lying against it. City Manager (A.E.) Almcrants hoisted me over the six-foot picket fence and I ran around and got the pistol, a .22 high standard automatic Colt, which I gave to Almcrants.

"Robert Hackney, an ambulance driver, jumped the fence and helped move Sooy so we could open the gate. Then Asst. Fire Chief Joe Regalia arrived with the fire truck."

Mead said that during this time the Sooys' black shaggy dog, Maggie, kept barking.

"Mrs. Sooy was alive when I got there," Mead said, "but by this time she didn't appear to be breathing. We put

'Tremendous Ball Of Fire' Reported Over West Marin

Almost a dozen residents of Inverness, Tocoloma and San Rafael told sheriff's deputies last night they saw a "tremendous ball of fire with a red jet-like tail" fall through the sky and fall near the Nicasio Dam.

"I've seen meteors, but I've never seen anything like this before," said Lorraine McIsaac of Tocoloma. She told Deputy Sheriff William Christensen the fire ball, with its tail throwing out sparks, flashed northward through the sky and fell behind Black Mountain near Point Reyes Station about 5:40 p.m.

Sheriff's deputies notified Hamilton Air Force Base and a helicopter was sent scurrying across the area. Deputies searched on foot. They found nothing.

Key, Combination, Rigid Timetable Helped In Big Florida Vault Theft

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A key, combination, timetable and teamwork formed the ingredients for Florida's biggest burglary—a neat $400,000 theft from the vault of an armored car service.

Police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents were still trying to fit the pieces together today, more than 50 hours after thieves carted away the loot in 19 moneybags.

The vault contained an estimated one million dollars in cash and checks. All of the sacks containing coins were left behind.

Investigators agreed that the theft could have been executed only with knowledge or actual aid provided by an employee or former employee.

Detective Inspector O. C. Beynon said officers questioned more than 20 persons and that others would be called in. No arrests have been made.

"It was definitely an inside job," E. A. Rasdale, president of the firm, said. "They knew what they were doing and timed the whole thing just right."

All of the loss, the firm's first theft in its 23 years of operation, was insured.

Authorities pieced the burglary together like this:

The intruders—at least two and perhaps as many as four—entered the company's one-story building a few minutes after midnight Tuesday. They used a key to open the front door.

An alarm sounded at a burglar protective agency several blocks away when the door opened. One of the men followed the password procedure used by employees when entering and leaving the building at night. He telephoned the agency and gave a name and code number.

It took the operator six minutes to determine that the name and number failed to match those on file with the agency. Police arrived at the scene three minutes after the operator called them.

During the nine minutes which elapsed, the intruders walked through an unlocked door to the vault, opened it by dialing the combination, carried out the sacks and escaped.

The act began and ended during a 30-minute interval between the departure of one armored car from the building and scheduled arrival of another.

Police found the building deserted and the vault locked when they arrived. Before fleeing, a burglar set the vault's time-clock so that the door couldn't be opened for 72 hours.

"They would have taken it all," Rasdale sair, "but they were on a rigid time schedule."

HE'S OFF TRACK NOW

Driver Ties One On, Cuts Along Rail Line

DECATUR, Ga. (AP)—A daring young man who drove his car five miles down a railroad track, over trestles and a bridge right in front of a freight train, will spend the next six months safely in jail.

"I'll be swan if I know why we didn't run over him or why he didn't run off a trestle or something," marveled train engineer J. B. Broom.

Police who rushed to the scene and arrested Theron Luther George Jr., 18, also had words of praise for the young daredevil's skill in negotiating the track and trestles in the early morning darkness without a mishap, with Broom's train whistling impatiently behind.

But DeKalb County Judge Oscar Mitchell was not so impressed. "When I asked him what his excuse he just said he was guilty and didn't have an excuse," the judge commented in passing sentence yesterday.

The six-month sentence was on a charge of drunkenness on private property.

Broom said he first spotted the car sailing along the Seaboard Air Line tracks ahead of him at 4 a.m. Tuesday, its left wheels running on the crossties between the tracks and its right wheels on the dirt right of way.

Every time the driver came to a trestle he pulled all four wheels up on the crossties and bumped on across, the engineer said.

"If we'd come on that guy anywhere else along there we'd have overrun him sure.

"We happened to see him on a straight stretch, but after that we lost sight of him because of all the curves and hills and I didn't make more than seven or eight miles an hour because I was afraid I'd overrun him," Broom said.

Creeping along in the darkness so as not to smash into the rear of the car, Broom said after crossing an overpass "we saw him standing there right in the middle of the tracks and laughing at us and waving his hands. So I laughed about that time, too, and got out to see what had happened.

"I didn't get a chance to talk to him much because the cops came up about that time," he added. Police had been tipped previously that a car was running down the track, its headlights on and horn blowing.

Psychology Might Help Weight Diets

NEW YORK (AP)—Psychology can be a helpful buddy in dieting to lose weight, researchers said today.

The psychological aids could be such steps as:

Preparing the next meal right after you've eaten—then you won't nibble.

Eating specific foods in specific places of the house. Or going to the trouble of putting on some certain type of clothing before eating.

ONLY WHEN EMPTY

Lifting a forkful of food only when your mouth is empty.

Holding forkfuls of food for a while between plate and eager teeth—or chewing food longer.

Psychologically, they said, eating involves a whole chain of events or stimuli, usually performed in a pretty fixed routine.

While the chain of events varies with individuals, a typical chain is going to the store, selecting and paying for food, carting it home, preparing it, setting the table, sitting down to the table, and so forth.

LENGTHEN CHAIN

The idea is to lengthen the chain of events.

The longer the chain is, the weaker are its effects, said Charles B. Ferster, Ph.D., John I. Nurnberger, M.D., and Eugene E. Levitt of the psychiatry department, Indiana University School of Medicine.

Eating too much is largely a habit, they told the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Psychological principles can help develop self-control, which is different from will power, they said.

Scientists have learned much about the electric eel's anatomy and power potential, but they still know almost nothing about how it produces electricity in living tissue.

U.N. Probing Congo Report Of Massacre

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — United Nations officials today investigated reports that passengers on a train attacked in Katanga province yesterday were massacred after they were abducted by raiding Baluba tribesmen from Kasai province. A U.N. spokesman said he doubted the reports.

Authorities in Katanga had expressed fears for the lives of some passengers who they said had been kidnaped by the raiders.

SOME CONTRADICTIONS

A U.N. spokesman said some reports had apparent contradictions in them. For example, he said, the U.N. troops guarding the train were Irish and Moroccan and not Swedish as had been reported.

He said the train was carrying about 100 African school children from Elisabethville to northwestern Katanga for the holidays. The spokesman said reports that the train left Elisabethville with 400 people and arrived at Kamina with only 30 survivors were "wildly exaggerated.

First reports of the incident said the train was raided three times by the Kasai Balubas — enemies of the Balubas aboard the train who support Katanga premier Moise Tshombe—and that 20 of the African passengers had been killed.

WAR THREAT

The U.N. spokesman said a local chieftain, Kasongo Niemba, claimed that 19 Balubas, 14 Konakat and Lulua tribesmen and an unknown number of students were missing from the train. He said Niemba threatened to make war on the Balubas at Bukama if these people were not released unharmed.

The spokesman said the United Nations here had no reports of its own on what had happened on the train in the 30-mile stretch between Elisabethville and Bukama because the U.N. guard had been replaced between these points. Katanga officials quoted provincial gendarmes who were aboard the train as saying that the track had been damaged at Mukulakula, and that during a stopover at Luena one Katangese soldier had been killed and three passengers kidnaped.

About 1,000 firemen, disaster and rescue workers were sent to fight the blaze, which destroyed the plant as well as 150 to 200 four-foot-high propane cylinders. The fire was declared under control about two hours after the first explosion, but burned for several more hours.

ROBERT V. ROOSA
No. 3 in Treasury

Kennedy Fills Justice Dept., Treasury Jobs

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy took part today in a global review of American foreign policy. He also picked a New York banker, Robert V. Roosa, to be undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs.

And Kennedy has chosen Archibald Cox, Harvard law professor and a campaign aide, for the job of solicitor general of the United States—the government's chief trial lawyer.

LUNCHEON MEET

For a far-ranging look at the uneasy international situation, Kennedy arranged a luncheon meeting and afternoon conference with Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Roosa, 42, who says he's an Independent in politics, will be the Treasury Department's No. 3 official as undersecretary for monetary affairs. He now is vice president of the New York Federal Reserve Bank in charge of research.

An undersecretary for monetary affairs, Roosa will be directly responsible for managing the 291-billion-dollar national debt.

Roosa's new job, which pays $21,000 a year, was created by Congress in 1954.

BROAD BACKGROUND

Cox, 48, brings to the solicitor general job a broad background of previous service in government. During the presidential campaign he worked for Kennedy's election as coordinator of a team of professors who provided the candidate with material for speches and statements.

As solicitor general at a salary of $20,500 a year Cox will work in the justice department under the president-elect's brother, Robert Kennedy, who has been named attorney general. The solicitor general is in charge of all the government's business in the Supreme Court.

Hospital Loses Sheets, Blankets

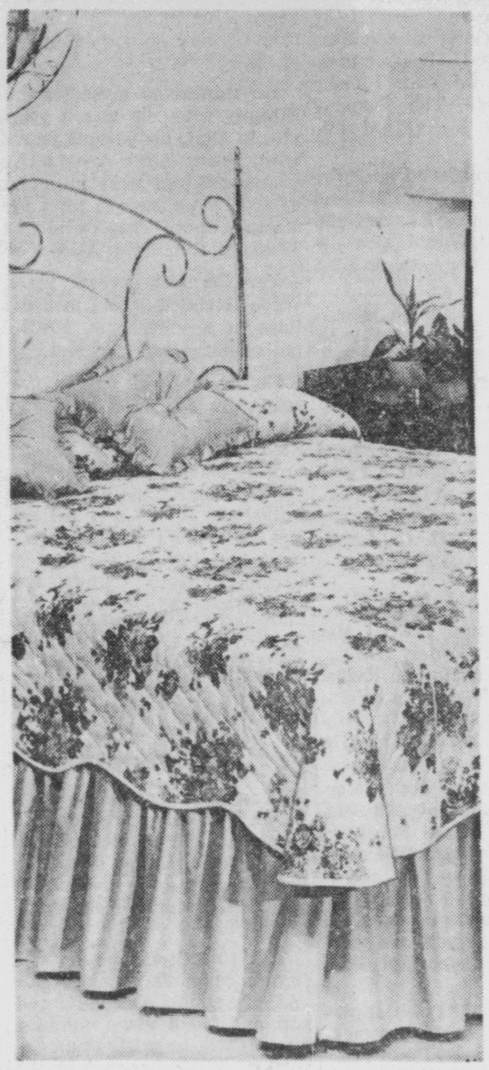

About 40 blankets and 50 bed sheets gradually disappeared from Rafael Convalescent Hospital in Santa Venetia during a two-month period, sheriff's deputies disclosed yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Egan, who operate the hospital at 234 North San Pedro Road, estimated the loss at about $355. The missing blue blankets and white sheets were brand new, the owners reported.

Inspector William Bradley of the sheriff's office is investigating the thefts.

BOARD SPLIT IN FINAL VOTE — The Marin County Board of Supervisors held its last meeting with its present lineup of membership today, and as often in the past, was divided. Final action of the board was to approve 3-2 the reappointment of Leland S. Murphy to the Golden Gate Bridge District board. Dissenters were Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisor William Gnoss. From left in this photo, as they appeared in final meeting, are Mrs. Vera L. Schultz (who failed of re-election), William D. Fusselman (re-elected and slated to become chairman), Castro and Gnoss, the two hold-overs, and James A. Marshall, who also failed of re-election. County Clerk George S. Jones is in right foreground. (Independent-Journal photo)

MURPHY

that Marin County residents "would be taxed to build rapid transit in other counties," he said. (Actually, other counties would be paying taxes to help build rapid transit in Marin.)

Castro asked why a Marin delegation (of which Castro was a member) was "kissed off" at a bridge directors' meeting when the Marin group advocated construction of a tourist information center at Vista Point.

Murphy said he couldn't remember the incident, which received wide publicity at the time and provided much new criticism of the bridge board.

Castro commented that Murphy had not made any effective effort to get a hearing for the Marin delegation.

PARKING AREA

Castro then asked Murphy about the refusal of the bridge board to cooperate with state highway officials toward developing a southbound tourist parking are opposite Vista Point. The bridge board's refusal to act led to the cancellation of a $40,000 appropriation for the project, for which bridge directors were widely criticized.

Murphy replied again that he couldn't remember any such incident and, anyhow, bridge directors had nothing to do with voting on state appropriations.

In response to Castro's questions about employment of publicist William Hendricks as "assistant manager" of the bridge district at $12,000 a year, Murphy spoke at length. He disclosed that he did not attend the bridge board meeting when Hendricks was hired, saying variously that he probably would have voted for the action but might not have supported it.

EXPENSE ALLOWANCE

He expressed the opinion that Hendricks does not receive expense allowances in addition to salary. (The job pays $12,000 plus expenses, as has been reported publicly.)

Murphy volunteered that he thinks Bridge Manager James Adam "well earns" his $20,000 a year salary, although the chief engineer of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge receives less for managing that and two other bay bridges.

Murphy also volunteered the opinion that he is held in high regard by his fellow bridge directors.

In moving for Murphy's reappointment, Mrs. Schultz acknowledged that "some policies of the bridge board warrant criticism" but said she was motivated by a practice long observed by the Marin supervisors: The reappointment of offfice holders who have not "by their actions disqualified themselves from consideration."

FUSSELMAN SAYS, 'GOOD LUCK'

Mrs. Schultz, Marshall Leave Almost Unnoticed

Supervisor Vera L. Schultz of Mill Valley and James A. Marshall of Tomales completed their service on Marin County's highest legislative body today, almost without acknowledgement.

Board Chairman Walter R. Castro adjourned the meeting without reference to Mrs. Schultz or Marshall's final appearance as supervisors. Mrs. Schultz quietly and unobstrusively removed some papers from the drawer of her desk.

After adjournment, as she turned to leave, Supervisor William D. Fusselman, her steadfast foe and critic during the past eight years, gave her a warm smile and handshake and a cherry "good luck."

Marshall had already left the room unnoticed.

Only spectators on hand, except for an I-J reporter, were George Thierbach (often called the "sixth supervisor") and Mrs. Tom MacDougall of Mill Valley.

BELGIUM

Brussels was a city of lights and gaiety and streets were festooned with bunting and hung with Christmas decorations.

When he returned tonight it was a city of darkness with transportation at a halt and many industries closed. The feeling of gaiety had changed to one of crisis and danger. Troops and sailors guarded public building and gendarmes were on every corner.

The strikes were called by the Socialists to force Eyskens out of office and kill his new austerity program made necessary by financial losses that followed Congo's independence.

The strikes reached a peak of violence today when a mob of 15,000 terrorized downtown Brussels for two hours with stone throwing, window-smashing and attacks on buses and street cars. Some demonstrators built fires in the streets.

A squadron of mounted gendarmes turned on the strikers and they fled. At least 100 other gendarmes on foot advanced with rifles in the first real show of strength. It was enough to break up the rioters.

Pre-Elizabethan Program Slated

The newly organized Homestead Players are to present the company of the American Shakespeare Festival Theater of Stratford, Conn., in a pre-Elizabethan program at 2:30 p. m., Jan. 8 at Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

This will be a benefit performance starring Will Greer and Bert Lahr. Plays to be given are "St. George and the Dragon," "The Coventry Miracle Play" and "The Second Shepherd's Play."

Cutting Of Trees Worries City Aides

Corte Madera Park and Recreation commissioners are concerned about "indiscriminate cutting of trees" in the town, chairman Charles W. Garrison reported today.

The commission last night reviewed anti-tree removal ordinances in other cities and discussed the possibility of a local ordinance. "Perhaps one can be drafted that would be a deterrent against persons just going in and chopping down trees."

them on stretchers and put them in the ambulance."

"Dr. Rutherford Gillfillan of 519 Throckmorton arrived and he pronounced Mrs. Sooy dead at about 9:50 p.m.

Sooy was taken to Marin General Hospital, where he died this morning.

Mead continued: "We found Sooy's pickup parked at 123 Cascade Drive, about two blocks away from the house. The holster of Sooy's gun was lying on the floorboard of the truck.

"Apparently he parked there, walked up Laurel Street to the alley behind the house. There was nothing broken on the door and so I gather she let him in."

Mead said that it was his belief that the murder was premeditated. "He went up there with one main purpose —to kill her," he theorized.

Sooy shot his wife below the right ear and the bullet went through her head and emerged below the left ear, the officer said. Sooy shot himself through the head at the right temple.

Mead said Mrs. Sooy had evidently been watching television when her husband arrived at the house. She was wearing pajamas and a house coat and slippers.

Sooy had worked for the humane society since last year. Early in the 1950s, he worked for the society as a kennel man. He had also worked, Mead said, as a part-time bartender at the Old Mill Tavern and at Meet the Quinns in Mill Valley. He was a retired Navy man.

Mrs. Sooy had worked about one and one-half years at the Bon Air pharmacy in Greenbrae, where she sold cosmetics and also handled the post office. She previously sold cosmetics at Macy's in San Rafael and Mayer's in Mill Valley.

A friend with whom she rode to work, Mrs. John R. Loser of 44 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, said she had dropped Mrs. Sooy off at her home at about 6:15 last night. She did not seem to be particularly upset.

"She was deathly afraid of her husband—there was nothing that could change that fear," Mrs. Loser said. "Sooy wanted a reconciliation but Jean didn't."

Mrs. Joe M. Smith, of 126 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, who also rode in Mrs. Loser's car, said: "Jean was petrified of him. She wanted her locks changed on her doors but couldn't get anybody to do it because she couldn't get anybody in the daytime when she was at work."

Huber said the Sooys had lived in Mill Valley about eight years, living downstairs in their house while they were trying to get around to finishing the upstairs.

The marriage to Sooy was the second for his wife. They had no children.

Both bodies were taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

His daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Lahmann of 170 Mission Avenue, where Ponti resided, said her father finished dinner and collapsed in the living room. Firemen applied the resuscitator for 15 minutes until a doctor arrived and pronounced Ponti dead at 8:05 p.m.

The doctor said Ponti apparently suffered a heart attack.

Construction Spending Slightly Off In 1960

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Construction spending in 1960 totaled 55 billion dollars, down 2 per cent from 1959 and the first decline since World War II, the Commerce Department reported today.

It indicated the chief cause of the drop was a slide of 2.4 billion dollars in private home buildings. This and other decreases more than offset a rise of 1.1 billion dollars in non-residential construction.

In December, the department said, construction activity declined seasonally—about 9 per cent. The December level of 4.4 billion dollars was about 1 per cent less than in December, 1959.

The decline for the full year was predicted by the department last month when it also forecast 1961 outlays would rise to a record 57.3 billion dollars.

For 1960 the department reported increases in the following construction lines: Industrial 36 per cent, commercial 3 per cent, other non-residential 9 per cent and public utilities 5 per cent.

Government-financed construction declined 1 per cent overall, with cutbacks in housing, military facilities and highways. Government outlays increased for sewer and water systems and conservation and development.

Total private construction outlays this year came to $38,956,000,000, down 2 per cent from 1959. Public spending totaled $16,257,000,000, down 1 per cent.

Flying Pellets Crack Windows

Flying pellets have been cracking windshields and light bulbs in various parts of the county, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Richard Queirolo of 25 Castle Rock Drive, Mill Valley, showed investigators a broken pane of glass in the dining alcove of his home. The damage indicated pellets may have struck the window.

Mrs. Wilma R. Zepp of 18 Shields Lane, Novato, reported that an object cracked the windshield of a pickup truck she was driving along Wilson Avenue yesterday.

Charles D. Vey of 134 Almenary Drive, Greenbrae, complained that someone had shot out a floodlight which lights up his Christmas decorations.

Kennedy Gets Hawaii By 115 Ballots

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official recount in Hawaii has tipped the newest state to President-elect John F. Kennedy by 115 votes.

That gives Kennedy 303 electoral votes to 219 for Vice President Richard M. Nixon; 269 were needed to win. Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D.-Va.) got 15.

With Hawaii's new totals, announced yesterday more than seven weeks after the election, the final national popular vote goes like this:

Kennedy 34,221,531.

Nixon 34,108,474.

Plurality for Kennedy: 113,057 out of a total vote of 68,832,778. Other candidates got a total of 502,773, so that Kennedy's total still is less than a majority of all the popular votes.

Nixon at first had been listed as the winner in Hawaii by 141 votes. But Democrats gained a recount of all its precincts by citing errors in the certified returns.

With Hawaii finally settled, Kennedy carried 23 states; Nixon carried 26. Mississippi's eight unpledged votes went to Byrd, who also received six electoral votes from Alabama and one from Oklahoma.

RACE BIAS HIT, TOO

Abolish Probe Group, Teacher Union Urges

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The AFL-CIO California Teachers Federation last night called for abolition of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The teachers, at their annual convention, charged the committee with "reckless accusations, trial by headlines, abuse of persons for sensational publicity and procedures that deny the accused the protection of basic human rights."

The teachers also charged that racial discrimination exists in California in assignment of teachers and in determining school boundaries.

A resolution urged that all teachers within a school system be assigned without reference to race or religion, and called upon school boards and superintendents to take the lead in ending racial barriers.

The House Un-American Activities Committee was called a "continuing discredit to our country," and charged with "irreparable harm" to the teaching profession.

The committee subpoenaed 93 California teachers in 1959, but most were never called to testify. Several have been fired.

The convention also attacked the committee's film "Operation Abolition," charging it is a distorted account of student protests against a committee hearing in San Francisco last May.

"The CFT recommends that if this film is shown the opposing viewpoint should be presented," a resolution said.

Other resolutions:

Commended President-elect John F. Kennedy for his support of federal aid to education and renewed pleas for aid both for teachers' salaries and classroom construction.

Endorsed recommendations of a citizens advisory commission on education urging high standards for teacher training, pay credit for advanced study and a greater voice for teachers in setting classroom policy and selecting textbooks.

Recommended that teachers be allowed to choose or reject television as an educational aid.

Urged that new teachers be kept as free as possible from administrative chores, special assignments, night work and preparations for numerous different classes.

Youth Delivering Papers Cited For Noisy Muffler

More than a dozen irate residents of the Sun Valley area in San Rafael called police early today complaining of a motor scooter with noisy mufflers awakening them about 5:30 a.m.

Police Officer Richard Douglas stopped 17-year-old Timothy H. Saladin of 173 Terrace Avenue, San Rafael, at Mission Avenue and H Street. The scooter's muffler was missing.

Less than half an hour later, police received more calls of muffler noise and picked up the same youth in the 2300 block of Fifth Avenue. This time they confiscated the scooter until the muffler could be replaced.

The youth, who was delivering a San Francisco newspaper, was cited for speeding and noisy muffler.

Fire Chief Gets Raise In Larkspur

Larkspur City Council by a 3-to-1 vote last night approved pay raises for Fire Chief George Bartram and Asst. Fire Chief Claire Harder.

Effective Sunday, the chief's salary will increase from $556 to $584 per month. Harder's salary will go from $481 to $505 per month.

Councilman Lesly A. Daveler opposed the raises. "I feel both men, having done an excellent job, are doing what I expect of them. It is difficult for me to justify any change at this time," he said.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon was absent.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper, in a letter to councilmen recommending the pay raises, noted that both Bartram and Harder had served in their capacities officially six months and unofficially almost a year. "Both have done an excellent job of organization, revitalizing and planning for the department and its expansion problems," he wrote. He said there was money available in the budget for the raises.

Both the chief and his assistant work a 40-hour week with standby duty nights and weekends.

Piper commented on the good general attitude in the fire department. He noted that on Christmas 15 volunteers turned out for a fire at 5 a.m. It was an "exceptional" kind of turnout for volunteers, he said.

John F. McInnis of San Rafael will be one of four Bay Area mayors who will participate tonight on a television in a discussion of the proposed association of Bay Area governments.

The discussion will be heard at 9:30 p.m. on the "Profile: Bay Area" program on KQED (Channel 9).

Participating with McInnis will be Mayors George Christopher of San Francisco, Claude Hutchinson of Berkeley and Paul Moore of San Jose.

The mayors are also expected to touch upon such other subjects as rapid transit, urban renewal, redevelopment and tax rates during the half-hour show.

Joint Session Planned On Daveler's Ideas

Larkspur City Council took a brief look last night at Councilman Lesly A. Daveler's list of "things helpful in establishing a planning program" for the city.

The five-page list outlines in "skeleton" form Daveler's suggestions of items to guide Larkspur's planning — to "give us something to shoot at."

Councilmen decided to call for a joint meeting with the planning commission and use Daveler's list as a basis for discussions. Jan. 18 was suggested as date for the session.

Daveler noted that some of the items on his list were not new, and may already be in the works. City Manager Ronald E. Piper said he would provide comment on the status of some of the items before the joint session is held.

Daveler's list suggests compilation of a handbook outlining established planning policies and responsibilities. Various maps should be obtained, including those for accepted streets, Larkspur and Kentfield school districts, Kentfield Fire District, lighting districts, post office delivery area and others. These would help in defining neighborhoods with related interests, Daveler said.

He also recommended that street names should be studied and some sort of pattern developed.

Among policy matters, Daveler urged there be no "after the fact" variances, no more septic tanks and no drainage across sidewalks.

There is need for additional ordinances on trailers, trees, gutter obstructions and signs, he said.

Other matters that should be discussed, Daveler said, were how to get Larkspur surveyed, how to better the appearance of the downtown area, how to increase the areas served by the Larkspur Post Office, adjustments to the zoning ordinance, new subdivision ordinance (already in the works), road standards, master street circulation plan, revised cut and fill ordinance (being studied), public improvement plan, recreation, tree planting, public service, master drainage and street lighting plans.

Two Girls, 11, Steal At Store

Two Novato girls, aged 11, were caught yesterday at Lee Brothers Market, loaded down with $8.50 worth of items they had shoplifted from the store.

Ronald Lipe, manager of the market at 950 Seventh Street, called the sheriff at 3:30 p.m. Sgt. Edward Levine found Lipe holding the two girls at the store.

The youngsters tried to walk out with lipsticks, eyebrow pencils, vitamins, pen, colored pencils, and two ice cream bars, Lipe told Sergeant Levine.

The store manager said one of the girls was caught shoplifting only three weeks ago. At that time, he called the girl's parents and turned her over to the mother. This time, he called the sheriff.

The girls were reprimanded and cited to appear before probation officers next week.

PATERNITY SUIT—Dennis Crosby, 26, sits in court in Los Angeles so the jury can compare his physical appearance with that of the child held on Mrs. Marilyn Scott's lap. The jury decided the child was his. (AP Wirephoto)

Jury Declares Dennis Crosby Father Of Divorcee's Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bing Crosby's son Dennis has been declared the father of a girl born out of wedlock three years ago to a Hollywood divorcee.

"Well, I expected it," said the son of the famous singer after the 9-3 verdict was returned Wednesday in Superior Court.

"We've won, honey," rejoiced Marilyn Miller Scott, picking up her daughter, Denise, the girl whose paternity was at issue.

Seven women and two men on the jury, composed entirely of parents, found that the prematurely bald Crosby fathered the girl at Mrs. Scott's apartment in February of 1957. Since this was a civil and not a criminal action, a unanimous verdict was not required.

Crosby, 26, and Mrs. Scott, 28, were instructed to return to court Tuesday. At that time the court could determine the amount Crosby will have to pay for the child's support. But this could be delayed by an appeal.

Year-End Report Due In Larkspur

Larkspur residents may soon receive a year-end report about their city from their councilmen.

The city council last night agreed that the idea of Councilman Lesly A. Daveler for such a report to the people was a good one. City Manager Ronald E. Piper will write a booklet and submit it to councilmen for suggestions.

Daveler said the report might include credit and thanks to persons serving on various city committees; a semi-annual fiscal statement; comments on city policies, and information on "things brewing that may see the light of day next year."

Piper noted that a three-year report was made last year, covering the period that city manager government had been in operation. He said no annual report had been put out because it was agreed that the money could be used somewhere else.

"I'm not thinking of anything pretentious," said Daveler. "The thing is to get the information to the people. It's not important whether it looks pretty."

Council discussed the remaining 11 items of an original 19-item list which Daveler wanted on the agenda. The discussions produced this information and comment:

1. Piper reported that the draft of the 1958 uniform building code for adoption by the city has been completed and is being checked. It was referred to the Marin Builders Assn. and Plumbers' Assn. for comments, he said. The city is now operating under the 1955 building code.

2. Daveler learned that the "board of appeals" body referred to in the 1955 uniform building code is composed of the city council members.

3. Piper reported the recent change in meeting nights for the planning commission will help the city hall office staff in its preparation for the meetings.

4. Councilmen agreed that council agenda should be prepared on the Monday before the meeting, but they would welcome it on Friday. They also agreed that two meetings a month apparently would be necessary for the "foreseeable future," but set no definite schedule for the second meeting.

5. City Clerk Helen S. Wilson reported she would try to get the minutes completed earlier. Councilmen suggested some sections of the minutes could be summarized to shorten them.

6. Daveler expressed concern about "minimum standards" for zoning and said, "if we make our minimum standards too low, the development of the town could follow just what the law allows and nobody will put in anything more." Councilmen agreed that the problem should be studied by Daveler's zoning ordinance committee.

Firehouse Site Accepted By Larkspur

Larkspur City Council last night accepted the deed to a portion of the site for its second firehouse just off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on Eliseo Drive.

The 100-by-200-foot lot was donated to the city by the Bon Air Development Co. The council also accepted the Eliseo Drive right-of-way from the company.

Niels Schultz Jr., head of the development firm, said the balance of the site will be conveyed to the city after Jan. 1.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper said plans for the new firehouse will be completed about Feb. 1. The city expects to call for bids about April 1 and award a contract about May 1, he said. Construction should be well under way by the new fiscal year which begins July 1, Piper noted.

Cost of the building is estimated at $35,000 exclusive of equipment. Piper said last month that donation of the land would save the city from $25,000 to $30,000.

WOMAN SUES GYM FOR TOSS OFF MACHINE

A San Anselmo woman is suing Vic Tanny Gym and Health Club in San Rafael for $50,000 damages, charging that a revolving reducing machine bucked her off last May.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Harman, an office worker, filed the damage suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court. She says she bought a life membership in the club two years ago. Last May 9, she went to the gym and was given permission to use the reducing machine, but received no instruction on how to operate it. She mounted the machine, turned on the control and was bounced off the gadget onto the floor, she asserts.

She claims negligence and carelessness on the part of the Vic Tanny Gym and its operators.

Painter Breaks Back Leaping From Scaffold

Garnet A. Pickrel, 57-year-old San Rafael painter, suffered a fractured back and right ankle yesterday when he leaped from a falling 18-foot scaffold to the cement floor of the Bekins Van and Storage Co. warehouse south of San Rafael.

"He is lucky to be alive," officials at San Rafael General Hospital said. They reported his condition as satisfactory.

Pickrel, of 9 Taylor Street, was working atop the scaffolding in the new warehouse at 25 Bellam Boulevard when the mishap occurred about 11:35 a.m.

When other workmen started to roll the heavy iron scaffold to a new location, one of the wheels came off and the scaffold toppled.

Pickrel told Police Officer John Rosentangle he leaped from the scaffold to keep from being crushed under it. He landed on the cement slab flooring and was taken to the hospital by United Ambulance.

Planners To Consider Fishing Platform

Elephant Rock's future—whether as fishing platform or just a Tiburon landmark as heretofore—is expected to be considered by the Marin County Planning Commission Jan. 9.

County Supervisor-elect J. Walter Blair of Mill Valley, prime mover in the effort to create a memorial to 11-year-old Robert Keener of Mill Valley who perished in a fishing accident Oct. 1 in Tiburon, today identified the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce as the actual sponsor and said it was preparing the necessary application to start things before the planners.

"All a misunderstanding" was his analysis of violation of last Friday's stop-order, a finding to which no objection was interposed by officials since work had stopped.

But before this truce was reached, and bacause work was in progress as late as 11 a.m. yesterday, Building Inspector Otto Meyer had given preliminary facts to Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, who was preparing to issue a show-cause citation preliminary to criminal complaint charging violation of county ordinances.

Meyer later said he was satisfied to let Garety drop action. Meanwhile, Planning Director Mary Summers talked with the Tiburon chamber's former president, Robert A. Sterling, who promised to send application in time for the planning commission's Jan. 9 meeting.

Nature of the application, Mrs. Summers said, will be a request for setting aside of requirement to file a master plan and to allow construction of a catwalk and platform around the rock—work already started.

If the commission approves, a permit can next be obtained from the building inspector. Opposition of local residents before the planners is expected.

"I do not want to be connected with anything illegal but I feel these fishing spots for youngsters should be started throughout the Bay area," said Blair.

He said that dedication of the Elephant Rock fishing spot will not be held as planned at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 10 because it will be impossible to complete all official requirements to go ahead with the work by that time.

Democrats Asked To Support Gov. Brown In Legislature

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Hugh M. Burns, Senate president pro tem, called on majority Democrats today to get behind Gov. Edmund G. Brown in the legislative session that begins Monday.

The Fresno Democrat demurred right off, however, on any administration proposal to outlaw the death penalty. He gave notice he would oppose it.

Capital punishment, tied in with the Caryl Chessman case, was a stormy issue in the legislature's 1960 special session. A repeal bill was defeated.

Brown has not spoken out directly but Burns said the governor has indicated he will renew his attempt to close down the gas chamber.

"This would bring forth another fight," said Burns, "and in my opinion the legislators would reject it, as they have in the past."

Aside from the death penalty, the Senate leader said that apparently the governor's program will be "a modest one and, in my estimation, a logical one." He said in an interview:

"It's the responsibility of the Democrats in the legislature to give Governor Brown all the support possible if the Democratic Party is to keep faith with the voters.

"This is especially important in view of the 1962 elections."

The Democrats hold majorities in both houses. All state constitutional officers, as well as most legislators and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), will be up for election in 1962.

Burns declared a balanced budget must have top priority in the coming session.

"Holding the line on extension of state services will be necessary if we're not going to levy additional taxes," he said.

"The governor maintains there will be no new taxes this coming year and I heartily endorse his position."

Burns was here for a meeting of the Joint Committee on Legislative Procedure, which agreed to a quickie opening day agenda. The state constitution requires the legislature to convene Monday, and the committee wants to make the New Year holiday as painless as possible.

The committee also decided to shorten the bill introduction period from 120 to 110 days, and the period for putting in state departmental bills from 45 to 30 days. This will give the lawmakers more time to vote on legislation.

Be Nice To Snakes

LONDON (UPI) — Tourists to the British colony of Sarawak in Borneo are advised in a colonial information leaflet not to scare snakes.

"Stand aside politely," the leaflet urges, "and give the snake a chance to move away. Do not stare or point. Snakes do not like that."

Tighter Laws Against Dope To Be Urged

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D.-Weaverville) has announced he plans to introduce four bills which would tighten narcotics laws to the 1961 legislature soon after it convenes next week.

Regan, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said the proposals include provisions for:

1. Increase of minimum penalties for narcotics offenders, both users and sellers, and for offenders with prior convictions.

2. Use of any "competent, relative and material evidence" no matter how it is obtained.

3. Registration of all narcotic offenders with sheriffs' or police offices.

4. Protection of informers in narcotics cases.

Regan said the bill providing for use of evidence would include safeguards against false arrests and invasion of civil rights.

37 Anti-Secrecy Bills Slated For Legislature

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assembly Speaker Ralph M. Brown said today he plans to introduce 37 anti-secrecy in government bills in the 1961 legislature.

The Modesto Democrat said the bills mainly would affect special commissions appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and a number of new agencies created by the 1959 and 1960 legislatures.

The anti-secrecy bills are designed to open all commission and agency meetings to the public except those involving personnel matters.

Brown expected to be elected speaker of the lower house again when the legislature convenes next week, was author of the original Brown Act requiring all local government meetings to be open to the press and public.

Since then he has authored 87 separate bills to open the meetings of state commissions and agencies. The laws have been copied by other states as model legislation.

Brown said the 37 bills will just about wind up his drive against secrecy in government. But if any other agencies are found without such safeguards written into the law, he will introduce anti-secrecy bills on them, too.

Among the agencies and commissions to be affected by the new series of bills are:

Fair Employment Practices Commission, Office of the Atomic Energy Coordinator, the State Consumer Counsel, Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, Economic Development Agency, Fairs Allocation and Classification Committee, State Colleges Board of Trustees, Coordinating Council for Higher Education, determinations committee of the Fish and Game Commission, the Division of Savings and Loan and the Governor's Commission on Narcotics.

Near San Francisco are six of the richest agricultural valleys in California.

10-Per Center Mortgage Bill To Be Introduced

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The 1961 legislature will be asked to tighten state regulation of firms advertising 10 per cent returns to buyers of second mortgages.

The bills proposed yesterday would put in receivership any firm whose legality is questioned, would penalize "false and misleading" ads, and would add manpower to agencies keeping watch on the firms.

They were proposed by Assemblyman Richard Hanna (D-Garden Grove) and are based on a report of an Assembly group he heads which has been investigating the so-called "10 per centers."

Hanna said records of the firms would be under constant state surveilance and if the records raised any question about the legality of operations, a receiver would be appointed.

Currently, he said, the state can't examine a firm's books until it becomes obvious that the company is in trouble.

Hanna said he also will ask that state standards be set up for record keeping.

Several bills regulating "10 per centers" were passed by the 1960 legislature, after an investigation by the legislature and the State Real Estate Division.

Fairfax Man Again Minister; He's Had Many Careers

Henry R. Sanborn of Fairfax, who carved careers in the ministry, the military, magazine publishing and civil service, is returning to his first love; the ministry.

Sanborn is now again Rev. Henry R. Sanborn, an ordained priest of the Episcopal Church.

This restores a title he vacated in 1927, when he left the position of archdeacon of southern Alaska at Ketchikan to leave Alaska and re-enter the Army.

Sanborn had served in the Army in World War I. After that service, he studied for the ministry and was ordained in the Episcopal Church. His decision to leave the position of archdeacon in Alaska, he said, was because "I couldn't stand the climate."

In 1931, as a lieutenant colonel, Sanborn retired from active service. He served subsequently in reserve status in military intelligence.

In 1935-37, he attained note as publisher of the American Citizen, a San Francisco monthly which attacked and exposed Communist infiltration.

His fourth career, in civil service, ended with his retirement last month from the Social Security Administration office in San Francisco.

Meantime, however, Sanborn had applied for readmission to the Episcopal ministry. This required approval of the present bishop of Alaska and of the bishops of adjacent dioceses.

Under date of Dec. 9, Rt. Rev. William J. Gordon Jr., the present bishop of Alaska, wrote to Sanborn: "It is my great pleasure to tell you that as of Dec. 9, 1960 you have been restored to the priesthood and your status is that of a retired priest of the Missionary District of Alaska."

Bishop Gordon also notified Bishop James A. Pike of the Episcopal Diocese of California, who reported receiving the notification Dec. 19 and wrote Sanborn welcoming him back into the priesthood.

Bishop Pike issued a temporary license to Sanborn to officiate within the California Diocese. Permanent credentials await receipt of letters dimissory from the bishop of Alaska, he said.

Rev. Sanborn said he has no definite plan for his future in the field he left 33 years ago.

"I will serve wherever assigned by Bishop Pike," he said.

Billboards Assailed

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—A University of Wisconsin professor testified yesterday that billboards are "the most serious detrimental feature to our environment."

The testimony came from Leo Jackobson, professor of civil engineering and an institutional planner, during a Dane County Circuit Court trial to test the constitutionality of a 1959 state law restricting billboards on interstate highways.

Announcer Sparks Fund For Sick Girl

By KARL BARRON

The little girl in Richmond had an affliction curable only by specialized surgery.

The doctor in Philadelphia had pioneered in this field of surgery, and could cure her, he thought.

But between them—2,000 miles and $3,000.

That's how it was five weeks ago with 3-year-old Regina DeVille. Her parents, Emile and Lorraine, had been told by doctors that Regina's only hope for a normal life—and perhaps life itself—was an operation that cost far more than DeVille, a mechanic, could hope to raise.

OLLIE FREEMAN
His voice brought hope

The surgeon, Dr. Julian Sterling of the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, said the operation could be performed for a minimum cost of $3,000.

Regina was born with an obstruction of the bile duct, known as billary artresia. The condition does not allow proper drainage of bile fluid and eventually results in a severe toxic condition and death.

The DeVilles appealed to a Richmond newspaper and a San Francisco TV station. They received some publicity, lots of sympathy, but little cash.

Then Mrs. DeVille went to Ollie Freeman, graying proprietor of the Jazzland Record Shop in North Richmond and for 11 years "The Gospel Traveler" on radio station KTIM in San Rafael.

Five Sundays ago Freeman voiced a request for funds. The next day more than $300 flooded into his shop.

The broadcaster then teamed up with Rev. John Spearman, pastor of St. Peter's CME Church in Richmond. Spearman set up a bank fund in Regina's name and his wife, Gloria, organized a "mother's march" which netted $1,000.

An East Bay weekly, the California Voice, devoted front page space for three weeks to Freeman's campaign.

On Christmas morning, KTIM listeners heard Freeman say: "You have given over $4,300 to save Regina's life. We don't need any more money." He then read a card from Mrs DeVille, saying she, her husband and Regina had arrived in Philadelphia, and were waiting for the operation to be performed.

"There is one thing more that you still can give," Freeman concluded, "and that is your prayers."

Yesterday, Dr. Sterling operated. United Press International reported from Philadelphia that the operation itself was successful, but that several days would be needed to tell whether the desired effect was achieved. Sterling's surgery involves placement of a number of silver tubes to function for the closed duct, and time is needed to check their efficiency.

The DeVilles' other children, Rene, 7, and Simone, 4, were being cared for by friends. DeVille's employer, Remington-Rand Corp. of Vallejo, allowed him time off to make the trip.

And today those who had given—and prayed—kept up their prayers that the next story from Philadelphia would read "operation completely successful."

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL—Regina DeVille of Richmond, victim of a birth defect which threatened her life, underwent successful surgery this week in Philadelphia—thanks largely to the effores of Ollie Freeman, KTIM radio broadcaster who started a campaign that raised more than $4,000 to make the operation possible. New Marinite To Share Big Bequest

Harry J. Lehman Jr., a new Marin resident who picked this county as his home after survey of the whole United States, will share a $2,383,491 bequest with his sister.

News came today by Associated Press from Buffalo, N.Y., where the figure was set through state appraisal of the gross estate of Lehman's father, the late Harry J. Lehman, founder and president of the Wildroot Co. until it was merged last year with Colgate-Palmolive Co.

The estate will be divided between the son and one daughter, Mrs. Betty L. Oppenheimer of Buffalo.

Now living in a rented home at 238 Evergreen Avenue, Kentfield, with his wife and a young son and daughter, Lehman has a new luxurious house under construction in Kent Woodlands.

A friend of the family said today they are away skiing for a few days.

Formerly residents of Buffalo, they came to the conclusion that some better spot could be found and they undertook it in systematic style, it was learned. First they traveled throughout the United States, inspecting every area of promise. This resulted in a decision to settle in Marin.

Yule Spotlights Stolen At Home

Three spotlights used to illuminate Christmas decorations were stolen from a home in Terra Linda, the owner reported to the sheriff yesterday.

Robert L. Griffith of 730 Bamboo Terrace said he had turned out the outdoor spotlights about 7:30 Tuesday night. Yesterday morning, the lights had vanished.

In Lucas Valley, Mrs. Josephine Deber-Vanzo of 2151 Danberry Lane found a window in her bedroom broken with what appears to be BB's or pellets.

Lucky May Have Discount Marketing

SAN LEANDRO (UPI)—Lucky Stores Inc. may expand its closed-door discount marketing into Northern California, according to President Gerald A. Awes.

Awes said the grocery chain has acquired controlling interest in Gemco, a membership department store in Anaheim for an undisclosed amount of cash. He said sites are being surveyed in Northern California, as well as Southern California, for additional stores.

The Anaheim store will include a complete supermarket, plus a pharmacy and snack bar. Awes said customers would be charged $1 per year membership fee.

Awes said this type of food marketing is currently increasing in the East.

"The trend is moving west, and Lucky management feels it imperative to meet competition of this type with prompt and aggressive action" he said.

Court Upholds Death Sentence Of Robillard

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court today unanimously upheld a murder conviction and death sentence of Alexander Robillard, 20.

Robillard was sentenced for shooting Hillsborough policeman Gene Doran Aug. 5, 1959, on a lonely San Mateo County road. Doran had stopped Robillard, who was driving a stolen car, early in the morning to question him.

The high court said Robillard had acted "coldly, dispassionately and mercilessly" in ruling that the youth was properly found guilt of murder in the first degree.

The court rejected arguments that San Mateo County Superior Judge Frank B. Blum had admitted prejudicial evidence and permitted the prosecutor to make prejudicial arguments.

Robillard was the first person to be sentenced to death in the county in more than 60 years.

His case came to the supreme court on automatic review and today's ruling clears the way for Judge Blum to set Robillard's date with the San Quentin Prison gas chamber.

Cellmate Stabs Felon To Death At Prison

A Mexican-born San Quentin Prison convict died yesterday from 15 knife wounds inflicted by his cellmate of 10 days.

Killed was Ezequiel Martinez, 27, a narcotics peddler serving from five years to life.

His assailant, who claimed he killed his cellmate in self-defense, was Henry L. Quiroz, 26, a two-time loser serving from five years to life for a Los Angeles County robbery in 1958.

Quiroz told Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety that Martinez attacked him with the knife for no apparent reason. He took the knife from Martinez, he said, and struck back to save his own life.

He insisted they had been "good friends," adding he had been teaching Martinez to speak English during the short time they had been cellmates.

He had no explanation for the fact that he stabbed his alleged attacker 15 times.

Martinez' screams were heard at 5:40 p.m. by Sgt. G. E. Moore, who rushed to the second gallery of the east cellblock to find the bleeding man lying face up on the cell floor, his head against the bars.

Quiroz, who was standing over his victim, surrendered a filed-down dinner knife, presumably taken from the prison dining hall.

Martinez was dead by the time a medical officer reached the cell.

It was the dead man's first prison term, according to Associate Warden Louis S. Nelson. He was convicted of selling heroin in Imperial County last August and had been in San Quentin only since Nov. 8.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said several of the 15 wounds were serious with at least one deep wound in the abdomen.

Quiroz was in isolation today after being questioned by Garety and Investigator Donald E. Midyett.

Court Delays Assault Case

A preliminary hearing for a Richmond garbage man, suspected of raping a Mill Valley school teacher two weeks ago, was postponed today until next Wednesday because the victim is in Idaho on vacation.

Lemone Brown, 33, of Richmond, who works in Mill Valley for a garbage company, is accused of raping the 32-year-old woman and taking her purse with $40 in cash on Dec. 17.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set 10 a.m. next Wednesday as the time for preliminary hearing.

Army Secretary Due For Presidio Talk

Secretary of the Army William M. Brucker was scheduled to land at Hamilton Air Force Base this afternoon, on his way to the Presidio of San Francisco.

General Brucker will address Army men at the post theater and will take off again at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow from Hamilton to begin an Alaskan Army tour.

New Savings, Loan Office Set To Open

Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn., a newly organized firm, will open an office in the Corte Madera Shopping Center soon.

The State Division of Savings and Loan has approved the application of the company and turned down applications of four other firms seeking to establish savings and loan businesses in the center, it was learned today.

Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn. has seven Marin men as proposed incorporators and directors. They are N. John Anton of Kent Woodlands, Edward W. Bullard Jr. of Ross, Preston A. Jones of San Rafael, Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael, George R. Scott of Mill Valley, Walter E. Terry of Kentfield and Judge Joseph G. Wilson of San Rafael. Roger Kent of Kentfield will be attorney for the association.

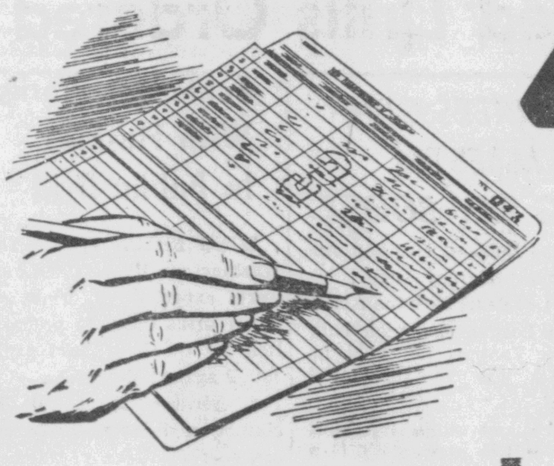

Scott, who heads the building and construction trades council in Marin, said today the directors will meet early in January, elect officers, pass bylaws, set up procedures and decide on an opening date.

A spokesman in the state savings and loan office said all approvals are contingent on meeting certain requirements.

The commissioner turned down applications of the Corte Madera Savings and Loan Assn., another new firm, and of three established firms in Oakland and San Francisco, seeking to open branch offices in Corte Madera.

Pro Leagues Launch All-Out Money War For Gridders

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A dollar war that is spelling money in the bank for college gridders is being waged in the pro football ranks today with the Shrine East-West training camps the center of activity.

Several dozen scouts and other officials from the National, American and Canadian football leagues are camped on the doorsteps of the athletes—all waving contracts with greenbacks attached.

"It's a dandy," said one college coach who does not wish to become involved. "There's a man with a pro contract in his hand under every bush.

"It looks like a real money war is shaping up. It never was like this in other years here. The fight for football talent is really on."

The big bout is expected to be in Texas. The Dallas Cowboys of the National League and the Dallas Texans of the American League both have drafted linebacker E. J. Holub of Texas Tech and tackle Bob Lilly of Texas Christian. With millionaires backing both clubs, the chances are strong that the two towering athletes will come out of the bidding with an oil well or two, each.

Another fight is shaping up between the millions behind the Los Angeles Chargers and the well-heeled San Francisco 49ers. These two clubs both drafted Jim Johnson and Bill Kilmer from UCLA.

Sideline observers claim that the war between the old All-America Conference and the National League just after World War II never was anything like this.

While the All-America had some solid financial citizens behind it, it didn't have the money that is behind the American League.

Most of the athletes are playing it cozy—most are mum on their plans.

"I want to play in Texas," Lilly said before the National League draft. "I want to settle some place in Texas and I'm looking to the future after my playing days are over."

With both clubs drafting him, he'll get that wish.

Mike Ditka, the All-America from Pitt, has been drafted by both Houston of the American League and the Chicago Bears of the National.

"The Houston people have been very nice to me and have made an enticing offer," said Ditka. "But I'll wait and see what the Bears come up with. It's a big step and I want to make sure I do the right thing."

Lamar Hunt, who is supposed to have more millions than most people have hair, is on the scene attempting to sign men for his Dallas Texans.

He visited the training camp of the East team at Santa Clara University—but was refused admittance.

And the story going the rounds today is that he was so miffed that he went out and bought the university and kicked everybody off the campus except the football players—just so he could watch the boys practice.

And that's the kind of money that is talking to the college football players these days.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Oakland, Sacramento Ruled Out As Possible Sites For New A.L. Team

CONNOLLY

The surest and perhaps the only way the American League can succeed in its efforts to stay up with the National League is to get another club in California. But where?

Outside of San Jose territory I can't even begin to think of a town where big league ball could succeed. And San Jose isn't a cinch.

Sacramento just flipped itself out of circulation; Fresno may or may not be a rival, but San Jose could. Down thataway big business is sprouting and its near enough to the big cities to be handy.

I once thought Oakland would make it big league, but I'm convinced now that the Raider football team flopped there is no chance ever of the East Bay going first class. It is, and always has been, about 20 cents away from a real city. So why start now to build up a graveyard for American League baseball?

So many big shots of industry and business think they can force a situation on a populace that it takes something like the American Football League to prove how wrong they can be.

I'M NOT rapping the play of the American Football League. I just think they send boys to play where men should be playing.

Joe Cronin, an old fellow alumnus of mine from Sacred Heart College, knows Oakland hasn't got it. He would love to see the East Bay rise up and smote the knockers on the snozz, but it can't be done. They have no ball park, they have no available sites, they haven't got enough real sportsmen over there to carry on.

I know Oakland. I worked there in the plush days when work was plentiful and money was easy to get. Even then Oakland was no paradise. It was strictly a hick town with a big league complex.

San Diego couldn't make money even in the hottest years of its Coast League existence when everyday down there, with the sailors, soldiers and Marines cavorting, seemed like New Year's Eve.

SO IF I've been a little cynical about the American League encroaching on the National League territory, forgive me.

I was here when the people thought San Francisco could support two baseball teams. One of them, the Missions, starved to death and had to move.

So let us hope that in the next few years some city, north or south, comes to life as a big league center. Right now there isn't a town or a semblance of a town, outside of San Jose, where so many canneries, and so forth, make it rich and prosperous and likely to develop into a real baseball center.

WHEN SACRAMENTO folded its tent to baseball, the capital of California suffered a deep wound to its pride.

Sacramento, from the days of the Lew Moering family to now, loved baseball, but each year they had to get support from the other seven clubs to break even.

The Moering family never needed a tag day in business but in the baseball business they had to swallow their pride and take a 60-40 break from visitors, instead of a 50-50 break as the league called for.

Minnesota In Worst Workout, More Rugged Drills Ordered

No Tapering Off Yet For Gophers In Bowl Tuneup

PASADENA (UPI)—A lethargic performance in practice today prolonged the agony for the Minnesota football team which plays Washington in the Rose Bowl Monday.

Coach Murray Warmath had intended to halt heavy work today and taper off the rest of the way. But after yesterday's workout — called "one of the worst" for the Gophers since coming here — Warmath said he might require another full-scale workout tomorrow.

The Minnesota players got some body contact in tackling and blocking drills yesterday, although there was no all-out scrimmage.

GUARD RETURNS

One promising note was the return of third string guard Bob McNeil, who suited up yesterday and will be ready for the Monday game.

All - America guard Tom Brown insisted he was in good shape, despite reports of blisters on his feet. "I wonder if they're talking about the same guy," said Brown regarding the reports.

The Minnesota team took time out last night to attend the Los Angeles Basketball Classic at the sports arena. The Minnesota basketball team is an entry.

YANKEES GIVE DE MAESTRI BIG PAY BOOST

Joe DeMaestri of San Anselmo yesterday signed his 1961 contract with the American League champion New York Yankees for what he said was "a substantial raise."

The key utility infielder, who will be playing his 11th season in the major leagues, had contemplated retirement after playing in the World Series, but changed his mind when the Yankees "offered me more than I'd ever been paid before." He did not disclose the sum, but said, "It (the contract) was so good I couldn't turn it down."

DeMaestri, who turned 32 Dec. 9, played in only 49 games last season, but is considered valuable property by the Yankees for his late-inning defensive ability. He was at bat 35 times, collected 8 hits for a .229 average.

He was the first Yankee to sign his 1961 contract, the New York office announced.

Schloredt Works With Huskies In Public Drill

LONG BEACH (UPI) — The Washington Huskies today were expected to wind up heavy drills today in preparation for the Rose Bowl game Jan. 2 against Minnesota.

A crowd of about 500—including midwestern and eastern sports writers — watched the team workout yesterday in its first and only public drill here.

Quarterbacks Bob Hivner and Bob Schloredt both worked with the first team as it ran against the third eleven in a dummy scrimmage. The fourth team, using Minnesota offensive patterns, worked out against the second team.

PUNT TIMING

The Huskies also worked on kickoff and punt timing. Halfback George Fleming was hitting fairly consistently from 20 to 30 yards out in field goal practice.

The team looked in good physical shape and was spirited, but Coach Jim Owens appeared to have them under wraps—apparently not wanting to reveal any secrets which might benefit the Gophers.

Three Seattle area newsmen traveling with the squad said the Huskies showed nothing they might use against Minnesota at Pasadena. The three newsmen were the only "outsiders" who were allowed to watch previous practices.

Madigan Released From Hospital

OAKLAND (AP) — Slip Madigan, recovering from a Dec. 6 heart attack, was to go home from Providence Hospital today.

Madigan was coach of St. Mary's Gaels when their football teams moved into national prominence in the late '20s and '30s.

Shoemaker Wins Three

ARCADIA (AP) — Willie Shoemaker rode three winners at Santa Anita, including Het's Pet ($5) in the feature race yesterday.

West Eleven May Surprise With Spread

STANFORD (UPI)—More and more, it appears that the West will take to the air when it meets the East in the Shrine classic Saturday at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium.

Head Coach Bill Barnes of UCLA has expressed dismay at the East's defensive line, anchored by a pair of 245-pound tackles, Joe Rutgens of Illinois and Ken Rice of Auburn. Both were first round NFL draft choices.

Yesterday, quarterbacks Bill Kilmer and Rich Mayo were throwing the ball all over the lot and on target to a classy crew of receivers.

Moreover, the West has run many of their practices in absolute secrecy, spawning rumors that the West may be considering a spread or flanker attack of some sort.

FOUR CAPTAINS

The Westerners named four captains yesterday for the game. Quarterback Rich Mayo of the Air Force and center E. J. Holub of Texas Tech were named to lead the offensive unit while center Arvie Martin of Texas Christian and guard Carl Kammerer of College of Pacific will lead the defense.

49ers Get Fast Start With Contracts; Sign 2 Draftees

Coach Red Hickey and the rest of the San Francisco 49er staff returned home last night carrying the names of 26 college players drafted at the recent two-day meeting in Philadelphia.

There's many a slip 'twixt picking a name in the draft and signing a player on the dotted line. The American Football League and Canadian League are also bidding for grid stars.

But the 49ers showed they meant business by promptly signing Dale Fesser, Fresno State halfback, and Aaron Thomas, Oregon State end, to contracts. Both are members of the West squad and are working out at Stanford in preparation for the Shrine classic.

Bill Kilmer and Jim Johnson of UCLA and Charlie Fuller of San Francisco State all said they leaned toward the 49ers unless another team made an offer they could not refuse. All three are backs and also members of the West squad.

BEEFY LINEMEN

The 49ers went for backfield speed in their first nine draft round choices Tuesday. Yesterday's last 11 rounds saw them stress beefy linemen, most of whom were from little known colleges. Draft choices owed from trades resulted in San Francicso drafting 26 players at Philadelphia—more than any other NFL club.

Following are the 49ers' 10th through 20th rounds draft choices in yesterday's concluding session:

San Francisco—Paul Hynes, Louisiana Tech back; Tony Parelli, Illinois guard; Dan Coffee, Memphis State end; Tommy Hackler, Tennessee Tech end; Julius Finchke, McNeese State tackle; Bill Worrell, Georgia tackle; Bob Sams, Central State of Oklahoma tackle; Charles Fuller, San Francisco State back; Tom Jewell, Idaho State tackle; Ray McFarland, Colorado State back; Tom Simpson, Davidson tackle; Jerry Peery, Central State of Oklahoma guard.

MARIN BEATEN BY OAKLAND '5'

Oakland City College's Thunderbirds rolled over the College of Marin Tars 76-42 yesterday in a non-conference basketball tilt at the winners' court.

A strong Thunderbird press defense easily bottled up the Tar scoring, although Lynn Livie managed to tally 21 points for the losers. Ron Blum followed him with 13.

Oakland held a 44-28 halftime lead.

Marin hopes to get back on the win wagon tomorrow night against Santa Rosa at Santa Rosa.

Four Overtimes—Cal Finally Bows To Iowa

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Indiana, UCLA, Southern California and Iowa have reached the semi-final round of the Los Angeles Basketball Classic Tournament.

Iowa hurdled the first round with a rousing 83-80 victory yesterday over California in a game that went four overtime periods. Iowa, paced by rangy Don Nelson, had a 40-30 halftime lead, but Cal pulled up to a 62-62 tie after regulation time. Each team got six points in the first overtime period of five minutes; they had eight apiece in the second overtime; went scoreless in the third, and the Hawkeyes outscored the Bears in the fourth 7-4.

Iowa's win put the team in the championship semi-finals at 9 o'clock tonight against Southern California, which outclassed Minnesota 75-52. Southern California was without the services in the second half of its scoring ace, John Rudometkin. He scored 10 points in the first half, then retired because of inroads of the flu. He has been averaging 25 points a game.

Indiana, pre-tournament favorite, was hard pressed to outscore Stanford 58-50, but was ahead of the Indians nearly all the way. Indiana ace Walt Bellamy, the 6-10½ center, scored 20 points, but was matched by Stanford's John Windsor.

Indiana faced the UCLA Bruins in the championship bracket at 3:30 p.m. today. UCLA smothered Michigan State 98-61.

The consolation round had California opposing Minnesota at 1:30 p.m. and Michigan State against Stanford at 7 p.m.

The tournament is being played in the Sports Arena.

Rams Draft Mike McKeever 13th In Spite Of Injury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the Los Angeles Rams took Trojan guard Mike McKeever yesterday on the 13th round of the National Football League draft they knew he might not get medical clearance to play.

Rams General Manager Elroy Hirsch said Mike faces a series of exams this winter by the Ram medical staff. McKeever underwent an operation midway in the Trojans' season for removal of two tumors on his brain.

Welcome Home To Buck Shaw Today

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Coach Buck Shaw, who was fired in 1954 by the San Francisco 49ers because "he could not win the big ones," returned home in triumph today.

Shaw coached the Philadelphia Eagles to a world championship this year and then announced his retirement.

He was tendered a civic reception at the airport this morning and then received a trophy at Mayor George Christopher's office.

In addition to his nine years as 49er coach, Shaw coached at nearby Santa Clara from 1936-42.

Stripers Take Four-Day Vacation, Except In Richardson Bay Waters

STEVENS

Reports that ths San Pablo Bay is frozen over are erroneous. Actually there is no ice at all, except in the bait boxes.

It would seem, though, that a great many avid anglers expect such an occurance to take place any morning. Especially those who venture forth in open skiffs. Grace Quan of China Camp told me only three boats left her place on Monday, and all three came back with stiffened fingers, chattering teeth and no fish.

Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching on Santa Venetia Slough didn't have as many boats out as China Camp, and, like the latter, no bass were taken. Joe did report, however, that the indomitable William Cuneo and his son, Junior, managed to get meat for the table in the form of two mallards, one sprig and three bluebills in their semi-protected duck blind.

On the Contra Costa side of the bay, the rowboat liveries sadly dittoed the reports. At Joseph's Rodeo Resort, several skiffs braved the elements and came in with some nice flounders, but no bass.

THE PARTY boats out of Crockett also found fishing very slow from Friday until Monday. "Some flounders, Steve," reported Hank Dowrelio, "but very few bass came in."

Even the back country spots saw few fishermen and few fish during the four-day "vacation of the bass."

Did I say "vacation"? Well, it does seem that even the fish lost interest in proffered baits during the Christmas days.

And, by the same token, it does seem that the vacation came to an end in at least one area on Monday. Practically every party boat working the Richardson Bay region made the grade.

DURING THE last hour and a half of the ebb tide, trolling came to an exciting life in that area. I talked with Red Peterson of the Nine Sisters over the phone on Tuesday. Red had a good sized party aboard his boat and the fish started to hit on the bottom of the tide. The entire party scored limits while using White Bug-eye jigs and two to four-ounce sinkers. Fish ran from seven to 12 pounds. Red Peterson keeps his cruiser at the Berkeley Harbor.

Harold Boenner of Lee Anderson's Bait Shop called to verify the new and strong run of stripers in the Richardson Bay area. Told me that all boats working those waters made the grade with limits. He mention-The R.S.P., the Troller, Pegren and Lucky Day, among others.

BOENNER ALSO reported the well-known Red Ceremelli landing a 13-pound, 10-ounce striper off Snag Island in the Suisun Bay.

From scattered reports I gather that the south coast streams (Monterey and Santa Cruz counties) were teeming with steelheaders, but that very few were seen taken. It's a bit early, at that.

That's it for today, be with you again tomorrow; until then, goodbye, good luck and dress warmly!

Apples Vs. Butter Bet On Rose Bowl

ST. PAUL, Minn., (UPI)—Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman has accepted the suggested wager of Gov. Albert Rosselini of Washington as to the outcome of this year's Rose Bowl.

Gov. Freeman will bet a five-pound tub of Minnesota butter against a bushel of Washington apples that Minnesota beats Washington Jan. 2 in the Pasadena classic.

Rymkus Nips Erdelatz In AFL Coach Of Year Ballot

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lou Rymkus of the Houston Oilers, who learned his football from two of the game's master teachers, today was named the American Football League's Coach-of-the-Year for 1960 by United Press International.

The 41-year-old Rymkus guided the Oilers to the Eastern Division championship of the AFL with a 10-4 record in the league's first season of operation. The Oilers play the Los Angeles Chargers for the league championship next Sunday at Houston.

Rymkus, who was a star guard at Notre Dame under Coach Frank Leahy in 1942 and an All-Pro with the Cleveland Browns under Paul Brown, won the honor in an extremely close poll of 24 writers—three from each league city.

He received 9 votes in the open balloting, compared to 6 for Eddie Erdelatz of the Oakland Raiders and 5 for Sid Gillman of the Chargers. Coach Sammy Baugh of the New York Titans had two votes.

In a league where each team started from scratch, it was difficult to predict accurately which team would come out on top. The fact that the Oilers won their first division was a tribute to Rymkus' coaching and organizational talents.

Throughout the season, Houston proved the most consistent of all AFL clubs. Only one team in the league scored more points than the Oilers' 379 and only one other club yielded less than Houston's 285.

And under circumstances where offense was bound to overshadow defense, the Oilers produced the best overall attack in the new loop. They were tops in passing and third in rushing.

Bill Kilmer Wins Pop Warner Award As Best In West

PALO ALTO (UPI)—Billy Kilmer, UCLA's flashy tailback, was yesterday named 1960 winner of the Pop Warner Award, which annually goes to the "outstanding senior player on the Pacific Coast.

More than 400 sportswriters and sportscasters took part in the balloting.

Kilmer gained 1,889 yards this year to lead the nation. He made 803 rushing and 1,086 passing. He qualified as a classic triple-threater by leading the Big Five in punting with a 42.9 yards per kick average.

He will perform Saturday in the East-West Shrine Game and was chosen as the San Francisco 49ers' number one draft choice. He had previously been drafted by the Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League.

Kilmer is 21, married and a father.

"As a youngster I recall marveling at fellows like Eddie LeBaron and Ollie Matson getting the award," he said when informed of the honor. "This puts me in some mighty select company."

Kilmer will receive a gold watch and a trophy at the Palo Club's "Million Dollar Banquet" on Jan. 24. Ernie Nevers, legendary Stanford grid star under Warner, will make the presentation.

Washington Trades Sullivan To A's

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators today traded catcher Haywood Sullivan to Kansas City for pitcher Marty Kutyna and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Kutyna, 28, appeared in 51 games for Kansas City last season and posted a 3-2 won-lost record. He had a 1960 earned run average of 3.92. His 1959 record with Portland was 14-10.

Sullivan, 30, recently purchased from the minors by Washington, batted .161 last season with the Boston Red Sox.

Ailing Husky May Play In Rose Bowl

LONG BEACH (AP)—Washington's alternate fullback, Joe Jones, may play in the Jan. 2 Rose Bowl game against Minnesota although he underwent an appendectomy five days ago.

"Jones says he wants to play and I'm going to ask the doctors today and rely solely on their judgment," said Coach Jim Owens of the Huskies.

RING RATINGS

Patterson Honored As Fighter Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, the first man to win back the crown, today was named "Fighter of the Year" by Ring Magazine which also picked light heavyweight Guilio Rinaldi of Italy as the winner of its "progress award."

Patterson, previously, had been named the winner of the Edward J. Neil memorial plaque as "Fighter of the Year" by the Boxing Writers Assn. The 25-year-old New Yorker, who is supposed to box Ingemar Johansson in a third match March 13 at Miami Beach, lost his title to the Swede in 1959 and won it back by a knockout last June.

Rating the boxers for their accomplishments in 1960, Ring listed heavyweight Sonny Liston, the No. 1 contender, as the runnerup to Patterson in the yearly rankings.

Pone Kingpetch of Thailand, was ranked No. 3 among the fighters of the year for his feat of dethroning Pascual Perez in the flyweight class and then knocking out the veteran Argentine boxer in a rematch.

The ratings:

Chargers Costly In First Year; $900,000 Deficit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Chargers, whose owner, Barron Hilton, says he lost $900,000 this year on them, are getting ready to fly to Houston tomorrow to play for the American Football League championship Jan. 1.

Next year the Chargers probably will operate out of San Diego and they hope to recoup some of the 1960 losses by beaming their games on Los Angeles television screens.

"How much did you lose last season?" Mirror Sports Editor Sid Ziff asked Hilton.

"$900,000."

"How much did you expect to lose?"

"$300,000."

The Chargers have a top passer in quarterback Jack Kemp. The Charger aerial game and the fancy end sweeps of halfback Paul Lowe are the offensive threats the Los Angeles players are banking on to beat the Oilers, who won the Eastern Division title in the AFL.

Bulldogs Nip South S.F.

San Rafael Bulldogs rallied for 15 points in the fourth quarter yesterday to edge South San Francisco High School 48-47 in a practice basketball game.

The fast-shooting Bulldogs got off 60 shots in the game and made good on 31 per cent of them. Rich Robertson poured through 16 points for the winners, followed by Dennis Hall with 12, Randy Petrini with 10 and Bruce McPhail with eight.

The victory marked a great comeback after South S. F. roared off to a 31-19 halftime advantage. However, Coach Bob Muster's Bulldogs utilized a press defense to cool off the visitors.

East May Stress Rushing Attack In Shrine Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A powerful running attack features the East offense for Saturday's East-West Shrine charity football game as coach Milt Bruhn's forces figure to stick to the ground.

Three members of his starting offensive backfield were No. 1 draft choices of National Football League teams and four other members of his 24-man squad were top picks.

Indicating the strategy will be keyed to the running game, Bruhn named Ohio State's Tom Matte as the starting quarterback. Matte gained more note as a runner than as a passer.

At the halfbacks are Herb Adderley of Michigan State, the No. 1 choice of Green Bay, and Tom Mason, the choice of Minnesota's Vikings and the first pick of the entire draft.

Wisconsin's Tom Wiesner drew the assignment at fullback.

Pointing up the prominence of talent on the East squad, Bernie Casey of Bowling Green, a No. 1 choice of the San Francisco 49ers, will be the replacement at both halfback spots.

"Wouldn't a coach love to have a squad like this for a regular season?" enthused Bruhn.

AT ILLINOIS HOME

Marine Force Lands For The Holidays

PARK FOREST, Ill. (UPI)—The John G. Ransfords of 15 W. Rocket Circle found out today what Semper Fidelis means.

If the Marine Corps motto needed translation beyond "forever faithful," there were four Marines on hand and 11 more on the way.

But the Ransford family already had a pretty good idea:

To a Ransford son, Donald, a Marine corporal nicknamed Butch, it meant brightening Garrison life on Okinawa last fall by inviting 32 buddies home for the holidays.

To 15 of the 32, it meant accepting Butch's invitation.

To Butch's father, it meant backing up his son's generosity "even if I have to chuck my own kids out."

To three of five Ransford children, it meant being chucked out.

To Butch's 20-year-old brother, Jerry, it meant Butch is a "nice guy. He just doesn't have all his senses."

When he came back from Okinawa, Butch mentioned he'd invited "some guys" home. When the Ransfords found out what "some guys" was, they stayed calm and called for support.

Friends contributed mattresses and food. The local Knights of Columbus produced a 60-cup coffee percolator. Mrs. Ransford cooked a 23-pound turkey.

Jerry said they had "10 pounds of bacon and six dozen eggs for breakfast. I hope that's enough."

Three displaced Ransford children took their temporary removal to neighbors' homes in stride. Terry, 5, had his eye on a real Marine Corps insignia. For Mary Margaret, 15, and Betty, 10, the prospect of 15 Marine house guests was a giddy one.

The elder Ransford, a Borg Warner Co. employee in Chicago, said his son invited the troops "probably because he likes them."

But, he said, "I've never seen a house party like this."

Hayden Wins Round In Court Fight

Actor-adventurer Sterling Hayden of Belvedere won a temporary victory yesterday in his fight for more elbow room when the District Court of Appeals refused to interfere in a battle brewing in Marin Superior Court.

This means Hayden's attempt to take his four children on an 18-month trip to Switzerland and Denmark is headed for a full-scale hearing on Jan. 6 before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

On Dec. 1, Judge Keating granted Hayden permission to travel with his youngsters. But an attorney for the actor's former wife, Betty Ann De Noon, marched into court and demanded the trip be halted.

Judge Keating stayed his previous permission for Hayden to take his children and set Jan. 6 as the time to hear arguments from both sides.

Hayden wants to write a book in Europe and get out of a $75,000 debt. He is now married to the former Catherine McConnell of New York.

The Port of New York Authority reports 169 steamship lines now offer regularly scheduled services in the port.

Suitcase Sets Off Airport Scare, But Proves To Be Bag Of Tricks

NEW YORK (UPI)—A suitcase that appeared to be packed with dynamite but actually contained a magician's equipment touched off a scare at La Guardia Airport today.

The unclaimed, well-worn suitcase was opened by an employee in the American Airlines lost and found department. It contained several tubes filled with gray powder, odd wiring, some large matches, and other strange gear.

The employee jumped to the conclusion that he had a load of explosives on his hands. Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and the city police bomb squad rushed to the airlines hangar, just 100 feet from the main La Guardia passenger terminal. Police took one look and identified the powder in the tubes as dynamite.

But further tests proved that the tubes contained powder used for stage effects. The matches were also of a theatrical variety. There were two tea kettle gadgets, one fixed so that the lid blows off, and two bottles containing freon gas. There were also balloons and other odds and ends used for sleight of hand.

Final verdict: A magician's or entertainer's bag of tricks.

About 96 per cent of all bituminous coal produced in the United States is loaded mechanically.

Bomb Scare Halts Plane

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A United Air Lines DC-8 jet airliner carrying 80 passengers made a "precautionary" landing here today in a bomb scare.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said no bomb was found. A 23-year-old woman from Seattle, Wash., was taken off the plane and to Salt Lake General Hospital for observation after allegedly telling a stewardess that her husband might try to kill her by placing a bomb on the plane.

Jack Clumeck, Gloria Goodman Are Married In Temple Emanu-El

White chrysanthemums combined with variegated ivy and magnolia blossoms decorated San Francisco's Temple Emanu-El when Gloria Goodman became the bride of Jack Clumeck Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goodman of Ross. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clumeck also of Ross.

Rabbi Michael Heller officiated for the 4:30 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white silk Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a deep square neckline edged with peau de soie and a fitted bodice. The bell skirt extended into a chapel train and an obi of peau de soie accented the waistline. Her cascade veil of silk illusion was held by a seed pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Preceding the bride to the altar gowned in green-stone peau de soie were Jill Clumeck, the bridegroom's sister as maid of honor, and Joan Goodman, the bride's sister of Ross, junior bridesmaid, Sue and Ann Honig and Yvonne Anixter all of San Francisco and Sandra Stern of Oakland.

Their ballerina gowns featured deep square necklines, obis and three tiered bell skirts.

Arthur Clumeck of Hillsborough was best man and ushers were Robert Simon of Fullerton; Rudi Golyn, San Rafael; Randy Lees, Hillsborough and Charles Goodman, the bride's brother, of Ross, and Todd Cary of Ross.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Goodman wore an aqua silk brocade gown with long white gloves. Her flowers were white orchids.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a gown of beige silk brocade woven with gold threads. Her flowers were gold cymbidium orchids.

A reception for 240 guests following the wedding was held at the Fairmont Hotel. Arrangements featured a fountain spraying over a bank of cyclamen and ferns flanked with tall magnolia leaves.

For a wedding trip to Jamaica, the bride wore an Italian navy blue dress with matching coat.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of California where her sorority was Alpha Epsilon Phi. Mrs. Charles Diller of Ross, and Mrs. Joseph Goodman of San Francisco are her grandmothers.

The bridegroom was also graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School. A graduate of Stanford University, he is now attending the Harvard Graduate School of Business in Cambridge, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. S. Lees of San Francisco are his grandparents.

The newlyweds will take up their residence in Cambridge on Jan. 3.

A graduate of Boston University and B. U. Law School, she was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1945 after receiving special permission to take the examination—because she was under 21.

Right Brew

NEW YORK (UPI) — A clean pot is the prime requisite for making good coffee, says the Coffee Brewing Institute.

Wash your coffee maker with plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinses after every brew, using a well-lathered brush to scrub inside the spout and hollow stem. This prevents a left-over taste from spoiling fresh coffee.

Salisburys Celebrate Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Salisbury celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary yesterday with a family gathering at their home at 22 Brenfleck Avenue, San Anselmo.

They were married in a formal church ceremony in Lamoni, Iowa, on Dec. 28, 1902, with more than 500 friends and relatives in attendance. Mrs. Salisbury's father, W. W. Scott, was mayor of Lamoni then and Dr. Salisbury was president of Graceland College there.

Their children are Mrs. George Wehrheim and Scott Salisbury of San Anselmo, and W. W. Salisbury of Garland, Texas. They have nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Sex Reading In Milwaukee

Married women in Milwaukee read more books with sex themes than do married men, according to a survey by two Marquette University professors.

They found 30 per cent of the books read by Milwaukee wives and 25 per cent by the city's husbands fall in the sexy category.

Arthur S. McDonald, head of the Marquette Reading Center, said he does not consider the percentage of reading of sex theme literature to be extremely high. McDonald and Robert Craig, research director for the education department, conducted the survey.

The professors also determined that only about 25 per cent of Milwaukee's adults are consistent readers.

For Young Moderns Be It Resolved . . .

By VIVIAN BROWN

Now is a good time to list resolutions for the New Year.

We may find it difficult to remember them as 1961 progresses, but some headway is made if we can be conscious of our personalities without becoming goody-goody.

Here are some ideas to mull over:

I will not be a joiner: (a) because "everyone is doing it," (b) if it causes a loss of dignity, (c) if the organization is secret because it would not be acceptable to most people.

I will respect my parents' judgment: (a) if they have cautioned against parking in lonely spots, (b) want to meet my escort, (c) warn against visiting off-beat places.

I will not be a pipeline: (a) if friends confide in me, (b) if I'm told something that is hearsay, (c) if I know that an unpleasant situation will arise concerning a friend who hasn't been told.

I will not go along with beatnik philosophy and: (a) resent people who conform to regulations, (b) live without a goal, (c) become careless in my dress.

I will not jump at a last-minute date: (a) if an evening of study is necessary, (b) if the family expects me to be on hand for an important occasion, (c) if a group of girls have been depending on my presence at a hen party.

I will not rebel against authority: (a) running down my parents to others, (b) becoming disgruntled with school officials; (c) hating all adults who do not agree with my point of view.

I will not be a boy snatcher: (a) Trying to snare a boy from another girl for the sake of the challenge, (b) Inviting a boy out when I know he has a one-and-only, (c) planning a social engagement for the express purpose of attracting another girl's beau.

I will not be insular: (a) I'll help less fortunate friends if I am able, (b) assist in community and campus projects for worthy causes, (c) lend a helping hand to less brainy classmates.

I will not be a prude: (a) I'll try to make friends, not elude them, (b) I'll accept invitations from friends I like, even if they don't measure up to me socially, (c) I will not dampen party plans because I don't like my friend's invited guests.

I will not brag about my assets: (a) if I have a larger wardrobe than my friends, (b) if my allowance is bigger, (c) if I am more popular with boys.

I will not resist my family: (a) closing them out from my interests, (b) giving them the "you are just old-fashioned' routine, (c) denying them my presence for occasional family chit-chat.

Dr. Alex Sherriffs Speaker For Redwood P-TA, Jan. 12

Dr. Alex Sherriffs, vice chancellor of the University, will present challenging information on adolescents and their parental relations on Jan. 12, sponsored by the Redwood High School P-TA.

The Thursday night meeting has been scheduled for Olney Hall at the College of Marin due to the widespread interest in the subject and speaker.

Dr. Sherriffs, in addition to guiding the affairs of adolescents, is professor of psychology and research associate in child welfare. He has also had the practical experience of being the father of three teenagers.

Time will be allowed for a question period and the points made by Dr. Sherriffs and the audience will be the basis for a follow-up panel discussion at the March meeting of the Redwood P-TA, it has been announced by Mrs. Robert Bastian, program chairman.

Invitations to attend the Jan. 12 meeting are being sent to the staffs and officers of public and private agencies and service organizations working with and for the youth of Marin County.

Plastic Place Mats

Big vinyl plastic place mats in the shapes and colors of vegetebles are just the tonic to spur youngsters to a taste for vitamins. Match the mat to the vegetable being served and watch how appetites perk up. Choose from onion, cauliflower, lettuce, eggplant, red pepper, and artichoke — or from a group of popular fruits. All these foam-backed mats have the look and texture of Madagascar straw, but can be wiped with a sudsy sponge after each meal.

MRS. WILLIAM B. HICKMAN of Tiburon, photographed with her young son, Scott, has definite ideas about woman's role in the home and outside. (Independent-Journal photo)

Tiburon Housewife Engaged In Recruitment For Cerebral Palsy

By LOUISE TEATHER

"Women should do more than keep house and take care of children," in the opinion of Mrs. William B. Hickman of Tiburon. "They are much happier when they go back to home and family knowing that they have been useful in other ways."

By other ways Mrs. Hickman specifically means volunteer work for charitable and humanitarian causes.

She speaks from experience, for she is a homemaker, mother of a lively three-year-old son, Scott, and devotes considerable time to volunteer work. Her particular interest is United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, of which she is president this year.

While she believes that children and house work are "important and challenging," Mrs. Hickman says that alone, they "make for a dull life—and wife. After all, your husband doesn't really care how many diapers you've changed during the day and how much the groceries cost — if you don't go overboard! He is much more likely to be interested in your outside activities, particularly if they are worthwhile. Besides, these will help to make you a more interesting person."

TOO INVOLVED

"Of course," she adds, "you have to watch that you don't get too involved in outside affairs. Then everything suffers, home, family and the groups for which you work. It's better to choose an organization or two and devote your 'outside energy' to those."

Mrs. Hickman, now engaged in volunteer recruitment for the 53-Minute March on Cerebral Palsy Jan. 17, has warm praise for the many Marin County women who help in this annual drive.

She also gently chides the women who have the time but aren't willing to help with the work either of the local Cerebral Palsy chapter or the other Marin organizations.

"It's usually the women with children or other community activities, or both, who agree to help," she observes. "I feel it's really too bad that many women who could help won't take the time. Everybody has a few spare hours. And many volunteer jobs can be done at home."

TENNIS AND BRIDGE

However, Mrs. Hickman doesn't advocate volunteer work to the exclusion of leisure-time activities. She herself finds time for tennis and bridge, and looks forward to learning to sail when her husband completes the 14-foot Bahama dingy he is building.

Mrs. Hickman has been interested in helping the handicapped since her college days. She is a graduate of Mills, where she was a mathematics major but took all the psychology courses that were offered. These included psychometry, or testing, and she helped to test the cerebral palsy children at Whitton School for the handicapped in Oakland, where she worked as a volunteer.

Since then she has been particularly interested in United Cerebral Palsy and its dual program of seeking to rehabilitate victims and conducting research to find cause and cure.

"This is one of the causes," she says, "to which women can devote their spare time to great profit. They will not only be doing very worthwhile work but they will find great personal satisfaction."

Bayside Club Holds Party

Bayside Acres Women's Club held its Christmas party recently at the Alta Mira. Joseph Guternman and Mrs Clyde Good had decorated the tables with a small Christmas tree and bright red berries.

Mrs. Sam Sobel, president, asked Maj. Harold Varner to act as master of ceremonies. He presented a jeweled charm to Miss Loreta Pacheco, of the pioneer Marin family, the club's only member who was born and reared in Marin County. Miss Pacheco gave her family's history and that of its land grant, San Jose. Maj. Varner also called on the husbands of the members for talks.

Present were Dr. and Mrs. Guterman, Maj. and Mrs. Varner, Messrs. and Messdames Sobel Good James Thornton George Longley Tracy Harron Ronald Giambastiani, Jay Alpers, Elias Day, Mrs. George Alpers, Mrs. Frederick Croker and Miss Pachecc.

Shifting Patterns.

Shifting patterns of color — such as those in a kaleidoscope —have inspired California designers to create a bright new look for beach and patio in 1961. The colors are bold, brilliant and unadulterated. Varying shades of coral, violet and gold get special emphasis. The designers also are stripe-happy —using stripes from hairline to barber-pole size.

Can't Go Wrong Playing Safe In Lucky, Unlucky Marin

Marin had both a lucky and an unlucky Christmas weekend.

We were lucky because no one died in traffic accidents, although a bus driver was struck and killed just before the weekend officially started.

We also were lucky because no one died in fires, although deaths from fires last weekend across the nation approximately doubled the toll last year.

We were unlucky because at least a dozen persons were injured in highway accidents.

We also were unlucky because three homes and three businesses were destroyed or seriously damaged by fire.

There is something particularly pathetic about such accidents around the holidays. Nothing seems more heartbreaking than a burned Christmas tree and the ashes of gifts around it, or the sight of a family entering a hospital on Christmas Eve.

This is a time for happiness, not sorrow.

This is the time for special precautions against accidents, both in traffic and in the home.

This coming weekend will be another period of danger. The New Year's weekend, like the Christmas weekend, is noted for death and destruction. It is a time for care.

Strangely enough, apparently none of the Christmas weekend fires were directly related to the Yule tree and its decorations. But we must remember that these holidays there are usually more people home, more lights being used, and, as at present, it is cold so heating facilities are in continuous use.

It is important, therefore, for all of us to be alert to possible dangers. A blown fuse or a tripped circuit breaker could be a warning of a serious situation. If it happens more than once, don't neglect to find out why.

And of course on the highways, every driver should drive as if every other driver on the road is crazy. Maybe they aren't, but New Year's is one of the seasons wettest — and we don't mean rainfall. You can't go wrong by playing safe.

Trees To Save The Soil

Marin happily is a tree-filled county. Where trees don't grow naturally, we tree-loving Marinites have planted them. It is doubtful that the people of any county in the U. S. are more tree conscious.

Ours is a rainy land, where the many hills erode and the vital top-soil washes away without the networks of tree roots to bind it. Of course, grass and other plant roots help hold the soil too, but it is obvious they do not have the holding power of trees.

Trees are part of Nature's system of conservation and must be preserved and encouraged.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

ELUDES DEATH THREE TIMES

Death pursued a man three times in Chattanooga, but left him unscratched.

To begin with, his car stalled at a grade crossing just as a freight train came roaring toward him. He managed to get out of the vehicle seconds before the locomotive plowed into it. No sooner did this happen than the impact of the collision sent the auto reeling towards the bewildered man. Once more he jumped out of danger as the wrecked car crashed into a railroad signal-crossing pole.

The pole was slammed so hard that it broke in half and toppled to the ground immediately behind the fleeing man.

You may never experience such a triple brush with death. But even those who lead a comparatively quiet existence should need no reminder that they have no lease on life.

Cram as much good as you can into your life and no matter when you are called, you will go with full hands before the Judgment Seat.

"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life."

Keep me constantly aware, O loving Father, that the longest life is all too short to prepare for death.

Getting Ready Your Resolutions? Many Of Them Involve Success

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of Americans will probably write as their biggest resolution of 1961—"I will become a success."

Millions probably made the same stern resolve a year ago.

What happened? Most of those who sought success failed to attain it.

The reason why is hard to figure—particularly if, as we can probably assume in most cases, success is defined as the acquiring of more money.

There is no great secret about this. Almost unanimously those who have achieved wealth by their own efforts say they did so by a single means — concentrated hard work, intense application of their energy to the simple goal of making more money.

This is true in any field. It takes more than a gun and raw courage, for example, to become a successful bank robber. It takes endless hours of planning, study and rehearsal.

Even Jacques Casanova, the world's greatest tattle-tale lover, had to climb hundreds of trellises to hundreds of balconies to win undying fame. It wasn't easy.

Hard work as a means of success, however, has never been a popular recipe with the masses. They cling to the superstition there is an easier way.

There is. In fact, there are two:

1. Marry the boss' daughter —if he has no sons to leave his business to.

2. INHERIT MONEY.

But since there is a shortage of bosses with marriageable daughters, and few doting old aunts with fat bank accounts, many seek still a third easy magic formula.

THE LITERARY market is flooded with books giving so-called inside tips on how to achieve success.

In most cases these self-help books don't actually make one a success. But if read in bed at night, they sometimes provide a remarkable cure for insomnia—thus giving one more strength to daydream at the office on the job during the day.

Americans Choose To Live In Slums

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re news coverage of Redwood High School board meeting on books controversy:

Can scientists, statesmen, and philosophers be produced in a climate such as was created by the booing mob in attendance at this meeting, as one fellow human being sought to exercise his right to petition a governing board?

Is such a climate a cause or an effect of our rapidly perishing ethical perspectives? The ideals of democracy are loudly professed and rarely implemented by the individuals who lend a voice to a mob.

Can such individuals quarrel with the noted anthropologist who asserts "that the American family chooses to live in slums—psychologically, spiritually, and sociologically."

No Assurance Of Land Use

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Thank you for your editorial of Monday, Dec. 19.

We, who are against a premature urbanization of Marin County, are violently opposed to being railroaded into rezoning by grandiose presentations and "promises" of increased revenues.

First, we think Tower dwelling creates a density of population that can be handled only by big city facilities. BUT —even if we were in favor of this type of development (and many people are), we have NO assurance that once the land is rezoned it won't be thrown on the market to the highest bidder — who could conceivably build a less glamorous but more lucrative project.

We think land should be rezoned as the need arises, not for an individual's private gain over the wishes of the local community.

There's Need For Election Reform Other Than In Electoral College

WASHINGTON — Practically everybody, including the politicians, are now saying that we ought to reform the election laws.

But which election laws and what reforms?

We tend to forget that the laws, good and bad, which govern the election of President, Vice President, and members of Congress, come from 51 different governments—the 50 states and Washington.

The danger today is that we may become so allured by the prospect of doing something about the Electoral College, which is now just about everyone's target, that we fail to make the most needed reform.

I am not arguing that some reform of the Electoral College is not desirable. It is.

BUT WHAT IS more urgent and more needed than a change in the Electoral College is a uniform state and federal election law which will do the following:

1—Provide the same voting rights and protections to every citizen of the U. S. in electing the President, Vice President, and members of Congress.

2—Provide better enforcement of the election laws so as to reduce the corroding evil of voting irregularities, false count, and fraud.

This 1960 Presidential election should warn us all that just one vote—our own vote —can decide who shall be President.

THIS IS WHY it is absolutely imperative to strengthen and perfect the election laws so as to insure the integrity of the popular vote and to avoid the uncertainty that, maybe, the loser was the winner.

The Electoral College distorts the popular vote, but usually in favor of the winner. We can be glad that the Electoral College verdict is at least decisive. It stands 300 to 219 and John F. Kennedy is the certified President-elect.

There has been no evidence sufficient to conclude that a fully supervised, total national recount would have wiped out Kennedy's hair-breadth 112,000 majority out of 69,000,000.

But there has been sufficient indications of irregularities, fraud, and miscounting, to make it essential that we do more to protect the integrity of the national ballot.

IT HAS BEEN clearly established:

That there have been districts where more votes were cast than people living there.

That citizens, who had carefully registered, went to the polls to find their registrations carefully "lost."

That a disproportionate number of Republican ballots were thrown out in heavily Republican districts.

That thousands of citizens were disfranchised because of inequitable and uneven absentee ballot laws.

WHAT CAN be done?

We need a uniform state-federal election law to insure the right of all qualified citizens to vote for President, Vice President, and members of Congress—plus better guarantees against fraud and irregularity.

Redwood Books Dispute Produced Interesting, Yet Expected, Results

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees ended the year on a note of controversy when they slammed the door last week on a book-banning attempt at Redwood High School.

The board members said "No" to a demand by Rev. Michael Barkowska of Larkspur for removal of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" and J. D. Salinger's "The Catcher In the Rye" from Redwood's approved reading list.

But the door creaked open again when Mrs. Anne Smart insisted her letter of formal complaint against the same books be placed on the board agenda for Jan. 9. Mrs. Smart is the Larkspur lady who led a book-banning drive in the Tamalpais district six years ago.

THE BOOK HASSLE produced two very interesting (and expected) results, as Lyman McBride of San Anselmo pointed out at the board hearing last week.

"Have you tried to buy a copy of the Steinbeck or Salinger books in Marin or San Francisco for the past two weeks?" he asked. The two targets of all the controversy have had a "far more thorough reading than they would have had," he observed.

The issue also produced a record high attendance for a board meeting. "It's a shame you can't get as much interest on other items," McBride said.

WE COULDN'T HELP thinking the same thing as we sat at the meeting. Aroused citizens filled every seat, stood along the side of the room and in the lobby, and when they could no longer fit in the building, they remained outside and leaned in through open windows to listen to the proceedings.

It was a bitterly cold night, too, but the half-frozen people outside—including a number of students—seemed determined to hear what was going on. Several times persons in the darkness outside called in to ask speakers to raise their voices.

One of the most applauded speakers was Hans Schiller of Mill Valley, a native of Germany, who declared that it was necessary to remind Americans from time to time of their freedoms.

"DO NOT FORGET, it is not the issue of a few words or a book. It is question of principle. It started in many countries as a simple matter of objecting to a few words . . . ideas . . . then there was book burning, and people were burned by the millions.

"These books have to stay on the shelves because people have to be aware that these words are being used," Schiller pointed out.

We were impressed by a soft spoken young Negro student at Tamalpais High, who told the crowd that use of the word "nigger" in the book "Tom Sawyer" for example, doesn't bother him. The author uses the word to "get over a characteristic," he observed. "People don't write books to express dirty words," the young man added.

THERE WAS ALSO the good-humored lady from Mill Valley who aptly quoted the classic remark of the late Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York when a question about books came up:

"No girl was ever seduced by a book." Said the lady to the trustees: "I ask you to remember that when judging what can be read."

The book controversy apparently produced its share of family squabbles, too. The board received two letters on the subject from a man and wife. One was for banning the books; the other was opposed.

YEAREND ROUNDUP

Most Quickly Forgotten News Stories Of 1960

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This is the season when newspapermen engage in the production of retrospective articles known in the trade as "year enders."

These pieces usually take the form of reviews or summaries of the major happenings of the year.

If you don't mind, I will go ahead with my "year ender" herewith, a month-by-month chronicle of "the most quickly forgotten news stories of 1960:

JANUARY—Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich., introduced a bill to create a free capital guide service. He claimed there was a precedent for this in the distribution of free government booklets on "the sex life of bullfrogs."

FEBRUARY — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., opened presidential campaign headquarters next door to a rubber stamp store.

MARCH — Teddy Nadler, the biggest money winner in the history of television quiz programs, applied for a job as a census-taker but funked the test.

APRIL—A former page girl at the DAR convention filed a slander suit against two DAR officials.

MAY—Sen. Oren E. Long, (D-Hawaii), complained that a Hawaiian liqueur called "passion fruit" had been banned in Texas.

JUNE—During a call on Vice President Richard M. Nixon Shirley Temple disclosed that while attending a Hollywood reception for Nikita Khrushchev she touched the Soviet premier on the tummy.

JULY—The Library of Congress uncovered a letter revealing what Abraham Lincoln did on the fourth day after he was nominated for President. He stayed home and caught up on his correspondence.

AUGUST — The American Bar Association met here for its national convention. One of the speakers was Raymond Burr, television's Perry Mason.

SEPTEMBER — Mrs. John F. Kennedy began writing a weekly column called "Campaign Wife."

OCTOBER — The Smithsonian Institution concluded, after an agonizing reappraisal, that counting the number of rings is not always a reliable method of determining the age of a tree.

NOVEMBER—The White House was repainted and Mrs. Kennedy ceased writing her column.

DECEMBER—Sir Edmund P. Hillard decided that the "abominable snowman" was only a myth.

Irregular Behavior Typifies Girl Entering 12-13 Year Age Group

She's a wonderful young lady. She drives you wild, but you couldn't live without her. Can you guess who she is?

After school she puts on jeans and a T shirt. She streaks across the lawn. She climbs trees like a monkey. She rides bikes too fast. She gets her face dirty. She loves dogs, cats, horses, birds. She gets a kick out of TV westerns. Still a tomboy in many ways.

But she is changing. She now listens to the disk jockeys on radio stations. She picks up new slang. One day she'll be as happy as a lark the next as blue as indigo. Formerly she had a sunny disposition. Now she frequently surprises you.

She's beginning to want grown-up clothes. A year ago she scorned everything dainty and feminine. Now she demands party dresses, and gets them. She can be a roughneck in the afternoon and a fragile little princess in the evening.

Part of the time she is rude. Part of the time she's so polite it hurts. Formerly she hated Emily Post and all her rules. Now the rules seem important. Contradictory, isn't she?

She studies, but she has other interests too. She chatters a lot. She quarrels with you. She has tantrums. But still she loves you, and says so.

The greatest factor in her new life is boys. She is just discovering them. Not playmate-type boys. Put great, big, masculine boys. Boys as boy friends. Her taste may be poor, but it is intense. She has crushes. She makes phone calls. She writes notes. She loses sleep.

Recognize her now? Of course. She's your 12 or 13-year-old daughter. God bless her.

Dean Rusk To Be Stay-At-Home State Dept. Head

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Dean Rusk will be a stay-at-home secretary of state, one who will seek counsel, but make his own decisions, one who believes in the United Nations, but feels we don't have enough manpower there to do an effective job.

These things emerged from a frank talk President-elect John Kennedy's newly appointed secretary of state gave at a world affairs conference sponsored by the Associated Students of Mills College in Oakland.

Just eight days after the election, Rusk told the Mills gathering that there are "deep reservations" in the United States against summit diplomacy. He called it "ineffective" diplomacy, saying that the formality of regular diplomatic channels "takes away accidents of personality." "Personality problems" are among the things "we are trying to remove from foreign relations," he said.

The talk, given little attention by the public and press because Rusk had not emerged as a new cabinet member, was attended by Mrs. Russell R. Klein of Kent Woodlands. Mrs. Klein, a member of the board of governors of the Mills Alumnae Assn., took extensive notes (on which this report is based).

The new state secretary taught history and government at Mills from 1934 to 1939 and in addition served as dean of the faculty from 1939 to 1941, when he entered the armed forces. He is married to a Mills graduate, the former Virginia Foisie, sister of Jack Foisie of Sausalito, and the president of the New York Mills Alumnae Assn.

Rusk told the group a secretary of state must improve his relations with the president, there should be no "middle man" between the president and his secretary; with the Department of State he must "have daily contact with department activities"; with Congress, through two policy and two appropriations committees; and with the press and public, the press "is inclined to think they represent the public" and to "usurp their prerogatives."

The president and congress "have all the powers necessary" to conduct our foreign affairs, Rusk said. He noted that "national action" should be taken with "national consent."

But he warned that "everyone affected by a decision should participate in making it" is a "dangerous doctrine." He said the alternative to it is "line responsibility," that we should be "more specific" about where responsibility lies and to limit the delegation of authority.

A committee proceedure is a "built-in device for procrastination and delay" by those who oppose a policy, he went on. The United States should "move back to simpler pre-World War II days" when individuals were called upon to make the decisions.

The jobs of the president and the secretary of state require that they stay in Washington at their posts, he declared.

The chief delegate to the United Nations should have comparable ability and standing to the secretary of state, Rusk declared. Most votes in the U.N. are cast without instructions from the delegates' governments, so the delegates themselves are in fact policy makers and should be so considered.

To be effective in the U.N. it is important that we make the right approach to other delegates. One man can not possibly make proper contacts with 100 different delegations and he can't treat them as groups.

There fore, the United States should have at least three men of ambassadorial rank representing us the year-round at the U.N., Rusk said. They would be the "hard core" of our Assembly delegation there.

Rules of protocol in international relations should be brought up to date, he believes, at an international conference. Present rules were devised in 1815 and have never been systematically revised. He proposed getting rid of "expensive and time consuming formalities, but of improving "the little things."

The United States makes bad impressions in the method we receive such people as the delegates of new nations and visiting national leaders, Rusk went on. The Rockefeller Foundation has tried to remedy this situation somewhat by finding out who new delegates would be and inviting them privately before they came here officially.

The standing of cultural attaches in other countries should be upgraded, Rusk believes, at least to the level of military attaches. They should be selected for language competence and receive additional compensation for such a skill.

"I believe in the United Nations Charter," Rusk declared, particularly the preamble and Articles 1 and 2, which make health, food, and education "our objectives just the same as that of people all over the world."

He said that in the long range the United States foreign policy is to build a better world for all. "In the long run, the builders will win," he declared. "This is why I am an optimist."

In another speech to the same group, Rusk discussed the responsibility of the citizen in world affairs. He told his listeners to "start from where you are" to play your role, whatever it is, to the best of your ability."

DOUBLES AS SHELTER

N.M. Town Building Underground School

ARTESIA, N.M. (UPI)—A completely underground elementary school designed to double as a community fallout shelter in case of nuclear attack is being drawn up for this New Mexico town in the first such project of its kind.

The $430,000 prototype school bomb shelter, whose walls will be made of 18-inch reinforced concrete, will be able to withstand all but a direct hit, according to officials, and would ward off more than 99.9 per cent of outside radiation.

The school will be only 30 miles from the construction site of an atlas intercontinental missile base which military experts feel would be a prime target of the enemy in case of attack.

Citizens in Artesia have offered mixed reactions about the school, which is expected to be completed in the fall of 1961. Comments have ranged from strong approval to those who said: "I don't want my kids to go to school in a hole."

The extra cost of building the school underground will be borne by the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization, which has approved the project.

The shelter is expected to draw government and civil defense officials, architects and engineers from every point in the nation when it is completed. Already, inquiries have been received from across the United States and Canada for details.

Architect Frank Standhardt of Roswell, a key figure in drawing up the school's basic design, told school officials he would have the final plans ready for bids by Jan. 15.

Plans call for a building completely below-ground level that would shelter 2,080 persons four weeks in case of atomic attack. Artesia has a population of about 8,500.

There will be an emergency power supply, food supplies, sleeping facilities for 50 per cent of the emergency population, an emergency water supply to be drilled directly below the school, and a morgue.

The building itself will have 18 classrooms, a multi-use room, a food serving area, mechanical equipment room, administrative rooms and toilet facilities. Three stairways would provide entrance to the school, and space for 420 regular students would be provided.

The top of the school will be ground level for use as a recreation area.

The idea of seeking federal funds to help build an underground school originated among members of the local school board in 1959, after they heard a discussion of the subject by representatives of the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization.

Mrs. C. P. Bunch, the board president, and Supt. Vernon Mills took the initiative and explored the problems further. With the help of Standhardt, plans were drawn, revised, made public to test opinion in Artesia, then sent to the civil defense office in Washington.

The office approved the plans quickly, and the Artesia school board hopes students will be in the new classrooms by this fall.

Work is scheduled to begin before spring, if no unexpected financial troubles develop.

AWOL Jail Inmate Gets Five Months; No Work Furlough

A county jail inmate on work furlough, who went AWOL and got drunk during Christmas holidays, must spend the next five months in county jail — with no work furlough.

Leonard Amuel Trimuar, 25, of 1256 Cambridge Street, Novato, who has been arrested four times in four months, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court.

Last August, Trimuar was caught intoxicated and drew a weekend jail sentence. He repeated the offense in October and got a 90-day jail term, with work furlough privilege.

He left jail last Friday on work furlough and failed to return to his cell. Police caught him intoxicated at a Fourth Street bar on Christmas Eve. Earlier this month, Trimuar was also caught for making false statements to get unemployment benefits.

The judge ruled that Trimuar must spend 135 days in jail for these repeated violations, after he serves the balance of the original 90-day sentence.

People, Vehicle Rate Increased Rapidly In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California has gained an average of 978 motor vehicles and 771 new licensed drivers a day for the past 10 years, the Motor Vehicles Department reported yesterday.

The state's population increased at a rate of 1,405 persons a day in the same period.

There now are about eight million licensed drivers and more than eight and a half million registered vehicles in the state.

Woman Asks $100,000 For Auto Injuries

Mrs. Lorraine L. Peterson, 76, of Aldersly Danish home in San Rafael, is suing for $100,000 damages for injuries suffered when she was hit by a car on Dec. 20.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court yesterday, accuses the driver of the car, Raymond Neil Peterson (no relation), 63, of San Francisco with careless and negligent driving. Peterson is an advertising executive.

According to San Rafael police, the mishap occurred as Mrs. Peterson walked across Grand Avenue near Mission Street. The car was headed north on Grand.

Mrs. Peterson says she suffered fractures of the right wrist, arm and pelvis, concussion and other injuries.

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—A speedy conviction was returned in criminal court here in a drunken driver case. We better get him to a hospital."

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Businessmen Say 1960 A Good Year, Looks Even Better For Next Year

For this final column in 1960 we decided to look at the picture in Marin County for the past 12 months and its prospects for 1961 through the eyes of some of our local businessmen picked at random.

Here are the views of:

JESS J. FRANCE JR., resident manager in San Rafael for York and Co., investment securities:

"The picture continues to look bright—each year brings us thousands of investors. Despite a 10 per cent drop in security prices during 1960, York and Co., including the San Rafael office, has increased business about 15 per cent and its staff about 25 per cent. The security outlook is difinitely 'bullish'."

E. F. SWEENEY, San Rafael British motor car dealer:

"My opinion on any setback in the imported car industry is that it was caused by too many different foreign makes hitting the market this last year. It is leveling off and well established makes are holding. Our sales of the more expensive models were far ahead of 1959—about 150 per cent. Our bread and butter in 1961 will be in prestige and sports cars."

A. L. NIERI, assistant vice president, First National Bank in San Rafael:

"From our viewpoint, Marin County has made great strides during the past year. The banking business is a good barometer in that it reflects the overall growth of the county and local progress. We now have nine banks in Marin; our resources have gone up almost five million dollars in 1960 to a total of nearly 62 million dollars. With figures like this we have every reason to be optimistic for 1961."

FRANCIS FOGARTY, manager of J. C. Penny Co., San Rafael:

"I see a lot of good trends for 1961. The smooth, day-by-day results of the holiday season season were better than last year's — a splendid cause for optimism. I was particularly impressed that all departments showed an increase in volume for the year—nothing spectacular, but steady. We in Marin County are fortunate geographically, with room for expansion and in drawing the type of people we do to our area. Since I came here in 1946 from San Francisco I have noticed remarkable improvements —in streets and buildings, and above all in the tempo of living."

CHARLES HOWARD ALLEN, Frank Howard Allen and Son, real estate:

"I am a professional optimist —otherwise I wouldn't be in the real estate business—so it's natural for me to predict better things for next year. Our offices sold more of the expensive type homes in 1960 than in 1959 and the same trend will probably continue into 1961. We are expanding our business; we have five offices in the county now and I'll have an announcement for you on something else after the first of the year."

JULIAN C. LEONE, circulation manager, Independent-Journal:

"During 1960 we've had our biggest 12-month gain in circulation. I was amazed myself in looking at the figures—1,934 over last year—and I predict an even better 1961."

Marin Retail Sales Gained In Summer

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Marin County was among the 39 in California whose retail sales during the July-September quarter showed gains over the same period in 1959, the state Board of Equalization reported today.

Sales in the county for the third quarter totaled $41,085,000, producing $1,232,550 in the state's three percent sales tax. This was a gain of 3.7 per cent over the third quarter of 1959.

On a statewide basis, retail sales subject to the tax rose to an all-time high for the quarter, $5,832,070,000, the state board said. This was an increase of only one-half of one per cent over 1959 and failed to keep pace with the state's growth in population and personal income.

Of the 39 counties which had increased business during the third quarter, Trinity County made the biggest gain, with a 35.2 per cent increase. It was followed by Sutter, with a 15.9 per cent gain, and Sierra, where business was up 15.1 per cent.

Largest falloff of business was noted in Amador County, where sales dropped 15.9 per cent from the third quarter of 1959. Humboldt County sales declined 10.1 per cent and San Diego retail business was off 10.5 per cent.

Gift Gallery Fund Helped Family Agency

Proceeds from the Christmas Gift Gallery made a happy and timely present for the Family Service Agency when the Family Service League presented $1,000 to Executive Director Nicholas Suntzeff.

The agency is completing a three-month interim period in a change-over of its fiscal year to Jan. 1, to co-incide with that of the United Bay Area Crusade, its main means of support.

Suntzeff said the league's gift tided the agency over until the new year starts.

Several hundred persons viewed the colorful displays of 40 Marin shops at the Frances Young Gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center during the three days of the exhibit in November, and ordered gifts to be picked up or sent for Christmas. The League plans the gift gallery as an annual event.

Its newest project, which will continue the year around, is the Children's Cottage at 21 Madrona avenue, Mill Valley, where slightly worn and outgrown children's clothing is for sale, plus toys, games, books, records, baby furniture and maternity clothes.

Donations of salable items from the inevitable after-Christmas closet clearing will be welcomed at the cottage on Monday mornings, or pick-ups can be arranged by calling:

Mill Valley area, Mrs. E. E. Crawford; Strawberry, Mrs. Warren Callister; Belvedere-Tiburon, Mrs. F. M. Parke; Sausalito, Mrs. George Roth; Northern Marin, Mrs. John Barrie Jr.

The Cottage is open for business Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of each week (except between Christmas and New Year's), from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and is staffed by Family Service League members.

Mill Valleyan Murders Wife, Takes Own Life

Driverless Truck Smashes House

A fast-thinking housekeeper dived into a closet yesterday as a driverless two-ton truck and trailer shattered through two bedrooms in a house at 2250 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The truck crashed through the front bedroom within 24 inches of where Mrs. Betty Jane Mazzio, 37, was cowering. It flattened a second wall before stopping in the back bedroom.

As plaster and timbers collapsed, Mrs. Mazzio's daughter, Toni Ann, 8, ran screaming from the living room to find her mother.

Pale, shaken but unhurt, Mrs. Mazzio slid back the closet door and grabbed her daughter in her arms. Then she called police.

Officer Raymond Bleasdale said the truck, carrying a trencher machine on a trailer, was parked on the south side of Fifth Avenue while the driver walked to a nearby subdivision construction site.

Minutes later—at 2:40 p.m.—the rig started rolling down Fifth Avenue, crossed the street, careened over the lawn at 2250 Fifth Avenue and crashed into the house.

Mrs. Mazzio of 24 Jordan Court, San Anselmo, was in the front bedroom turning on the television set.

"I heard a rumbling noise, getting louder and louder," she told Bleasdale. "Then I jumped into the closet on the side of bedroom."

Mrs. Mazzio, wife of San Rafael postman Anthony Mazzio, told police she had been baby-sitting and housekeeping for the owner of the house, Mrs. Norma Jean Taaffe. The two Taaffe youngsters were visiting friends at the time of the accident.

Driver of the truck, William M. Keller of San Jose, was cited for having no chauffeur's license and driving a vehicle with a defective emergency brake.

Pharmacists Plan To Ask Dismissal Of Indictment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California pharmacists accused by the federal government of price fixing on prescription drugs will ask court dismissal of the price fixing indictment.

John W. Broad, attorney for the Northern California Pharmaceutical Assn., told newsmen today the indictment would be attacked on two major points.

One will be a claim that the indictment covers only dispensing prescription drugs in local pharmacies and therefore does not involve interstate commerce under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, he said.

Another claim will challenge the government's effort to apply Sherman Anti-Trust Act provisions to the profession of pharmacy. Broad said the act was intended to cover trade and commerce, and declared California law recognizes pharmacy as a profession like medicine and the law.

"The U.S. Supreme Court has recognized that forms of competition usual in the business world may be demoralizing to the ethical standards of a profession," Broad declared.

At an arraignment hearing today, Broad asked a delay in entering pleas for the association and Donald K. Hedgpeth, San Francisco druggist and pricing committee chairman, so that he could file motions to quash the indictment.

Federal Judge George B. Harris set the pleading date for Jan. 26.

SUB-FREEZING SHIVERS HIT MARIN COUNTY

Marin County shivered this morning in sub-freezing temperatures with the mercury dropping as low as 24 degrees in Alto.

Woodacre registered 25 degrees and Novato 30.

In other parts of the county it was warmer—but still chilly, with Corte Madera reporting 32, San Anselmo and Tamalpais Valley 34, Terra Linda, San Rafael and Mill Valley, 36.

Bolinas "sweltered" at 46 degrees.

Decline Noted In Paralytic Polio Cases

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Paralytic polio declined slightly in California this year, the Public Health Department reported today.

But officials, in a report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, noted that Salk polio vaccinations—the only protection against the disease now available in the state—should be used as much as possible.

"Eighty per cent of this year's cases have occurred in non-vaccinated or poorly vaccinated individuals," the report said.

The new oral polio vaccine will not be available in any appreciable quantity before the end of 1961, the department said.

Health officials also said reported cases of venereal disease substantially increased in the state this year.

The reported incidence of all types of polio through the first week of December has remained about the same as it was in the same period last year. However, there were only 364 paralytic cases as compared with 409 in 1959.

Forty per cent of the victims were under 5 years of age.

Congo Rebels Enter Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—A column of rebel troops from Stanleyville was reported today to have entered northern Katanga and made contact there with Baluba tribesmen fighting against the separatist regime of President Moise Tshombe.

A United Nations report said the rebel force entered Katanga through Kivu Province, and was approaching Kongolo, the center of a bitter guerrilla war between the Katanga Balubas and Tshombe's police.

Board's Chair Seen Certain For Fusselman

Chairmanship of the Marin County Board of Supervisors starting next Monday seemed today to be in the bag for Supervisor William D. Fusselman of San Anselmo.

"They can have it," commented present chairman Walter R. Castro of San Rafael. "I've been in six years and there's a lot more feathers than fried chicken in this job—no extra pay and everybody on top of you."

INDICATE SUPPORT

Newly elected supervisors J. Walter Blair and George Ludy indicated they would support Fusselman who has already had one period of chairmanship, in 1953 and 1954, and who today was in a modestly receptive mood to take on the job again.

Fusselman has served on the board since November of 1942, when he accepted a short-term appointment.

"I'd go for Bill," said Ludy. "Over the grapevine I hear that he'll be next chairman. I imagine he feels that the new board will be behind him."

NO 3-MAN HUDDLES

Both Ludy and Blair stressed, and Fusselman confirmed, that there have been no three-man huddles either to elect Fusselman chairman or to scheme out strategy as a new majority on the board.

William Gnoss of Novato, the fifth board member, is friendly toward Castro but it is felt that both he and Castro accept the fact of a natural pull-together as between veteran Fusselman and the new members.

Election is expected to take place immediately after swearing-in of the two new members, replacing Mrs. Vera Schultz and James Marshall, Monday noon. It could, however, be deferred until the regular weekly session starting at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Belgian King Flies Home As Strike Violence Continues

Monarch Curtails Honeymoon To Cope With Growing Crisis

BRUSSELS (UPI) — King Baudouin cut short his honeymoon in Spain and flew home tonight to stave off disaster in his riot-torn kingdom where saber-wielding gendarmes and police armed with tear gas battled mobs of strikers in the leading cities.

The nation was wracked by a nine-day strike called by Socialist workers in an effort to bring down the government of Premier Gaston Eyskens and end his austerity program. The Socialists claimed the king's return meant Eyskens would have to quit.

There were outbursts of violence in Brussels, in Antwerp and in other big cities today but few casualties. (See picture on page 2.)

OUT OF CONTROL

The worst violence was in Brussels where mounted gendarmes charged with drawn sabers into mobs of stone-throwing strikers who surged 15,000 strong through the city, wrecking buses and street cars, smashing windows and screaming "Eyskens to the gallows." The mobs fled unhurt.

Thirty thousand strikers demonstrated in the port of Antwerp, Belgium's second city, in a mass parade that started calmly but flared out of control. Mobs there smashed windows of department stores, hotels and street cars before police drove them back with tear gas.

BUNTING FOR KING

Many political observers believed the resignation of Eyskens would follow the return of the king. Eyskens had opposed the monarch's return since that could give the impression he was unable to control the situation.

Two weeks ago when Baudouin flew to Sevilla, in Spain, with his new queen, Fabiola,

2 Germanys To Continue Trade Pact

BERLIN (UPI)—East and West Germany agreed today to continue trade next year, avoiding a possible Communist blockade of isolated West Berlin and a new international crisis.

A West German press office announcement said East and West German experts agreed at their ninth meeting today that trade relations would continue on the basis of an agreement which the West German government canceled in September.

The West German government thus effectively withdrew its cancellation of the old agreement just two days before a Communist deadline for a settlement of the trade issue or reimposition of a probable new Berlin blockade.

Murphy Given New Term On Bridge Board

Leland S. Murphy, veteran of 17 years as a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, won reappointment to another four-year term today.

Marin County supervisors voted 3-to-2 for the reappointment, on motion of Supervisor Vera L. Schultz of Mill Valley, seconded by James A. Marshall of Tomales.

THIRD VOTE

This was almost the final official act for Mrs. Schultz and Marshall, both of whom failed to win re-election. Their successors are scheduled to take office at the next meeting of the board.

The third vote for Murphy was cast by Supervisor William D. Fusselman of San Anselmo.

Board Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato voted against reappointment.

Castro and Gnoss questioned Murphy at length on bridge actions which have in times past brought public criticism.

HIS OPINION

Referring to Murphy's outspoken opposition to rapid transit across the bridge, Gnoss asked Murphy why the bridge administration "has not worked too closely with our rapid transit district?"

Murphy declared his publicly expressed opinions were those of a private citizen of Marin County, "a taxpayer and 30-year resident."

His principal objection was

Mayor Makes Vain Try To Halt Fatal Quarrel

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Jean Eldridge Sooy, about 40, an attractive Mill Valley cosmetician, was shot to death by her estranged husband, Ralph C. Sooy, in the front yard of their home last night, after which Sooy turned his .22 caliber pistol on himself. He died of the gunshot wound at 6:15 a.m. today.

The shootings climaxed a violent quarrel which Mayor Robert D. Huber, whose home is next door to that of the Sooys, tried without success to stop. The mayor was ordered away by Sooy almost as the latter squeezed the trigger of the death gun.

The double slaying ended a marriage which began in Reno on March 26, 1949, and which was scheduled to wind up in a divorce hearing before Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating on Jan. 3.

CHARGED VIOLENCE

Mrs. Sooy filed for divorce Nov. 22, charging cruelty. She alleged her husband had inflicted physical force and violence and recently threatened further violence. She asked the court for a restraining order and was arranging to have the locks on the house at 389 Throckmorton Avenue changed to keep her husband from entering.

But Sooy, 49-year-old assistant poundmaster for the Marin County Humane Society, went to the home last night. The quarrel that followed ended in what Police Chief James M. McGowan said was the first murder in Mill Valley since he joined the police force in 1937.

Mayor Huber and his wife Jean, in their home at 365 Throckmorton, heard the door of the gray-shingled Sooy home slam at 9:25 p.m. Mrs. Huber went onto the Huber back porch, then called her husband.

'TERRIFIC FIGHT'

"There's a terrific fight going on over there," she said.

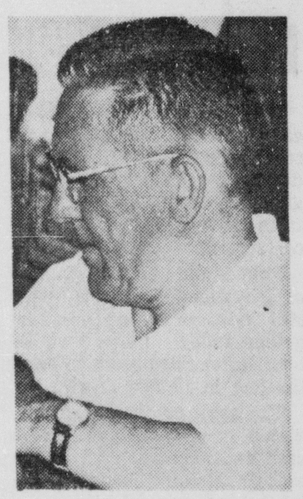

Huber went to the telephone and called police.

There had been other fights between Sooy and Mrs. Sooy, he said, "with him chasing her around the house and hitting her."

As Huber hung up the telephone, his wife called: "She's run out of the house. Help her into our front door."

"I ran out the front door and got about five feet short of their gate and Sooy yelled, 'Get away from here, Bob!'" the mayor related. Almost instantly two shots went off.

"I fell down beside my car in the driveway when I heard the shots. Then I ran back into my house and on the way back I heard another shot. I called the police again," the mayor related.

RALPH C. SOOY
Shootings climax quarrel

Lt. Charles McCourtney and officer Carl Mead Jr. arrived within minutes. "When I got there the Sooys were lying behind the gate in the front yard inside the fence," said Officer Mead. "I looked over the fence and saw Sooy lying there groaning and Mrs. Sooy lying on her back with blood coming out of the back of her neck. The pistol was lying between them.

"I couldn't get through the gate because the man was lying against it. City Manager (A.E.) Almcrants hoisted me over the six-foot picket fence and I ran around and got the pistol, a .22 high standard automatic Colt, which I gave to Almcrants.

"Robert Hackney, an ambulance driver, jumped the fence and helped move Sooy so we could open the gate. Then Asst. Fire Chief Joe Regalia arrived with the fire truck."

Mead said that during this time the Sooys' black shaggy dog, Maggie, kept barking.

"Mrs. Sooy was alive when I got there," Mead said, "but by this time she didn't appear to be breathing. We put

'Tremendous Ball Of Fire' Reported Over West Marin

Almost a dozen residents of Inverness, Tocoloma and San Rafael told sheriff's deputies last night they saw a "tremendous ball of fire with a red jet-like tail" fall through the sky and fall near the Nicasio Dam.

"I've seen meteors, but I've never seen anything like this before," said Lorraine McIsaac of Tocoloma. She told Deputy Sheriff William Christensen the fire ball, with its tail throwing out sparks, flashed northward through the sky and fell behind Black Mountain near Point Reyes Station about 5:40 p.m.

Sheriff's deputies notified Hamilton Air Force Base and a helicopter was sent scurrying across the area. Deputies searched on foot. They found nothing.

Key, Combination, Rigid Timetable Helped In Big Florida Vault Theft

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A key, combination, timetable and teamwork formed the ingredients for Florida's biggest burglary—a neat $400,000 theft from the vault of an armored car service.

Police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents were still trying to fit the pieces together today, more than 50 hours after thieves carted away the loot in 19 moneybags.

The vault contained an estimated one million dollars in cash and checks. All of the sacks containing coins were left behind.

Investigators agreed that the theft could have been executed only with knowledge or actual aid provided by an employee or former employee.

Detective Inspector O. C. Beynon said officers questioned more than 20 persons and that others would be called in. No arrests have been made.

"It was definitely an inside job," E. A. Rasdale, president of the firm, said. "They knew what they were doing and timed the whole thing just right."

All of the loss, the firm's first theft in its 23 years of operation, was insured.

Authorities pieced the burglary together like this:

The intruders—at least two and perhaps as many as four—entered the company's one-story building a few minutes after midnight Tuesday. They used a key to open the front door.

An alarm sounded at a burglar protective agency several blocks away when the door opened. One of the men followed the password procedure used by employees when entering and leaving the building at night. He telephoned the agency and gave a name and code number.

It took the operator six minutes to determine that the name and number failed to match those on file with the agency. Police arrived at the scene three minutes after the operator called them.

During the nine minutes which elapsed, the intruders walked through an unlocked door to the vault, opened it by dialing the combination, carried out the sacks and escaped.

The act began and ended during a 30-minute interval between the departure of one armored car from the building and scheduled arrival of another.

Police found the building deserted and the vault locked when they arrived. Before fleeing, a burglar set the vault's time-clock so that the door couldn't be opened for 72 hours.

"They would have taken it all," Rasdale sair, "but they were on a rigid time schedule."

HE'S OFF TRACK NOW

Driver Ties One On, Cuts Along Rail Line

DECATUR, Ga. (AP)—A daring young man who drove his car five miles down a railroad track, over trestles and a bridge right in front of a freight train, will spend the next six months safely in jail.

"I'll be swan if I know why we didn't run over him or why he didn't run off a trestle or something," marveled train engineer J. B. Broom.

Police who rushed to the scene and arrested Theron Luther George Jr., 18, also had words of praise for the young daredevil's skill in negotiating the track and trestles in the early morning darkness without a mishap, with Broom's train whistling impatiently behind.

But DeKalb County Judge Oscar Mitchell was not so impressed. "When I asked him what his excuse he just said he was guilty and didn't have an excuse," the judge commented in passing sentence yesterday.

The six-month sentence was on a charge of drunkenness on private property.

Broom said he first spotted the car sailing along the Seaboard Air Line tracks ahead of him at 4 a.m. Tuesday, its left wheels running on the crossties between the tracks and its right wheels on the dirt right of way.

Every time the driver came to a trestle he pulled all four wheels up on the crossties and bumped on across, the engineer said.

"If we'd come on that guy anywhere else along there we'd have overrun him sure.

"We happened to see him on a straight stretch, but after that we lost sight of him because of all the curves and hills and I didn't make more than seven or eight miles an hour because I was afraid I'd overrun him," Broom said.

Creeping along in the darkness so as not to smash into the rear of the car, Broom said after crossing an overpass "we saw him standing there right in the middle of the tracks and laughing at us and waving his hands. So I laughed about that time, too, and got out to see what had happened.

"I didn't get a chance to talk to him much because the cops came up about that time," he added. Police had been tipped previously that a car was running down the track, its headlights on and horn blowing.

Bible Reading Marathon Starts

WYCKOFF, N.J. (AP)— Teenagers at the Wyckoff Reformed Church are using their holiday time for a Bible reading marathon.

Psychology Might Help Weight Diets

NEW YORK (AP)—Psychology can be a helpful buddy in dieting to lose weight, researchers said today.

The psychological aids could be such steps as:

Preparing the next meal right after you've eaten—then you won't nibble.

Eating specific foods in specific places of the house. Or going to the trouble of putting on some certain type of clothing before eating.

ONLY WHEN EMPTY

Lifting a forkful of food only when your mouth is empty.

Holding forkfuls of food for a while between plate and eager teeth—or chewing food longer.

Psychologically, they said, eating involves a whole chain of events or stimuli, usually performed in a pretty fixed routine.

While the chain of events varies with individuals, a typical chain is going to the store, selecting and paying for food, carting it home, preparing it, setting the table, sitting down to the table, and so forth.

LENGTHEN CHAIN

The idea is to lengthen the chain of events.

The longer the chain is, the weaker are its effects, said Charles B. Ferster, Ph.D., John I. Nurnberger, M.D., and Eugene E. Levitt of the psychiatry department, Indiana University School of Medicine.

Eating too much is largely a habit, they told the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Psychological principles can help develop self-control, which is different from will power, they said.

Scientists have learned much about the electric eel's anatomy and power potential, but they still know almost nothing about how it produces electricity in living tissue.

U.N. Probing Congo Report Of Massacre

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — United Nations officials today investigated reports that passengers on a train attacked in Katanga province yesterday were massacred after they were abducted by raiding Baluba tribesmen from Kasai province. A U.N. spokesman said he doubted the reports.

Authorities in Katanga had expressed fears for the lives of some passengers who they said had been kidnaped by the raiders.

SOME CONTRADICTIONS

A U.N. spokesman said some reports had apparent contradictions in them. For example, he said, the U.N. troops guarding the train were Irish and Moroccan and not Swedish as had been reported.

He said the train was carrying about 100 African school children from Elisabethville to northwestern Katanga for the holidays. The spokesman said reports that the train left Elisabethville with 400 people and arrived at Kamina with only 30 survivors were "wildly exaggerated.

First reports of the incident said the train was raided three times by the Kasai Balubas — enemies of the Balubas aboard the train who support Katanga premier Moise Tshombe—and that 20 of the African passengers had been killed.

WAR THREAT

The U.N. spokesman said a local chieftain, Kasongo Niemba, claimed that 19 Balubas, 14 Konakat and Lulua tribesmen and an unknown number of students were missing from the train. He said Niemba threatened to make war on the Balubas at Bukama if these people were not released unharmed.

The spokesman said the United Nations here had no reports of its own on what had happened on the train in the 30-mile stretch between Elisabethville and Bukama because the U.N. guard had been replaced between these points. Katanga officials quoted provincial gendarmes who were aboard the train as saying that the track had been damaged at Mukulakula, and that during a stopover at Luena one Katangese soldier had been killed and three passengers kidnaped.

Cop Chief Cited

NEW YORK (AP)—Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy says he will appeal a court ruling that said he had disobeyed an order which forbade him to assign policemen to higher duties without promoting them.

Goldfine In Custody

BOSTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine, indicted for $790,000 tax evasion, was held in federal custody at the U.S. Public Health Hospital today while lawyers sought to win his freedom on bail.

Goldfine, 70, entered the hospital yesterday after making two U.S. deputy marshals wait four and one-half hours outside his hotel room. He took a hotel suite last Saturday after a federal judge in Washington released him from a mental hospital in the capital for private psychiatric care.

The marshals went to the hotel with a removal order directing that the millionaire industrialist be held until Jan. 10 to determine his competence to stand trial.

Americans Give More

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans gave more than eight billion dollars this year for philantropic purposes, according to a preliminary estimate announced by the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc.

The association said yearend totals were 7.8 billion dollars in 1959 and 7.1 billion for 1958, adding that incomplete returns indicate that total giving to federated campaigns will be at least 2 per cent above 1959 figures.

U.S. Fire Toll

BOSTON (UPI)—Fires in the United States during 1960 caused an estimated 11,350 deaths, 70,000 injuries and $1,541,000,000 property damage, the National Fire Protection Assn. said today.

The international fire safety organization said exact figures would not be available for some months but preliminary estimates indicated an over-all increase in deaths and damage compared to the 1959 figures.

Gas Blasts Hurt 8

BAYONNE, N.J. (UPI) — A series of explosions raged through a petroleum company in this oil distribution center last night and early today, injuring at least eight persons and forcing 300 from their homes.

Police and fire officials said the blaze at the Sun Gas Products Co. apparently started when an empty dump truck backed into a four-foot-high propane gas cylinder. The cylinder burst afire and touched off a series of eight explosions.

About 1,000 firemen, disaster and rescue workers were sent to fight the blaze, which destroyed the plant as well as 150 to 200 four-foot-high propane cylinders. The fire was declared under control about two hours after the first explosion, but burned for several more hours.

Red China Hard Hit

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today that its agriculture in 1960 suffered from "serious natural adversities without parallel in the past 100 years."

About 150 million acres of farmland, or half Red China's total cultivated acreage, was reported stricken by drought, typhoons and floods of varying severity.

Nixon Nixes TV Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has turned down an invitation to participate in a "Tribute to a Patriot" TV show praising President Eisenhower.

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Nixon declined the invitation because:

"The key time when they wanted him to tape a part of the program came when he had to be out of town. In addition he has adopted a policy not to go on television for a while."

He said last night, "I cannot agree to go outside the law to maintain segregation."

He readily admitted the robbery, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents said.

ROBERT V. ROOSA
No. 3 in Treasury

Kennedy Fills Justice Dept., Treasury Jobs

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy took part today in a global review of American foreign policy. He also picked a New York banker, Robert V. Roosa, to be undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs.

And Kennedy has chosen Archibald Cox, Harvard law professor and a campaign aide, for the job of solicitor general of the United States—the government's chief trial lawyer.

LUNCHEON MEET

For a far-ranging look at the uneasy international situation, Kennedy arranged a luncheon meeting and afternoon conference with Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Roosa, 42, who says he's an independent in politics, will be the Treasury Department's No. 3 official as undersecretary for monetary affairs. He now is vice president of the New York Federal Reserve Bank in charge of research.

An undersecretary for monetary affairs, Roosa will be directly responsible for managing the 291-billion-dollar national debt.

Roosa's new job, which pays $21,000 a year, was created by Congress in 1954.

BROAD BACKGROUND

Cox, 48, brings to the solicitor general job a broad background of previous service in government. During the presidential campaign he worked for Kennedy's election as coordinator of a team of professors who provided the candidate with material for speches and statements.

As solicitor general at a salary of $20,500 a year Cox will work in the justice department under the president-elect's brother, Robert Kennedy, who has been named attorney general. The solicitor general is in charge of all the government's business in the Supreme Court.

Hospital Loses Sheets, Blankets

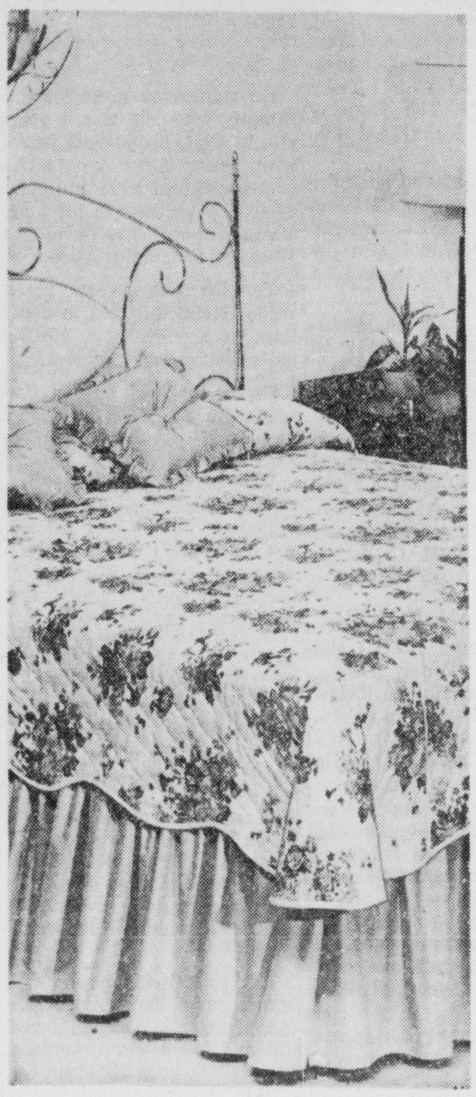

About 40 blankets and 50 bed sheets gradually disappeared from Rafael Convalescent Hospital in Santa Venetia during a two-month period, sheriff's deputies disclosed yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Egan, who operate the hospital at 234 North San Pedro Road, estimated the loss at about $355. The missing blue blankets and white sheets were brand new, the owners reported.

Inspector William Bradley of the sheriff's office is investigating the thefts.

BOARD SPLIT IN FINAL VOTE — The Marin County Board of Supervisors held its last meeting with its present lineup of membership today, and as often in the past, was divided. Final action of the board was to approve 3-2 the reappointment of Leland S. Murphy to the Golden Gate Bridge District board. Dissenters were Chairman Walter R. Castro and Supervisor William Gnoss. From left in this photo, as they appeared in final meeting, are Mrs. Vera L. Schultz (who failed of re-election), William D. Fusselman (re-elected and slated to become chairman), Castro and Gnoss, the two hold-overs, and James A. Marshall, who also failed of re-election. County Clerk George S. Jones is in right foreground. (Independent-Journal photo)

that Marin County residents "would be taxed to build rapid transit in other counties," he said. (Actually, other counties would be paying taxes to help build rapid transit in Marin.)

Castro asked why a Marin delegation (of which Castro was a member) was "kissed off" at a bridge directors' meeting when the Marin group advocated construction of a tourist information center at Vista Point.

Murphy said he couldn't remember the incident, which received wide publicity at the time and provided much new criticism of the bridge board.

Castro commented that Murphy had not made any effective effort to get a hearing for the Marin delegation.

PARKING AREA

Castro then asked Murphy about the refusal of the bridge board to cooperate with state highway officials toward developing a southbound tourist parking are opposite Vista Point. The bridge board's refusal to act led to the cancellation of a $40,000 appropriation for the project, for which bridge directors were widely criticized.

Murphy replied again that he couldn't remember any such incident and, anyhow, bridge directors had nothing to do with voting on state appropriations.

In response to Castro's questions about employment of publicist William Hendricks as "assistant manager" of the bridge district at $12,000 a year, Murphy spoke at length. He disclosed that he did not attend the bridge board meeting when Hendricks was hired, saying variously that he probably would have voted for the action but might not have supported it.

EXPENSE ALLOWANCE

He expressed the opinion that Hendricks does not receive expense allowances in addition to salary. (The job pays $12,000 plus expenses, as has been reported publicly.)

Murphy volunteered that he thinks Bridge Manager James Adam "well earns" his $20,000 a year salary, although the chief engineer of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge receives less for managing that and two other bay bridges.

Murphy also volunteered the opinion that he is held in high regard by his fellow bridge directors.

In moving for Murphy's reappointment, Mrs. Schultz acknowledged that "some policies of the bridge board warrant criticism" but said she was motivated by a practice long observed by the Marin supervisors: The reappointment of offfice holders who have not "by their actions disqualified themselves from consideration."

FUSSELMAN SAYS, 'GOOD LUCK'

Mrs. Schultz, Marshall Leave Almost Unnoticed

Supervisor Vera L. Schultz of Mill Valley and James A. Marshall of Tomales completed their service on Marin County's highest legislative body today, almost without acknowledgement.

Board Chairman Walter R. Castro adjourned the meeting without reference to Mrs. Schultz or Marshall's final appearance as supervisors. Mrs. Schultz quietly and unobstrusively removed some papers from the drawer of her desk.

After adjournment, as she turned to leave, Supervisor William D. Fusselman, her steadfast foe and critic during the past eight years, gave her a warm smile and handshake and a cherry "good luck."

Marshall had already left the room unnoticed.

Only spectators on hand, except for an I-J reporter, were George Thierbach (often called the "sixth supervisor") and Mrs. Tom MacDougall of Mill Valley.

BELGIUM

Brussels was a city of lights and gaiety and streets were festooned with bunting and hung with Christmas decorations.

When he returned tonight it was a city of darkness with transportation at a halt and many industries closed. The feeling of gaiety had changed to one of crisis and danger. Troops and sailors guarded public building and gendarmes were on every corner.

The strikes were called by the Socialists to force Eyskens out of office and kill his new austerity program made necessary by financial losses that followed Congo's independence.

The strikes reached a peak of violence today when a mob of 15,000 terrorized downtown Brussels for two hours with stone throwing, window-smashing and attacks on buses and street cars. Some demonstrators built fires in the streets.

A squadron of mounted gendarmes turned on the strikers and they fled. At least 100 other gendarmes on foot advanced with rifles in the first real show of strength. It was enough to break up the rioters.

Pre-Elizabethan Program Slated

The newly organized Homestead Players are to present the company of the American Shakespeare Festival Theater of Stratford, Conn., in a pre-Elizabethan program at 2:30 p. m., Jan. 8 at Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

This will be a benefit performance starring Will Greer and Bert Lahr. Plays to be given are "St. George and the Dragon," "The Coventry Miracle Play" and "The Second Shepherd's Play."

Cutting Of Trees Worries City Aides

Corte Madera Park and Recreation commissioners are concerned about "indiscriminate cutting of trees" in the town, chairman Charles W. Garrison reported today.

The commission last night reviewed anti-tree removal ordinances in other cities and discussed the possibility of a local ordinance. "Perhaps one can be drafted that would be a deterrent against persons just going in and chopping down trees."

Sooy was taken to Marin General Hospital, where he died this morning.

Mead continued: "We found Sooy's pickup parked at 123 Cascade Drive, about two blocks away from the house. The holster of Sooy's gun was lying on the floorboard of the truck.

"Apparently he parked there, walked up Laurel Street to the alley behind the house. There was nothing broken on the door and so I gather she let him in."

Mead said that it was his belief that the murder was premeditated. "He went up there with one main purpose —to kill her," he theorized.

Sooy shot his wife below the right ear and the bullet went through her head and emerged below the left ear, the officer said. Sooy shot himself through the head at the right temple.

Mead said Mrs. Sooy had evidently been watching television when her husband arrived at the house. She was wearing pajamas and a house coat and slippers.

Sooy had worked for the humane society since last year. Early in the 1950s, he worked for the society as a kennel man. He had also worked, Mead said, as a part-time bartender at the Old Mill Tavern and at Meet the Quinns in Mill Valley. He was a retired Navy man.

Mrs. Sooy had worked about one and one-half years at the Bon Air pharmacy in Greenbrae, where she sold cosmetics and also handled the post office. She previously sold cosmetics at Macy's in San Rafael and Mayer's in Mill Valley.

A friend with whom she rode to work, Mrs. John R. Loser of 44 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, said she had dropped Mrs. Sooy off at her home at about 6:15 last night. She did not seem to be particularly upset.

"She was deathly afraid of her husband—there was nothing that could change that fear," Mrs. Loser said. "Sooy wanted a reconciliation but Jean didn't."

Mrs. Joe M. Smith, of 126 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, who also rode in Mrs. Loser's car, said: "Jean was petrified of him. She wanted her locks changed on her doors but couldn't get anybody to do it because she couldn't get anybody in the daytime when she was at work."

Huber said the Sooys had lived in Mill Valley about eight years, living downstairs in their house while they were trying to get around to finishing the upstairs.

The marriage to Sooy was the second for his wife. They had no children.

Both bodies were taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

His daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Lahmann of 170 Mission Avenue, where Ponti resided, said her father finished dinner and collapsed in the living room. Firemen applied the resuscitator for 15 minutes until a doctor arrived and pronounced Ponti dead at 8:05 p.m.

The doctor said Ponti apparently suffered a heart attack.

Construction Spending Slightly Off In 1960

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Construction spending in 1960 totaled 55 billion dollars, down 2 per ecnt from 1959 and the first decline since World War II, the Commerce Department reported today.

It indicated the chief cause of the drop was a slide of 2.4 billion dollars in private home buildings. This and other decreases more than offset a rise of 1.1 billion dollars in non-residential construction.

In December, the department said, construction activity declined seasonally—about 9 per cent. The December level of 4.4 billion dollars was about 1 per cent less than in December, 1959.

The decline for the full year was predicted by the department last month when it also forecast 1961 outlays would rise to a record 57.3 billion dollars.

For 1960 the department reported increases in the following construction lines: Industrial 36 per cent, commercial 3 per cent, other non-residential 9 per cent and public utilities 5 per cent.

Government-financed construction declined 1 per cent overall, with cutbacks in housing, military facilities and highways. Government outlays increased for sewer and water systems and conservation and development.

Total private construction outlays this year came to $38,956,000,000, down 2 per cent from 1959. Public spending totaled $16,257,000,000, down 1 per cent.

Flying Pellets Crack Windows

Flying pellets have been cracking windshields and light bulbs in various parts of the county, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Richard Queirolo of 25 Castle Rock Drive, Mill Valley, showed investigators a broken pane of glass in the dining alcove of his home. The damage indicated pellets may have struck the window.

Mrs. Wilma R. Zepp of 18 Shields Lane, Novato, reported that an object cracked the windshield of a pickup truck she was driving along Wilson Avenue yesterday.

Charles D. Vey of 134 Almenary Drive, Greenbrae, complained that someone had shot out a floodlight which lights up his Christmas decorations.

Kennedy Gets Hawaii By 115 Ballots

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official recount in Hawaii has tipped the newest state to President-elect John F. Kennedy by 115 votes.

That gives Kennedy 303 electoral votes to 219 for Vice President Richard M. Nixon; 269 were needed to win. Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D.-Va.) got 15.

With Hawaii's new totals, announced yesterday more than seven weeks after the election, the final national popular vote goes like this:

Kennedy 34,221,531.

Nixon 34,108,474.

Plurality for Kennedy: 113,057 out of a total vote of 68,832,778. Other candidates got a total of 502,773, so that Kennedy's total still is less than a majority of all the popular votes.

Nixon at first had been listed as the winner in Hawaii by 141 votes. But Democrats gained a recount of all its precincts by citing errors in the certified returns.

With Hawaii finally settled, Kennedy carried 23 states; Nixon carried 26. Mississippi's eight unpledged votes went to Byrd, who also received six electoral votes from Alabama and one from Oklahoma.

Abolish Probe Group, Teacher Union Urges

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The AFL-CIO California Teachers Federation last night called for abolition of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The teachers, at their annual convention, charged the committee with "reckless accusations, trial by headlines, abuse of persons for sensational publicity and procedures that deny the accused the protection of basic human rights."

The teachers also charged that racial discrimination exists in California in assignment of teachers and in determining school boundaries.

A resolution urged that all teachers within a school system be assigned without reference to race or religion, and called upon school boards and superintendents to take the lead in ending racial barriers.

The House Un-American Activities Committee was called a "continuing discredit to our country," and charged with "irreparable harm" to the teaching profession.

The committee subpoenaed 93 California teachers in 1959, but most were never called to testify. Several have been fired.

The convention also attacked the committee's film "Operation Abolition," charging it is a distorted account of student protests against a committee hearing in San Francisco last May.

"The CFT recommends that if this film is shown the opposing viewpoint should be presented," a resolution said.

Other resolutions:

Commended President-elect John F. Kennedy for his support of federal aid to education and renewed pleas for aid both for teachers' salaries and classroom construction.

Endorsed recommendations of a citizens advisory commission on education urging high standards for teacher training, pay credit for advanced study and a greater voice for teachers in setting classroom policy and selecting textbooks.

Recommended that teachers be allowed to choose or reject television as an educational aid.

Urged that new teachers be kept as free as possible from administrative chores, special assignments, night work and preparations for numerous different classes.

Youth Delivering Papers Cited For Noisy Muffler

More than a dozen irate residents of the Sun Valley area in San Rafael called police early today complaining of a motor scooter with noisy mufflers awakening them about 5:30 a.m.

Police Officer Richard Douglas stopped 17-year-old Timothy H. Saladin of 173 Terrace Avenue, San Rafael, at Mission Avenue and H Street. The scooter's muffler was missing.

Less than half an hour later, police received more calls of muffler noise and picked up the same youth in the 2300 block of Fifth Avenue. This time they confiscated the scooter until the muffler could be replaced.

The youth, who was delivering a San Francisco newspaper, was cited for speeding and noisy muffler.

Fire Chief Gets Raise In Larkspur

Larkspur City Council by a 3-to-1 vote last night approved pay raises for Fire Chief George Bartram and Asst. Fire Chief Claire Harder.

Effective Sunday, the chief's salary will increase from $556 to $584 per month. Harder's salary will go from $481 to $505 per month.

Councilman Lesly A. Daveler opposed the raises. "I feel both men, having done an excellent job, are doing what I expect of them. It is difficult for me to justify any change at this time," he said.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon was absent.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper, in a letter to councilmen recommending the pay raises, noted that both Bartram and Harder had served in their capacities officially six months and unofficially almost a year. "Both have done an excellent job of organization, revitalizing and planning for the department and its expansion problems," he wrote. He said there was money available in the budget for the raises.

Both the chief and his assistant work a 40-hour week with standby duty nights and weekends.

Piper commented on the good general attitude in the fire department. He noted that on Christmas 15 volunteers turned out for a fire at 5 a.m. It was an "exceptional" kind of turnout for volunteers, he said.

August Timothy Hatch of Suisun, developer of the Nonpareil, Neplus and IXL almonds, is considered the "father" of California's commercial almond industry.

San Rafael's Mayor To Be On TV Show

John F. McInnis of San Rafael will be one of four Bay Area mayors who will participate tonight on a television in a discussion of the proposed association of Bay Area governments.

The discussion will be heard at 9:30 p.m. on the "Profile: Bay Area" program on KQED (Channel 9).

Participating with McInnis will be Mayors George Christopher of San Francisco, Claude Hutchinson of Berkeley and Paul Moore of San Jose.

The mayors are also expected to touch upon such other subjects as rapid transit, urban renewal, redevelopment and tax rates during the half-hour show.

Joint Session Planned On Daveler's Ideas

Larkspur City Council took a brief look last night at Councilman Lesly A. Daveler's list of "things helpful in establishing a planning program" for the city.

The five-page list outlines in "skeleton" form Daveler's suggestions of items to guide Larkspur's planning — to "give us something to shoot at."

Councilmen decided to call for a joint meeting with the planning commission and use Daveler's list as a basis for discussions. Jan. 18 was suggested as date for the session.

Daveler noted that some of the items on his list were not new, and may already be in the works. City Manager Ronald E. Piper said he would provide comment on the status of some of the items before the joint session is held.

Daveler's list suggests compilation of a handbook outlining established planning policies and responsibilities. Various maps should be obtained, including those for accepted streets, Larkspur and Kentfield school districts, Kentfield Fire District, lighting districts, post office delivery area and others. These would help in defining neighborhoods with related interests, Daveler said.

He also recommended that street names should be studied and some sort of pattern developed.

Among policy matters, Daveler urged there be no "after the fact" variances, no more septic tanks and no drainage across sidewalks.

There is need for additional ordinances on trailers, trees, gutter obstructions and signs, he said.

Other matters that should be discussed, Daveler said, were how to get Larkspur surveyed, how to better the appearance of the downtown area, how to increase the areas served by the Larkspur Post Office, adjustments to the zoning ordinance, new subdivision ordinance (already in the works), road standards, master street circulation plan, revised cut and fill ordinance (being studied), public improvement plan, recreation, tree planting, public service, master drainage and street lighting plans.

Two Girls, 11, Steal At Store

Two Novato girls, aged 11, were caught yesterday at Lee Brothers Market, loaded down with $8.50 worth of items they had shoplifted from the store.

Ronald Lipe, manager of the market at 950 Seventh Street, called the sheriff at 3:30 p.m. Sgt. Edward Levine found Lipe holding the two girls at the store.

The youngsters tried to walk out with lipsticks, eyebrow pencils, vitamins, pen, colored pencils, and two ice cream bars, Lipe told Sergeant Levine.

The store manager said one of the girls was caught shoplifting only three weeks ago. At that time, he called the girl's parents and turned her over to the mother. This time, he called the sheriff.

The girls were reprimanded and cited to appear before probation officers next week.

PATERNITY SUIT—Dennis Crosby, 26, sits in court in Los Angeles so the jury can compare his physical appearance with that of the child held on Mrs. Marilyn Scott's lap. The jury decided the child was his. (AP Wirephoto)

Jury Declares Dennis Crosby Father Of Divorcee's Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bing Crosby's son Dennis has been declared the father of a girl born out of wedlock three years ago to a Hollywood divorcee.

"Well, I expected it," said the son of the famous singer after the 9-3 verdict was returned Wednesday in Superior Court.

"We've won, honey," rejoiced Marilyn Miller Scott, picking up her daughter, Denise, the girl whose paternity was at issue.

Seven women and two men on the jury, composed entirely of parents, found that the prematurely bald Crosby fathered the girl at Mrs. Scott's apartment in February of 1957. Since this was a civil and not a criminal action, a unanimous verdict was not required.

Crosby, 26, and Mrs. Scott, 28, were instructed to return to court Tuesday. At that time the court could determine the amount Crosby will have to pay for the child's support. But this could be delayed by an appeal.

Notary Commissions

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of notary public commissions to Natalie Mazzoni, P.O. Box 25, Novato, and Arthur Hofmann, 65 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo.

Year-End Report Due In Larkspur

Larkspur residents may soon receive a year-end report about their city from their councilmen.

The city council last night agreed that the idea of Councilman Lesly A. Daveler for such a report to the people was a good one. City Manager Ronald E. Piper will write a booklet and submit it to councilmen for suggestions.

Daveler said the report might include credit and thanks to persons serving on various city committees; a semi-annual fiscal statement; comments on city policies, and information on "things brewing that may see the light of day next year."

Piper noted that a three-year report was made last year, covering the period that city manager government had been in operation. He said no annual report had been put out because it was agreed that the money could be used somewhere else.

"I'm not thinking of anything pretentious," said Daveler. "The thing is to get the information to the people. It's not important whether it looks pretty."

Council discussed the remaining 11 items of an original 19-item list which Daveler wanted on the agenda. The discussions produced this information and comment:

1. Piper reported that the draft of the 1958 uniform building code for adoption by the city has been completed and is being checked. It was referred to the Marin Builders Assn. and Plumbers' Assn. for comments, he said. The city is now operating under the 1955 building code.

2. Daveler learned that the "board of appeals" body referred to in the 1955 uniform building code is composed of the city council members.

3. Piper reported the recent change in meeting nights for the planning commission will help the city hall office staff in its preparation for the meetings.

4. Councilmen agreed that council agenda should be prepared on the Monday before the meeting, but they would welcome it on Friday. They also agreed that two meetings a month apparently would be necessary for the "foreseeable future," but set no definite schedule for the second meeting.

5. City Clerk Helen S. Wilson reported she would try to get the minutes completed earlier. Councilmen suggested some sections of the minutes could be summarized to shorten them.

6. Daveler expressed concern about "minimum standards" for zoning and said, "if we make our minimum standards too low, the development of the town could follow just what the law allows and nobody will put in anything more." Councilmen agreed that the problem should be studied by Daveler's zoning ordinance committee.

Firehouse Site Accepted By Larkspur

Larkspur City Council last night accepted the deed to a portion of the site for its second firehouse just off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on Eliseo Drive.

The 100-by-200-foot lot was donated to the city by the Bon Air Development Co. The council also accepted the Eliseo Drive right-of-way from the company.

Niels Schultz Jr., head of the development firm, said the balance of the site will be conveyed to the city after Jan. 1.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper said plans for the new firehouse will be completed about Feb. 1. The city expects to call for bids about April 1 and award a contract about May 1, he said. Construction should be well under way by the new fiscal year which begins July 1, Piper noted.

Cost of the building is estimated at $35,000 exclusive of equipment. Piper said last month that donation of the land would save the city from $25,000 to $30,000.

WOMAN SUES GYM FOR TOSS OFF MACHINE

A San Anselmo woman is suing Vic Tanny Gym and Health Club in San Rafael for $50,000 damages, charging that a revolving reducing machine bucked her off last May.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Harman, an office worker, filed the damage suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court. She says she bought a life membership in the club two years ago. Last May 9, she went to the gym and was given permission to use the reducing machine, but received no instruction on how to operate it. She mounted the machine, turned on the control and was bounced off the gadget onto the floor, she asserts.

She claims negligence and carelessness on the part of the Vic Tanny Gym and its operators.

Painter Breaks Back Leaping From Scaffold

Garnet A. Pickrel, 57-year-old San Rafael painter, suffered a fractured back and right ankle yesterday when he leaped from a falling 18-foot scaffold to the cement floor of the Bekins Van and Storage Co. warehouse south of San Rafael.

"He is lucky to be alive," officials at San Rafael General Hospital said. They reported his condition as satisfactory.

Pickrel, of 9 Taylor Street, was working atop the scaffolding in the new warehouse at 25 Bellam Boulevard when the mishap occurred about 11:35 a.m.

When other workmen started to roll the heavy iron scaffold to a new location, one of the wheels came off and the scaffold toppled.

Pickrel told Police Officer John Rosentangle he leaped from the scaffold to keep from being crushed under it. He landed on the cement slab flooring and was taken to the hospital by United Ambulance.

Planners To Consider Fishing Platform

Elephant Rock's future—whether as fishing platform or just a Tiburon landmark as heretofore—is expected to be considered by the Marin County Planning Commission Jan. 9.

County Supervisor-elect J. Walter Blair of Mill Valley, prime mover in the effort to create a memorial to 11-year-old Robert Keener of Mill Valley who perished in a fishing accident Oct. 1 in Tiburon, today identified the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce as the actual sponsor and said it was preparing the necessary application to start things before the planners.

"All a misunderstanding" was his analysis of violation of last Friday's stop-order, a finding to which no objection was interposed by officials since work had stopped.

But before this truce was reached, and bacause work was in progress as late as 11 a.m. yesterday, Building Inspector Otto Meyer had given preliminary facts to Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, who was preparing to issue a show-cause citation preliminary to criminal complaint charging violation of county ordinances.

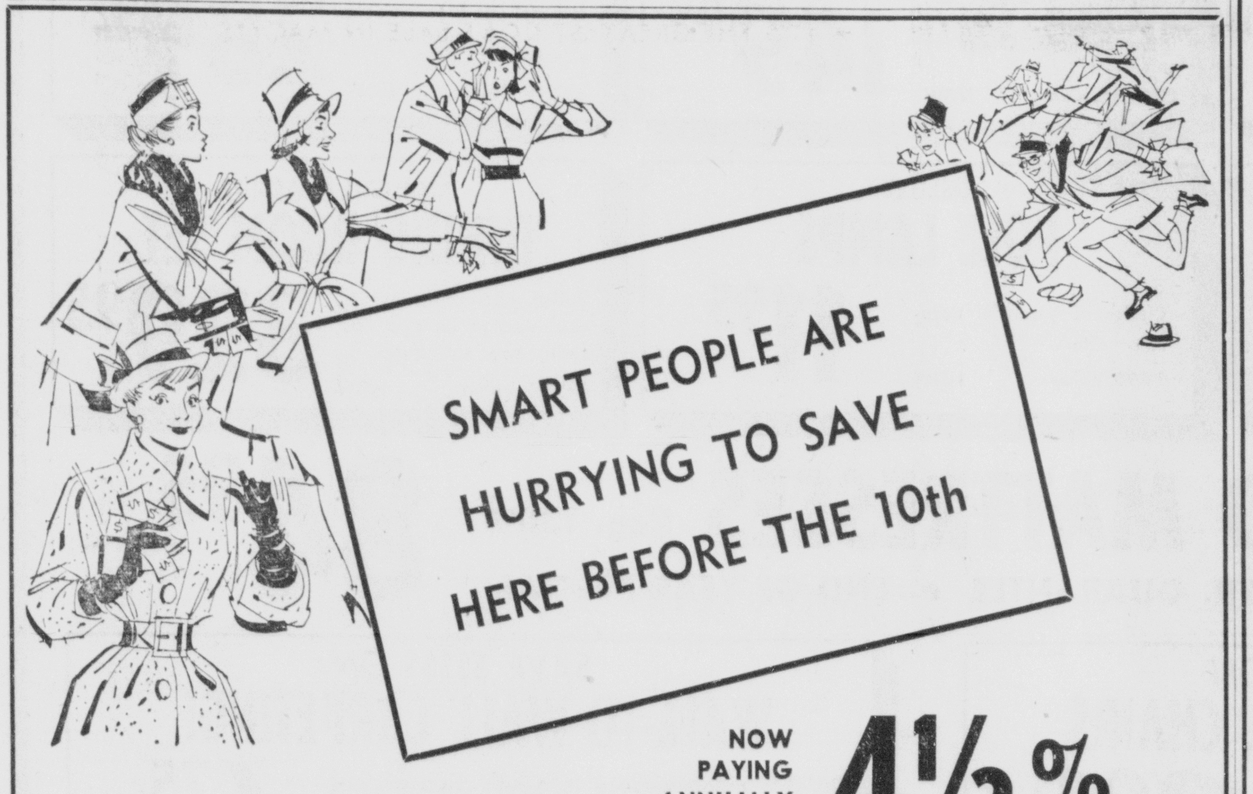

Meyer later said he was satisfied to let Garety drop action. Meanwhile, Planning Director Mary Summers talked with the Tiburon chamber's former president, Robert A. Sterling, who promised to send application in time for the planning commission's Jan. 9 meeting.

Nature of the application, Mrs. Summers said, will be a request for setting aside of requirement to file a master plan and to allow construction of a catwalk and platform around the rock—work already started.

If the commission approves, a permit can next be obtained from the building inspector. Opposition of local residents before the planners is expected.

"I do not want to be connected with anything illegal but I feel these fishing spots for youngsters should be started throughout the Bay area," said Blair.

He said that dedication of the Elephant Rock fishing spot will not be held as planned at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 10 because it will be impossible to complete all official requirements to go ahead with the work by that time.

Democrats Asked To Support Gov. Brown In Legislature

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Hugh M. Burns, Senate president pro tem, called on majority Democrats today to get behind Gov. Edmund G. Brown in the legislative session that begins Monday.

The Fresno Democrat demurred right off, however, on any administration proposal to outlaw the death penalty. He gave notice he would oppose it.

Capital punishment, tied in with the Caryl Chessman case, was a stormy issue in the legislature's 1960 special session. A repeal bill was defeated.

Brown has not spoken out directly but Burns said the governor has indicated he will renew his attempt to close down the gas chamber.

"This would bring forth another fight," said Burns, "and in my opinion the legislators would reject it, as they have in the past."

Aside from the death penalty, the Senate leader said that apparently the governor's program will be "a modest one and, in my estimation, a logical one." He said in an interview:

"It's the responsibility of the Democrats in the legislature to give Governor Brown all the support possible if the Democratic Party is to keep faith with the voters.

"This is especially important in view of the 1962 elections."

The Democrats hold majorities in both houses. All state constitutional officers, as well as most legislators and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), will be up for election in 1962.

Burns declared a balanced budget must have top priority in the coming session.

"Holding the line on extension of state services will be necessary if we're not going to levy additional taxes," he said.

"The governor maintains there will be no new taxes this coming year and I heartily endorse his position."

Burns was here for a meeting of the Joint Committee on Legislative Procedure, which agreed to a quickie opening day agenda. The state constitution requires the legislature to convene Monday, and the committee wants to make the New Year holiday as painless as possible.

The committee also decided to shorten the bill introduction period from 120 to 110 days, and the period for putting in state departmental bills from 45 to 30 days. This will give the lawmakers more time to vote on legislation.

Be Nice To Snakes

LONDON (UPI) — Tourists to the British colony of Sarawak in Borneo are advised in a colonial information leaflet not to scare snakes.

"Stand aside politely," the leaflet urges, "and give the snake a chance to move away. Do not stare or point. Snakes do not like that."

Tighter Laws Against Dope To Be Urged

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D.-Weaverville) has announced he plans to introduce four bills which would tighten narcotics laws to the 1961 legislature soon after it convenes next week.

Regan, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said the proposals include provisions for:

1. Increase of minimum penalties for narcotics offenders, both users and sellers, and for offenders with prior convictions.

2. Use of any "competent, relative and material evidence" no matter how it is obtained.

3. Registration of all narcotic offenders with sheriffs' or police offices.

4. Protection of informers in narcotics cases.

Regan said the bill providing for use of evidence would include safeguards against false arrests and invasion of civil rights.

37 Anti-Secrecy Bills Slated For Legislature

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assembly Speaker Ralph M. Brown said today he plans to introduce 37 anti-secrecy in government bills in the 1961 legislature.

The Modesto Democrat said the bills mainly would affect special commissions appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and a number of new agencies created by the 1959 and 1960 legislatures.

The anti-secrecy bills are designed to open all commission and agency meetings to the public except those involving personnel matters.

Brown expected to be elected speaker of the lower house again when the legislature convenes next week, was author of the original Brown Act requiring all local government meetings to be open to the press and public.

Since then he has authored 87 separate bills to open the meetings of state commissions and agencies. The laws have been copied by other states as model legislation.

Brown said the 37 bills will just about wind up his drive against secrecy in government. But if any other agencies are found without such safeguards written into the law, he will introduce anti-secrecy bills on them, too.

Among the agencies and commissions to be affected by the new series of bills are:

Fair Employment Practices Commission, Office of the Atomic Energy Coordinator, the State Consumer Counsel, Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, Economic Development Agency, Fairs Allocation and Classification Committee, State Colleges Board of Trustees, Coordinating Council for Higher Education, determinations committee of the Fish and Game Commission, the Division of Savings and Loan and the Governor's Commission on Narcotics.

Near San Francisco are six of the richest agricultural valleys in California.

10-Per Center Mortgage Bill To Be Introduced

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The 1961 legislature will be asked to tighten state regulation of firms advertising 10 per cent returns to buyers of second mortgages.

The bills proposed yesterday would put in receivership any firm whose legality is questioned, would penalize "false and misleading" ads, and would add manpower to agencies keeping watch on the firms.

They were proposed by Assemblyman Richard Hanna (D-Garden Grove) and are based on a report of an Assembly group he heads which has been investigating the so-called "10 per centers."

Hanna said records of the firms would be under constant state surveilance and if the records raised any question about the legality of operations, a receiver would be appointed.

Currently, he said, the state can't examine a firm's books until it becomes obvious that the company is in trouble.

Hanna said he also will ask that state standards be set up for record keeping.

Several bills regulating "10 per centers" were passed by the 1960 legislature, after an investigation by the legislature and the State Real Estate Division.

Fairfax Man Again Minister; He's Had Many Careers

Henry R. Sanborn of Fairfax, who carved careers in the ministry, the military, magazine publishing and civil service, is returning to his first love; the ministry.

Sanborn is now again Rev. Henry R. Sanborn, an ordained priest of the Episcopal Church.

This restores a title he vacated in 1927, when he left the position of archdeacon of southern Alaska at Ketchikan to leave Alaska and re-enter the Army.

Sanborn had served in the Army in World War I. After that service, he studied for the ministry and was ordained in the Episcopal Church. His decision to leave the position of archdeacon in Alaska, he said, was because "I couldn't stand the climate."

In 1931, as a lieutenant colonel, Sanborn retired from active service. He served subsequently in reserve status in military intelligence.

In 1935-37, he attained note as publisher of the American Citizen, a San Francisco monthly which attacked and exposed Communist infiltration.

His fourth career, in civil service, ended with his retirement last month from the Social Security Administration office in San Francisco.

Meantime, however, Sanborn had applied for readmission to the Episcopal ministry. This required approval of the present bishop of Alaska and of the bishops of adjacent dioceses.

Under date of Dec. 9, Rt. Rev. William J. Gordon Jr., the present bishop of Alaska, wrote to Sanborn: "It is my great pleasure to tell you that as of Dec. 9, 1960 you have been restored to the priesthood and your status is that of a retired priest of the Missionary District of Alaska."

Bishop Gordon also notified Bishop James A. Pike of the Episcopal Diocese of California, who reported receiving the notification Dec. 19 and wrote Sanborn welcoming him back into the priesthood.

Bishop Pike issued a temporary license to Sanborn to officiate within the California Diocese. Permanent credentials await receipt of letters dimissory from the bishop of Alaska, he said.

Rev. Sanborn said he has no definite plan for his future in the field he left 33 years ago.

"I will serve wherever assigned by Bishop Pike," he said.

Billboards Assailed

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—A University of Wisconsin professor testified yesterday that billboards are "the most serious detrimental feature to our environment."

The testimony came from Leo Jackobson, professor of civil engineering and an institutional planner, during a Dane County Circuit Court trial to test the constitutionality of a 1959 state law restricting billboards on interstate highways.

APPEAL ON KTIM

Announcer Sparks Fund For Sick Girl

By KARL BARRON

The little girl in Richmond had an affliction curable only by specialized surgery.

The doctor in Philadelphia had pioneered in this field of surgery, and could cure her, he thought.

But between them—2,000 miles and $3,000.

That's how it was five weeks ago with 3-year-old Regina DeVille. Her parents, Emile and Lorraine, had been told by doctors that Regina's only hope for a normal life—and perhaps life itself—was an operation that cost far more than DeVille, a mechanic, could hope to raise.

OLLIE FREEMAN
His voice brought hope

The surgeon, Dr. Julian Sterling of the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, said the operation could be performed for a minimum cost of $3,000.

Regina was born with an obstruction of the bile duct, known as billary artresia. The condition does not allow proper drainage of bile fluid and eventually results in a severe toxic condition and death.

The DeVilles appealed to a Richmond newspaper and a San Francisco TV station. They received some publicity, lots of sympathy, but little cash.

Then Mrs. DeVille went to Ollie Freeman, graying proprietor of the Jazzland Record Shop in North Richmond and for 11 years "The Gospel Traveler" on radio station KTIM in San Rafael.

Five Sundays ago Freeman voiced a request for funds. The next day more than $300 flooded into his shop.

The broadcaster then teamed up with Rev. John Spearman, pastor of St. Peter's CME Church in Richmond. Spearman set up a bank fund in Regina's name and his wife, Gloria, organized a "mother's march" which netted $1,000.

An East Bay weekly, the California Voice, devoted front page space for three weeks to Freeman's campaign.

On Christmas morning, KTIM listeners heard Freeman say: "You have given over $4,300 to save Regina's life. We don't need any more money." He then read a card from Mrs DeVille, saying she, her husband and Regina had arrived in Philadelphia, and were waiting for the operation to be performed.

"There is one thing more that you still can give," Freeman concluded, "and that is your prayers."

Yesterday, Dr. Sterling operated. United Press International reported from Philadelphia that the operation itself was successful, but that several days would be needed to tell whether the desired effect was achieved. Sterling's surgery involves placement of a number of silver tubes to function for the closed duct, and time is needed to check their efficiency.

The DeVilles' other children, Rene, 7, and Simone, 4, were being cared for by friends. DeVille's employer, Remington-Rand Corp. of Vallejo, allowed him time off to make the trip.

And today those who had given—and prayed—kept up their prayers that the next story from Philadelphia would read "operation completely successful."

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL—Regina DeVille of Richmond, victim of a birth defect which threatened her life, underwent successful surgery this week in Philadelphia—thanks largely to the effores of Ollie Freeman, KTIM radio broadcaster who started a campaign that raised more than $4,000 to make the operation possible. New Marinite To Share Big Bequest

Harry J. Lehman Jr., a new Marin resident who picked this county as his home after survey of the whole United States, will share a $2,383,491 bequest with his sister.

News came today by Associated Press from Buffalo, N.Y., where the figure was set through state appraisal of the gross estate of Lehman's father, the late Harry J. Lehman, founder and president of the Wildroot Co. until it was merged last year with Colgate-Palmolive Co.

The estate will be divided between the son and one daughter, Mrs. Betty L. Oppenheimer of Buffalo.

Now living in a rented home at 238 Evergreen Avenue, Kentfield, with his wife and a young son and daughter, Lehman has a new luxurious house under construction in Kent Woodlands.

A friend of the family said today they are away skiing for a few days.

Formerly residents of Buffalo, they came to the conclusion that some better spot could be found and they undertook it in systematic style, it was learned. First they traveled throughout the United States, inspecting every area of promise. This resulted in a decision to settle in Marin.

Yule Spotlights Stolen At Home

Three spotlights used to illuminate Christmas decorations were stolen from a home in Terra Linda, the owner reported to the sheriff yesterday.

Robert L. Griffith of 730 Bamboo Terrace said he had turned out the outdoor spotlights about 7:30 Tuesday night. Yesterday morning, the lights had vanished.

In Lucas Valley, Mrs. Josephine Deber-Vanzo of 2151 Danberry Lane found a window in her bedroom broken with what appears to be BB's or pellets.

Lucky May Have Discount Marketing

SAN LEANDRO (UPI)—Lucky Stores Inc. may expand its closed-door discount marketing into Northern California, according to President Gerald A. Awes.

Awes said the grocery chain has acquired controlling interest in Gemco, a membership department store in Anaheim for an undisclosed amount of cash. He said sites are being surveyed in Northern California, as well as Southern California, for additional stores.

The Anaheim store will include a complete supermarket, plus a pharmacy and snack bar. Awes said customers would be charged $1 per year membership fee.

Awes said this type of food marketing is currently increasing in the East.

"The trend is moving west, and Lucky management feels it imperative to meet competition of this type with prompt and aggressive action" he said.

Court Upholds Death Sentence Of Robillard

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court today unanimously upheld a murder conviction and death sentence of Alexander Robillard, 20.

Robillard was sentenced for shooting Hillsborough policeman Gene Doran Aug. 5, 1959, on a lonely San Mateo County road. Doran had stopped Robillard, who was driving a stolen car, early in the morning to question him.

The high court said Robillard had acted "coldly, dispassionately and mercilessly" in ruling that the youth was properly found guilt of murder in the first degree.

The court rejected arguments that San Mateo County Superior Judge Frank B. Blum had admitted prejudicial evidence and permitted the prosecutor to make prejudicial arguments.

Robillard was the first person to be sentenced to death in the county in more than 60 years.

His case came to the supreme court on automatic review and today's ruling clears the way for Judge Blum to set Robillard's date with the San Quentin Prison gas chamber.

Cellmate Stabs Felon To Death At Prison

A Mexican-born San Quentin Prison convict died yesterday from 15 knife wounds inflicted by his cellmate of 10 days.

Killed was Ezequiel Martinez, 27, a narcotics peddler serving from five years to life.

His assailant, who claimed he killed his cellmate in self-defense, was Henry L. Quiroz, 26, a two-time loser serving from five years to life for a Los Angeles County robbery in 1958.

Quiroz told Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety that Martinez attacked him with the knife for no apparent reason. He took the knife from Martinez, he said, and struck back to save his own life.

He insisted they had been "good friends," adding he had been teaching Martinez to speak English during the short time they had been cellmates.

He had no explanation for the fact that he stabbed his alleged attacker 15 times.

Martinez' screams were heard at 5:40 p.m. by Sgt. G. E. Moore, who rushed to the second gallery of the east cellblock to find the bleeding man lying face up on the cell floor, his head against the bars.

Quiroz, who was standing over his victim, surrendered a filed-down dinner knife, presumably taken from the prison dining hall.

Martinez was dead by the time a medical officer reached the cell.

It was the dead man's first prison term, according to Associate Warden Louis S. Nelson. He was convicted of selling heroin in Imperial County last August and had been in San Quentin only since Nov. 8.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said several of the 15 wounds were serious with at least one deep wound in the abdomen.

Quiroz was in isolation today after being questioned by Garety and Investigator Donald E. Midyett.

Court Delays Assault Case

A preliminary hearing for a Richmond garbage man, suspected of raping a Mill Valley school teacher two weeks ago, was postponed today until next Wednesday because the victim is in Idaho on vacation.

Lemone Brown, 33, of Richmond, who works in Mill Valley for a garbage company, is accused of raping the 32-year-old woman and taking her purse with $40 in cash on Dec. 17.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set 10 a.m. next Wednesday as the time for preliminary hearing.

Army Secretary Due For Presidio Talk

Secretary of the Army William M. Brucker was scheduled to land at Hamilton Air Force Base this afternoon, on his way to the Presidio of San Francisco.

General Brucker will address Army men at the post theater and will take off again at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow from Hamilton to begin an Alaskan Army tour.

New Savings, Loan Office Set To Open

Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn., a newly organized firm, will open an office in the Corte Madera Shopping Center soon.

The State Division of Savings and Loan has approved the application of the company and turned down applications of four other firms seeking to establish savings and loan businesses in the center, it was learned today.

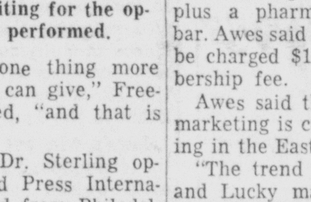

Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn. has seven Marin men as proposed incorporators and directors. They are N. John Anton of Kent Woodlands, Edward W. Bullard Jr. of Ross, Preston A. Jones of San Rafael, Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael, George R. Scott of Mill Valley, Walter E. Terry of Kentfield and Judge Joseph G. Wilson of San Rafael. Roger Kent of Kentfield will be attorney for the association.

Scott, who heads the building and construction trades council in Marin, said today the directors will meet early in January, elect officers, pass bylaws, set up procedures and decide on an opening date.

A spokesman in the state savings and loan office said all approvals are contingent on meeting certain requirements.

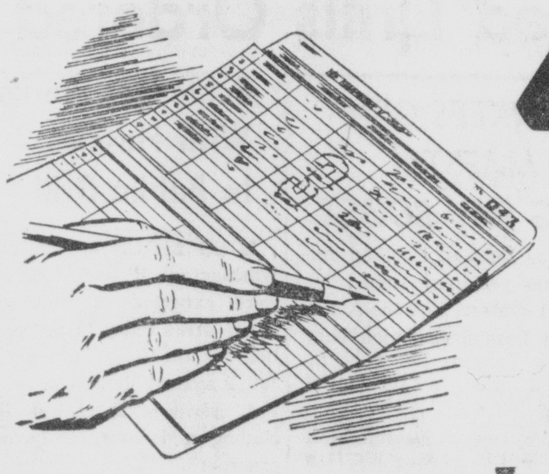

The commissioner turned down applications of the Corte Madera Savings and Loan Assn., another new firm, and of three established firms in Oakland and San Francisco, seeking to open branch offices in Corte Madera.

Pro Leagues Launch All-Out Money War For Gridders

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A dollar war that is spelling money in the bank for college gridders is being waged in the pro football ranks today with the Shrine East-West training camps the center of activity.

Several dozen scouts and other officials from the National, American and Canadian football leagues are camped on the doorsteps of the athletes—all waving contracts with greenbacks attached.

"It's a dandy," said one college coach who does not wish to become involved. "There's a man with a pro contract in his hand under every bush.

"It looks like a real money war is shaping up. It never was like this in other years here. The fight for football talent is really on."

The big bout is expected to be in Texas. The Dallas Cowboys of the National League and the Dallas Texans of the American League both have drafted linebacker E. J. Holub of Texas Tech and tackle Bob Lilly of Texas Christian. With millionaires backing both clubs, the chances are strong that the two towering athletes will come out of the bidding with an oil well or two, each.

Another fight is shaping up between the millions behind the Los Angeles Chargers and the well-heeled San Francisco 49ers. These two clubs both drafted Jim Johnson and Bill Kilmer from UCLA.

Sideline observers claim that the war between the old All-America Conference and the National League just after World War II never was anything like this.

While the All-America had some solid financial citizens behind it, it didn't have the money that is behind the American League.

Most of the athletes are playing it cozy—most are mum on their plans.

"I want to play in Texas," Lilly said before the National League draft. "I want to settle some place in Texas and I'm looking to the future after my playing days are over."

With both clubs drafting him, he'll get that wish.

Mike Ditka, the All-America from Pitt, has been drafted by both Houston of the American League and the Chicago Bears of the National.

"The Houston people have been very nice to me and have made an enticing offer," said Ditka. "But I'll wait and see what the Bears come up with. It's a big step and I want to make sure I do the right thing."

Lamar Hunt, who is supposed to have more millions than most people have hair, is on the scene attempting to sign men for his Dallas Texans.

He visited the training camp of the East team at Santa Clara University—but was refused admittance.

And the story going the rounds today is that he was so miffed that he went out and bought the university and kicked everybody off the campus except the football players—just so he could watch the boys practice.

And that's the kind of money that is talking to the college football players these days.

Oakland, Sacramento Ruled Out As Possible Sites For New A.L. Team

CONNOLLY

The surest and perhaps the only way the American League can succeed in its efforts to stay up with the National League is to get another club in California. But where?

Outside of San Jose territory I can't even begin to think of a town where big league ball could succeed. And San Jose isn't a cinch.

Sacramento just flipped itself out of circulation; Fresno may or may not be a rival, but San Jose could. Down thataway big business is sprouting and its near enough to the big cities to be handy.

I once thought Oakland would make it big league, but I'm convinced now that the Raider football team flopped there is no chance ever of the East Bay going first class. It is, and always has been, about 20 cents away from a real city. So why start now to build up a graveyard for American League baseball?

So many big shots of industry and business think they can force a situation on a populace that it takes something like the American Football League to prove how wrong they can be.

I'M NOT rapping the play of the American Football League. I just think they send boys to play where men should be playing.

Joe Cronin, an old fellow alumnus of mine from Sacred Heart College, knows Oakland hasn't got it. He would love to see the East Bay rise up and smote the knockers on the snozz, but it can't be done. They have no ball park, they have no available sites, they haven't got enough real sportsmen over there to carry on.

I know Oakland. I worked there in the plush days when work was plentiful and money was easy to get. Even then Oakland was no paradise. It was strictly a hick town with a big league complex.

San Diego couldn't make money even in the hottest years of its Coast League existence when everyday down there, with the sailors, soldiers and Marines cavorting, seemed like New Year's Eve.

SO IF I've been a little cynical about the American League encroaching on the National League territory, forgive me.

I was here when the people thought San Francisco could support two baseball teams. One of them, the Missions, starved to death and had to move.

So let us hope that in the next few years some city, north or south, comes to life as a big league center. Right now there isn't a town or a semblance of a town, outside of San Jose, where so many canneries, and so forth, make it rich and prosperous and likely to develop into a real baseball center.

WHEN SACRAMENTO folded its tent to baseball, the capital of California suffered a deep wound to its pride.

Sacramento, from the days of the Lew Moering family to now, loved baseball, but each year they had to get support from the other seven clubs to break even.

The Moering family never needed a tag day in business but in the baseball business they had to swallow their pride and take a 60-40 break from visitors, instead of a 50-50 break as the league called for.

West Eleven May Surprise With Spread

STANFORD (UPI)—More and more, it appears that the West will take to the air when it meets the East in the Shrine classic Saturday at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium.

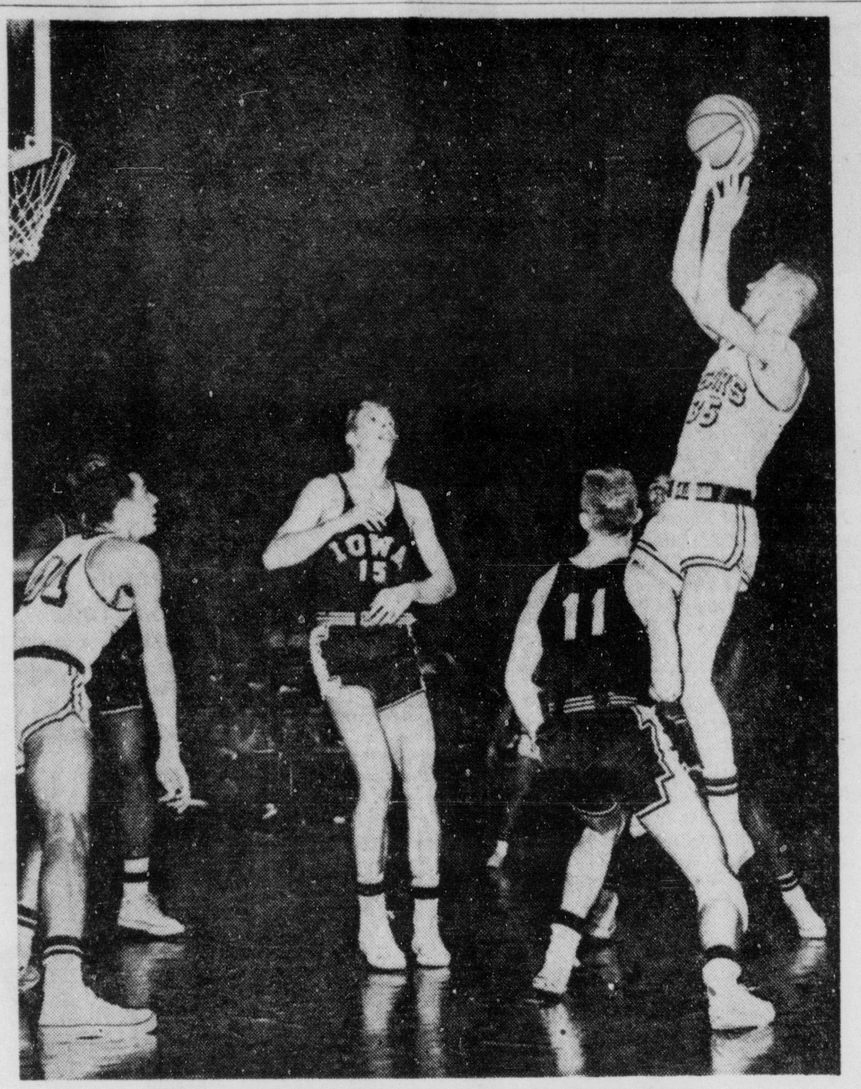

Head Coach Bill Barnes of UCLA has expressed dismay at the East's defensive line, anchored by a pair of 245-pound tackles, Joe Rutgens of Illinois and Ken Rice of Auburn. Both were first round NFL draft choices.

Yesterday, quarterbacks Bill Kilmer and Rich Mayo were throwing the ball all over the lot and on target to a classy crew of receivers.

Moreover, the West has run many of their practices in absolute secrecy, spawning rumors that the West may be considering a spread or flanker attack of some sort.

FOUR CAPTAINS

The Westerners named four captains yesterday for the game. Quarterback Rich Mayo of the Air Force and center E. J. Holub of Texas Tech were named to lead the offensive unit while center Arvie Martin of Texas Christian and guard Carl Kammerer of College of Pacific will lead the defense.

Minnesota In Worst Workout, More Rugged Drills Ordered

No Tapering Off Yet For Gophers In Bowl Tuneup

PASADENA (UPI)—A lethargic performance in practice today prolonged the agony for the Minnesota football team which plays Washington in the Rose Bowl Monday.

Coach Murray Warmath had intended to halt heavy work today and taper off the rest of the way. But after yesterday's workout — called "one of the worst" for the Gophers since coming here — Warmath said he might require another full-scale workout tomorrow.

The Minnesota players got some body contact in tackling and blocking drills yesterday, although there was no all-out scrimmage.

GUARD RETURNS

One promising note was the return of third string guard Bob McNeil, who suited up yesterday and will be ready for the Monday game.

All-America guard Tom Brown insisted he was in good shape, despite reports of blisters on his feet. "I wonder if they're talking about the same guy," said Brown regarding the reports.

The Minnesota team took time out last night to attend the Los Angeles Basketball Classic at the sports arena. The Minnesota basketball team is an entry.

Shoemaker Wins Three

ARCADIA (AP) — Willie Shoemaker rode three winners at Santa Anita, including Het's Pet ($5) in the feature race yesterday.

YANKEES GIVE DE MAESTRI BIG PAY BOOST

Joe DeMaestri of San Anselmo yesterday signed his 1961 contract with the American League champion New York Yankees for what he said was "a substantial raise."

The key utility infielder, who will be playing his 11th season in the major leagues, had contemplated retirement after playing in the World Series, but changed his mind when the Yankees "offered me more than I'd ever been paid before." He did not disclose the sum, but said, "It (the contract) was so good I couldn't turn it down."

DeMaestri, who turned 32 Dec. 9, played in only 49 games last season, but is considered valuable property by the Yankees for his late-inning defensive ability. He was at bat 35 times, collected 8 hits for a .229 average.

He was the first Yankee to sign his 1961 contract, the New York office announced.

Madigan Released From Hospital

OAKLAND (AP) — Slip Madigan, recovering from a Dec. 6 heart attack, was to go home from Providence Hospital today.

Madigan was coach of St. Mary's Gaels when their football teams moved into national prominence in the late '20s and '30s.

Schloredt Works With Huskies In Public Drill

LONG BEACH (UPI) — The Washington Huskies today were expected to wind up heavy drills today in preparation for the Rose Bowl game Jan. 2 against Minnesota.

A crowd of about 500—including midwestern and eastern sports writers — watched the team workout yesterday in its first and only public drill here.

Quarterbacks Bob Hivner and Bob Schloredt both worked with the first team as it ran against the third eleven in a dummy scrimmage. The fourth team, using Minnesota offensive patterns, worked out against the second team.

PUNT TIMING

The Huskies also worked on kickoff and punt timing. Halfback George Fleming was hitting fairly consistently from 20 to 30 yards out in field goal practice.

The team looked in good physical shape and was spirited, but Coach Jim Owens appeared to have them under wraps—apparently not wanting to reveal any secrets which might benefit the Gophers.

Three Seattle area newsmen traveling with the squad said the Huskies showed nothing they might use against Minnesota at Pasadena. The three newsmen were the only "outsiders" who were allowed to watch previous practices.

49ers Get Fast Start With Contracts; Sign 2 Draftees

Coach Red Hickey and the rest of the San Francisco 49er staff returned home last night carrying the names of 26 college players drafted at the recent two-day meeting in Philadelphia.

There's many a slip 'twixt picking a name in the draft and signing a player on the dotted line. The American Football League and Canadian League are also bidding for grid stars.

But the 49ers showed they meant business by promptly signing Dale Fesser, Fresno State halfback, and Aaron Thomas, Oregon State end, to contracts. Both are members of the West squad and are working out at Stanford in preparation for the Shrine classic.

Bill Kilmer and Jim Johnson of UCLA and Charlie Fuller of San Francisco State all said they leaned toward the 49ers unless another team made an offer they could not refuse. All three are backs and also members of the West squad.

BEEFY LINEMEN

The 49ers went for backfield speed in their first nine draft round choices Tuesday. Yesterday's last 11 rounds saw them stress beefy linemen, most of whom were from little known colleges. Draft choices owed from trades resulted in San Francisco drafting 26 players at Philadelphia—more than any other NFL club.

Following are the 49ers' 10th through 20th rounds draft choices in yesterday's concluding session:

MARIN BEATEN BY OAKLAND '5'

Oakland City College's Thunderbirds rolled over the College of Marin Tars 76-42 yesterday in a non-conference basketball tilt at the winners' court.

A strong Thunderbird press defense easily bottled up the Tar scoring, although Lynn Livie managed to tally 21 points for the losers. Ron Blum followed him with 13.

Oakland held a 44-28 halftime lead.

Marin hopes to get back on the win wagon tomorrow night against Santa Rosa at Santa Rosa.

Stockton Builder New Commissioner In Fish And Game

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today appointed Dante J. Nomellini, Stockton builder and sportsman, to the State Fish and Game Commission.

He succeeds Carl F. Wente of San Francisco, whose term expires Jan. 15. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Nomellini, 48, is an active member of Ducks Unlimited, a founder of the Venice Island Hunting Club near Stockton, and a member of the Waterloo Trap and Skeet Club.

In addition to his building business, he owns farming property in San Joaquin County.

Four Overtimes—Cal Finally Bows To Iowa

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Indiana, UCLA, Southern California and Iowa have reached the semi-final round of the Los Angeles Basketball Classic Tournament.

Iowa hurdled the first round with a rousing 83-80 victory yesterday over California in a game that went four overtime periods. Iowa, paced by rangy Don Nelson, had a 40-30 halftime lead, but Cal pulled up to a 62-62 tie after regulation time. Each team got six points in the first overtime period of five minutes; they had eight apiece in the second overtime; went scoreless in the third, and the Hawkeyes outscored the Bears in the fourth 7-4.

Iowa's win put the team in the championship semi-finals at 9 o'clock tonight against Southern California, which outclassed Minnesota 75-52. Southern California was without the services in the second half of its scoring ace, John Rudometkin. He scored 10 points in the first half, then retired because of inroads of the flu. He has been averaging 25 points a game.

Indiana, pre-tournament favorite, was hard pressed to outscore Stanford 58-50, but was ahead of the Indians nearly all the way. Indiana ace Walt Bellamy, the 6-10½ center, scored 20 points, but was matched by Stanford's John Windsor.

Indiana faced the UCLA Bruins in the championship bracket at 3:30 p.m. today. UCLA smothered Michigan State 98-61.

The consolation round had California opposing Minnesota at 1:30 p.m. and Michigan State against Stanford at 7 p.m.

The tournament is being played in the Sports Arena.

Welcome Home To Buck Shaw Today

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Coach Buck Shaw, who was fired in 1954 by the San Francisco 49ers because "he could not win the big ones," returned home in triumph today.

Shaw coached the Philadelphia Eagles to a world championship this year and then announced his retirement.

He was tendered a civic reception at the airport this morning and then received a trophy at Mayor George Christopher's office.

In addition to his nine years as 49er coach, Shaw coached at nearby Santa Clara from 1936-42.

Rams Draft Mike McKeever 13th In Spite Of Injury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the Los Angeles Rams took Trojan guard Mike McKeever yesterday on the 13th round of the National Football League draft they knew he might not get medical clearance to play.

Rams General Manager Elroy Hirsch said Mike faces a series of exams this winter by the Ram medical staff. McKeever underwent an operation midway in the Trojans' season for removal of two tumors on his brain.

Stripers Take Four-Day Vacation, Except In Richardson Bay Waters

STEVENS

Reports that ths San Pablo Bay is frozen over are erroneous. Actually there is no ice at all, except in the bait boxes.

It would seem, though, that a great many avid anglers expect such an occurance to take place any morning. Especially those who venture forth in open skiffs. Grace Quan of China Camp told me only three boats left her place on Monday, and all three came back with stiffened fingers, chattering teeth and no fish.

Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching on Santa Venetia Slough didn't have as many boats out as China Camp, and, like the latter, no bass were taken. Joe did report, however, that the indomitable William Cuneo and his son, Junior, managed to get meat for the table in the form of two mallards, one sprig and three bluebills in their semi-protected duck blind.

On the Contra Costa side of the bay, the rowboat liveries sadly dittoed the reports. At Joseph's Rodeo Resort, several skiffs braved the elements and came in with some nice flounders, but no bass.

THE PARTY boats out of Crockett also found fishing very slow from Friday until Monday. "Some flounders, Steve," reported Hank Dowrelio, "but very few bass came in."

Even the back country spots saw few fishermen and few fish during the four-day "vacation of the bass."

Did I say "vacation"? Well, it does seem that even the fish lost interest in proffered baits during the Christmas days.

And, by the same token, it does seem that the vacation came to an end in at least one area on Monday. Practically every party boat working the Richardson Bay region made the grade.

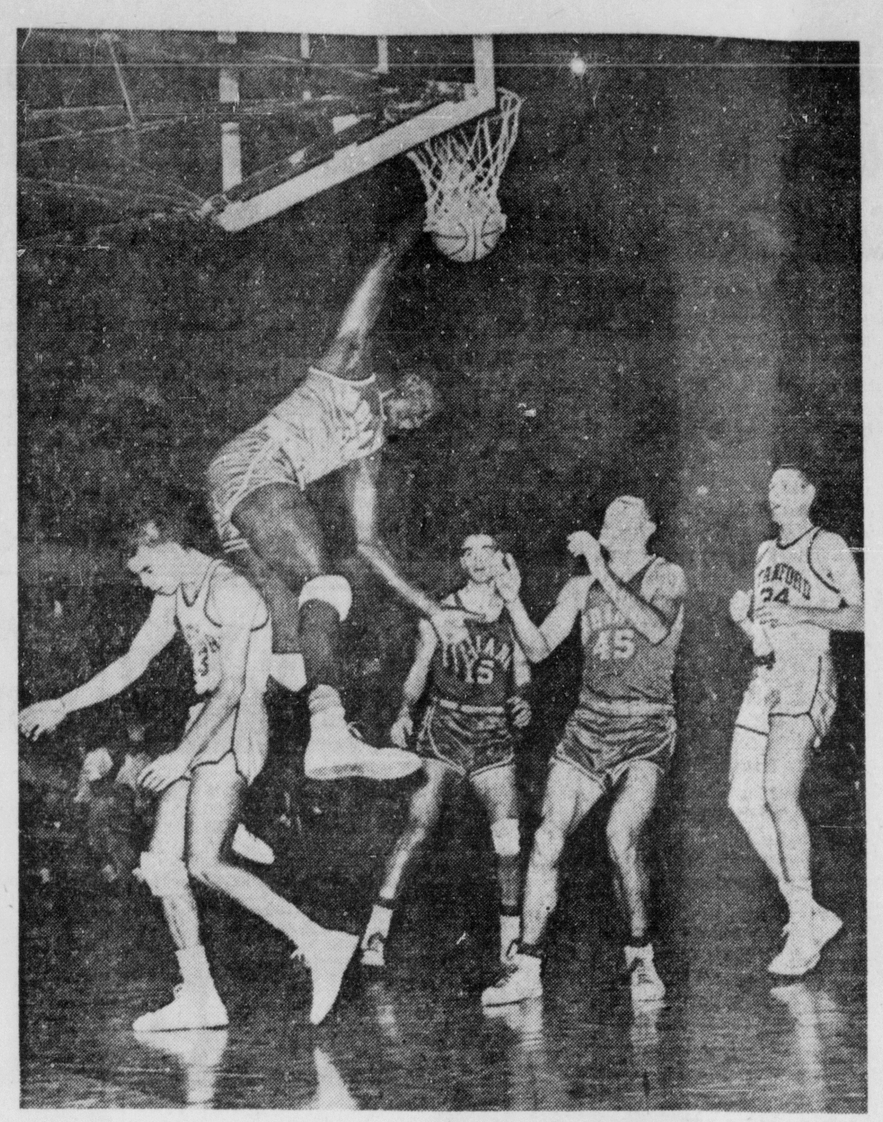

DURING THE last hour and a half of the ebb tide, trolling came to an exciting life in that area. I talked with Red Peterson of the Nine Sisters over the phone on Tuesday. Red had a good sized party aboard his boat and the fish started to hit on the bottom of the tide. The entire party scored limits while using White Bug-eye jigs and two to four-ounce sinkers. Fish ran from seven to 12 pounds. Red Peterson keeps his cruiser at the Berkeley Harbor.

Harold Boenner of Lee Anderson's Bait Shop called to verify the new and strong run of stripers in the Richardson Bay area. Told me that all boats working those waters made the grade with limits. He mention-The R.S.P., the Troller, Pegren and Lucky Day, among others.

BOENNER ALSO reported the well-known Red Ceremelli landing a 13-pound, 10-ounce striper off Snag Island in the Suisun Bay.

From scattered reports I gather that the south coast streams (Monterey and Santa Cruz counties) were teeming with steelheaders, but that very few were seen taken. It's a bit early, at that.

That's it for today, be with you again tomorrow; until then, goodbye, good luck and dress warmly!

Apples Vs. Butter Bet On Rose Bowl

ST. PAUL, Minn., (UPI)—Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman has accepted the suggested wager of Gov. Albert Rosselini of Washington as to the outcome of this year's Rose Bowl.

Gov. Freeman will bet a five-pound tub of Minnesota butter against a bushel of Washington apples that Minnesota beats Washington Jan. 2 in the Pasadena classic.

Rymkus Nips Erdelatz In AFL Coach Of Year Ballot

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lou Rymkus of the Houston Oilers, who learned his football from two of the game's master teachers, today was named the American Football League's Coach-of-the-Year for 1960 by United Press International.

The 41-year-old Rymkus guided the Oilers to the Eastern Division championship of the AFL with a 10-4 record in the league's first season of operation. The Oilers play the Los Angeles Chargers for the league championship next Sunday at Houston.

Rymkus, who was a star guard at Notre Dame under Coach Frank Leahy in 1942 and an All-Pro with the Cleveland Browns under Paul Brown, won the honor in an extremely close poll of 24 writers—three from each league city.

He received 9 votes in the open balloting, compared to 6 for Eddie Erdelatz of the Oakland Raiders and 5 for Sid Gillman of the Chargers. Coach Sammy Baugh of the New York Titans had two votes.

In a league where each team started from scratch, it was difficult to predict accurately which team would come out on top. The fact that the Oilers won their first division was a tribute to Rymkus' coaching and organizational talents.

Throughout the season, Houston proved the most consistent of all AFL clubs. Only one team in the league scored more points than the Oilers' 379 and only one other club yielded less than Houston's 285.

And under circumstances where offense was bound to overshadow defense, the Oilers produced the best overall attack in the new loop. They were tops in passing and third in rushing.

Bill Kilmer Wins Pop Warner Award As Best In West

PALO ALTO (UPI)—Billy Kilmer, UCLA's flashy tailback, was yesterday named 1960 winner of the Pop Warner Award, which annually goes to the "outstanding senior player on the Pacific Coast.

More than 400 sportswriters and sportscasters took part in the balloting.

Kilmer gained 1,889 yards this year to lead the nation. He made 803 rushing and 1,086 passing. He qualified as a classic triple-threater by leading the Big Five in punting with a 42.9 yards per kick average.

He will perform Saturday in the East-West Shrine Game and was chosen as the San Francisco 49ers' number one draft choice. He had previously been drafted by the Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League.

Kilmer is 21, married and a father.

"As a youngster I recall marveling at fellows like Eddie LeBaron and Ollie Matson getting the award," he said when informed of the honor. "This puts me in some mighty select company."

Kilmer will receive a gold watch and a trophy at the Palo Club's "Million Dollar Banquet" on Jan. 24. Ernie Nevers, legendary Stanford grid star under Warner, will make the presentation.

Washington Trades Sullivan To A's

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators today traded catcher Haywood Sullivan to Kansas City for pitcher Marty Kutyna and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Kutyna, 28, appeared in 51 games for Kansas City last season and posted a 3-2 won-lost record. He had a 1960 earned run average of 3.92. His 1959 record with Portland was 14-10.

Sullivan, 30, recently purchased from the minors by Washington, batted .161 last season with the Boston Red Sox.

Ailing Husky May Play In Rose Bowl

LONG BEACH (AP)—Washington's alternate fullback, Joe Jones, may play in the Jan. 2 Rose Bowl game against Minnesota although he underwent an appendectomy five days ago.

"Jones says he wants to play and I'm going to ask the doctors today and rely solely on their judgment," said Coach Jim Owens of the Huskies.

RING RATINGS

Patterson Honored As Fighter Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, the first man to win back the crown, today was named "Fighter of the Year" by Ring Magazine which also picked light heavyweight Guilio Rinaldi of Italy as the winner of its "progress award."

Patterson, previously, had been named the winner of the Edward J. Neil memorial plaque as "Fighter of the Year" by the Boxing Writers Assn. The 25-year-old New Yorker, who is supposed to box Ingemar Johansson in a third match March 13 at Miami Beach, lost his title to the Swede in 1959 and won it back by a knockout last June.

Rating the boxers for their accomplishments in 1960, Ring listed heavyweight Sonny Liston, the No. 1 contender, as the runnerup to Patterson in the yearly rankings.

Pone Kingpetch of Thailand, was ranked No. 3 among the fighters of the year for his feat of dethroning Pascual Perez in the flyweight class and then knocking out the veteran Argentine boxer in a rematch.

The ratings:

Chargers Costly In First Year; $900,000 Deficit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Chargers, whose owner, Barron Hilton, says he lost $900,000 this year on them, are getting ready to fly to Houston tomorrow to play for the American Football League championship Jan. 1.

Next year the Chargers probably will operate out of San Diego and they hope to recoup some of the 1960 losses by beaming their games on Los Angeles television screens.

"How much did you lose last season?" Mirror Sports Editor Sid Ziff asked Hilton.

"$900,000."

"How much did you expect to lose?"

"$300,000."

The Chargers have a top passer in quarterback Jack Kemp. The Charger aerial game and the fancy end sweeps of halfback Paul Lowe are the offensive threats the Los Angeles players are banking on to beat the Oilers, who won the Eastern Division title in the AFL.

Bulldogs Nip South S.F.

San Rafael Bulldogs rallied for 15 points in the fourth quarter yesterday to edge South San Francisco High School 48-47 in a practice basketball game.

The fast-shooting Bulldogs got off 60 shots in the game and made good on 31 per cent of them. Rich Robertson poured through 16 points for the winners, followed by Dennis Hall with 12, Randy Petrini with 10 and Bruce McPhail with eight.

The victory marked a great comeback after South S. F. roared off to a 31-19 halftime advantage. However, Coach Bob Muster's Bulldogs utilized a press defense to cool off the visitors.

East May Stress Rushing Attack In Shrine Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A powerful running attack features the East offense for Saturday's East-West Shrine charity football game as coach Milt Bruhn's forces figure to stick to the ground.

Three members of his starting offensive backfield were No. 1 draft choices of National Football League teams and four other members of his 24-man squad were top picks.

Indicating the strategy will be keyed to the running game, Bruhn named Ohio State's Tom Matte as the starting quarterback. Matte gained more note as a runner than as a passer.

At the halfbacks are Herb Adderley of Michigan State, the No. 1 choice of Green Bay, and Tom Mason, the choice of Minnesota's Vikings and the first pick of the entire draft.

Wisconsin's Tom Wiesner drew the assignment at fullback.

Pointing up the prominence of talent on the East squad, Bernie Casey of Bowling Green, a No. 1 choice of the San Francisco 49ers, will be the replacement at both halfback spots.

"Wouldn't a coach love to have a squad like this for a regular season?" enthused Bruhn.

Marine Force Lands For The Holidays

PARK FOREST, Ill. (UPI)—The John G. Ransfords of 15 W. Rocket Circle found out today what Semper Fidelis means.

If the Marine Corps motto needed translation beyond "forever faithful," there were four Marines on hand and 11 more on the way.

But the Ransford family already had a pretty good idea:

To a Ransford son, Donald, a Marine corporal nicknamed Butch, it meant brightening Garrison life on Okinawa last fall by inviting 32 buddies home for the holidays.

To 15 of the 32, it meant accepting Butch's invitation.

To Butch's father, it meant backing up his son's generosity "even if I have to chuck my own kids out."

To three of five Ransford children, it meant being chucked out.

To Butch's 20-year-old brother, Jerry, it meant Butch is a "nice guy. He just doesn't have all his senses."

When he came back from Okinawa, Butch mentioned he'd invited "some guys" home. When the Ransfords found out what "some guys" was, they stayed calm and called for support.

Friends contributed mattresses and food. The local Knights of Columbus produced a 60-cup coffee percolator. Mrs. Ransford cooked a 23-pound turkey.

Jerry said they had "10 pounds of bacon and six dozen eggs for breakfast. I hope that's enough."

Three displaced Ransford children took their temporary removal to neighbors' homes in stride. Terry, 5, had his eye on a real Marine Corps insignia. For Mary Margaret, 15, and Betty, 10, the prospect of 15 Marine house guests was a giddy one.

The elder Ransford, a Borg Warner Co. employee in Chicago, said his son invited the troops "probably because he likes them."

But, he said, "I've never seen a house party like this."

Hayden Wins Round In Court Fight

Actor-adventurer Sterling Hayden of Belvedere won a temporary victory yesterday in his fight for more elbow room when the District Court of Appeals refused to interfere in a battle brewing in Marin Superior Court.

This means Hayden's attempt to take his four children on an 18-month trip to Switzerland and Denmark is headed for a full-scale hearing on Jan. 6 before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

On Dec. 1, Judge Keating granted Hayden permission to travel with his youngsters. But an attorney for the actor's former wife, Betty Ann De Noon, marched into court and demanded the trip be halted.

Judge Keating stayed his previous permission for Hayden to take his children and set Jan. 6 as the time to hear arguments from both sides.

Hayden wants to write a book in Europe and get out of a $75,000 debt. He is now married to the former Catherine McConnell of New York.

The Port of New York Authority reports 169 steamship lines now offer regularly scheduled services in the port.

Suitcase Sets Off Airport Scare, But Proves To Be Bag Of Tricks

NEW YORK (UPI)—A suitcase that appeared to be packed with dynamite but actually contained a magician's equipment touched off a scare at La Guardia Airport today.

The unclaimed, well-worn suitcase was opened by an employee in the American Airlines lost and found department. It contained several tubes filled with gray powder, odd wiring, some large matches, and other strange gear.

The employee jumped to the conclusion that he had a load of explosives on his hands. Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and the city police bomb squad rushed to the airlines hangar, just 100 feet from the main La Guardia passenger terminal. Police took one look and identified the powder in the tubes as dynamite.

But further tests proved that the tubes contained powder used for stage effects. The matches were also of a theatrical variety. There were two tea kettle gadgets, one fixed so that the lid blows off, and two bottles containing freon gas. There were also balloons and other odds and ends used for sleight of hand.

Final verdict: A magician's or entertainer's bag of tricks.

About 96 per cent of all bituminous coal produced in the United States is loaded mechanically.

Bomb Scare Halts Plane

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A United Air Lines DC-8 jet airliner carrying 80 passengers made a "precautionary" landing here today in a bomb scare.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said no bomb was found. A 23-year-old woman from Seattle, Wash., was taken off the plane and to Salt Lake General Hospital for observation after allegedly telling a stewardess that her husband might try to kill her by placing a bomb on the plane.

Jack Clumeck, Gloria Goodman Are Married In Temple Emanu-El

White chrysanthemums combined with variegated ivy and magnolia blossoms decorated San Francisco's Temple Emanu-El when Gloria Goodman became the bride of Jack Clumeck Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goodman of Ross. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clumeck also of Ross.

Rabbi Michael Heller officiated for the 4:30 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white silk Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a deep square neckline edged with peau de soie and a fitted bodice. The bell skirt extended into a chapel train and an obi of peau de soie accented the waistline. Her cascade veil of silk illusion was held by a seed pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Preceding the bride to the altar gowned in green-stone peau de soie were Jill Clumeck, the bridegroom's sister as maid of honor, and Joan Goodman, the bride's sister of Ross, junior bridesmaid, Sue and Ann Honig and Yvonne Anixter all of San Francisco and Sandra Stern of Oakland.

Their ballerina gowns featured deep square necklines, obis and three tiered bell skirts.

Arthur Clumeck of Hillsborough was best man and ushers were Robert Simon of Fullerton; Rudi Golyn, San Rafael; Randy Lees, Hillsborough and Charles Goodman, the bride's brother, of Ross, and Todd Cary of Ross.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Goodman wore an aqua silk brocade gown with long white gloves. Her flowers were white orchids.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a gown of beige silk brocade woven with gold threads. Her flowers were gold cymbidium orchids.

A reception for 240 guests following the wedding was held at the Fairmont Hotel. Arrangements featured a fountain spraying over a bank of cyclamen and ferns flanked with tall magnolia leaves.

For a wedding trip to Jamaica, the bride wore an Italian navy blue dress with matching coat.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of California where her sorority was Alpha Epsilon Phi. Mrs. Charles Diller of Ross, and Mrs. Joseph Goodman of San Francisco are her grandmothers.

The bridegroom was also graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School. A graduate of Stanford University, he is now attending the Harvard Graduate School of Business in Cambridge, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. S. Lees of San Francisco are his grandparents.

The newlyweds will take up their residence in Cambridge on Jan. 3.

Prosecutor Is Pretty

BOSTON (AP) — An attractive woman in her mid-30s now holds the No. 2 position in the United States Attorney's office in Massachusetts.

Miss Arlyne F. Hassett was signed by the U. S. Department of justice in 1953 as an assistant U. S. Attorney. Since that time she has prosecuted many cases in the federal courts in Boston. And she made history by becoming the first woman attorney in this region to present criminal cases before a United States grand jury.

A graduate of Boston University and B. U. Law School, she was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1945 after receiving special permission to take the examination—because she was under 21.

Right Brew

NEW YORK (UPI) — A clean pot is the prime requisite for making good coffee, says the Coffee Brewing Institute.

Wash your coffee maker with plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinses after every brew, using a well-lathered brush to scrub inside the spout and hollow stem. This prevents a left-over taste from spoiling fresh coffee.

Sex Reading In Milwaukee

Married women in Milwaukee read more books with sex themes than do married men, according to a survey by two Marquette University professors.

They found 30 per cent of the books read by Milwaukee wives and 25 per cent by the city's husbands fall in the sexy category.

Arthur S. McDonald, head of the Marquette Reading Center, said he does not consider the percentage of reading of sex theme literature to be extremely high. McDonald and Robert Craig, research director for the education department, conducted the survey.

The professors also determined that only about 25 per cent of Milwaukee's adults are consistent readers.

Plastic Place Mats

Big vinyl plastic place mats in the shapes and colors of vegetebles are just the tonic to spur youngsters to a taste for vitamins. Match the mat to the vegetable being served and watch how appetites perk up. Choose from onion, cauliflower, lettuce, eggplant, red pepper, and artichoke — or from a group of popular fruits. All these foam-backed mats have the look and texture of Madagascar straw, but can be wiped with a sudsy sponge after each meal.

For Young Moderns Be It Resolved . . .

By VIVIAN BROWN

Now is a good time to list resolutions for the New Year.

We may find it difficult to remember them as 1961 progresses, but some headway is made if we can be conscious of our personalities without becoming goody-goody.

Here are some ideas to mull over:

I will not be a joiner: (a) because "everyone is doing it," (b) if it causes a loss of dignity, (c) if the organization is secret because it would not be acceptable to most people.

I will respect my parents' judgment: (a) if they have cautioned against parking in lonely spots, (b) want to meet my escort, (c) warn against visiting off-beat places.

I will not be a pipeline: (a) if friends confide in me, (b) if I'm told something that is hearsay, (c) if I know that an unpleasant situation will arise concerning a friend who hasn't been told.

I will not go along with beatnik philosophy and: (a) resent people who conform to regulations, (b) live without a goal, (c) become careless in my dress.

I will not jump at a last-minute date: (a) if an evening of study is necessary, (b) if the family expects me to be on hand for an important occasion, (c) if a group of girls have been depending on my presence at a hen party.

I will not rebel against authority: (a) running down my parents to others, (b) becoming disgruntled with school officials; (c) hating all adults who do not agree with my point of view.

I will not be a boy snatcher: (a) Trying to snare a boy from another girl for the sake of the challenge, (b) Inviting a boy out when I know he has a one-and-only, (c) planning a social engagement for the express purpose of attracting another girl's beau.

I will not be insular: (a) I'll help less fortunate friends if I am able, (b) assist in community and campus projects for worthy causes, (c) lend a helping hand to less brainy classmates.

I will not be a prude: (a) I'll try to make friends, not elude them, (b) I'll accept invitations from friends I like, even if they don't measure up to me socially, (c) I will not dampen party plans because I don't like my friend's invited guests.

I will not brag about my assets: (a) if I have a larger wardrobe than my friends, (b) if my allowance is bigger, (c) if I am more popular with boys.

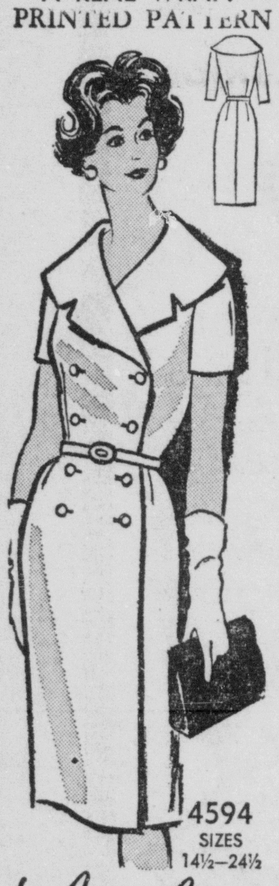

I will not resist my family: (a) closing them out from my interests, (b) giving them the "you are just old-fashioned' routine, (c) denying them my presence for occasional family chit-chat.

MRS. WILLIAM B. HICKMAN of Tiburon, photographed with her young son, Scott, has definite ideas about woman's role in the home and outside. (Independent-Journal photo)

Tiburon Housewife Engaged In Recruitment For Cerebral Palsy

By LOUISE TEATHER

"Women should do more than keep house and take care of children," in the opinion of Mrs. William B. Hickman of Tiburon. "They are much happier when they go back to home and family knowing that they have been useful in other ways."

By other ways Mrs. Hickman specifically means volunteer work for charitable and humanitarian causes.

She speaks from experience, for she is a homemaker, mother of a lively three-year-old son, Scott, and devotes considerable time to volunteer work. Her particular interest is United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, of which she is president this year.

While she believes that children and house work are "important and challenging," Mrs. Hickman says that alone, they "make for a dull life—and wife. After all, your husband doesn't really care how many diapers you've changed during the day and how much the groceries cost — if you don't go overboard! He is much more likely to be interested in your outside activities, particularly if they are worthwhile. Besides, these will help to make you a more interesting person."

TOO INVOLVED

"Of course," she adds, "you have to watch that you don't get too involved in outside affairs. Then everything suffers, home, family and the groups for which you work. It's better to choose an organization or two and devote your 'outside energy' to those."

Mrs. Hickman, now engaged in volunteer recruitment for the 53-Minute March on Cerebral Palsy Jan. 17, has warm praise for the many Marin County women who help in this annual drive.

She also gently chides the women who have the time but aren't willing to help with the work either of the local Cerebral Palsy chapter or the other Marin organizations.

"It's usually the women with children or other community activities, or both, who agree to help," she observes. "I feel it's really too bad that many women who could help won't take the time. Everybody has a few spare hours. And many volunteer jobs can be done at home."

TENNIS AND BRIDGE

However, Mrs. Hickman doesn't advocate volunteer work to the exclusion of leisure-time activities. She herself finds time for tennis and bridge, and looks forward to learning to sail when her husband completes the 14-foot Bahama dingy he is building.

Mrs. Hickman has been interested in helping the handicapped since her college days. She is a graduate of Mills, where she was a mathematics major but took all the psychology courses that were offered. These included psychometry, or testing, and she helped to test the cerebral palsy children at Whitton School for the handicapped in Oakland, where she worked as a volunteer.

Since then she has been particularly interested in United Cerebral Palsy and its dual program of seeking to rehabilitate victims and conducting research to find cause and cure.

"This is one of the causes," she says, "to which women can devote their spare time to great profit. They will not only be doing very worthwhile work but they will find great personal satisfaction."

Bayside Club Holds Party

Bayside Acres Women's Club held its Christmas party recently at the Alta Mira. Joseph Gutternman and Mrs Clyde Good had decorated the tables with a small Christmas tree and bright red berries.

Mrs. Sam Sobel, president, asked Maj. Harold Varner to act as master of ceremonies. He presented a jeweled charm to Miss Loreta Pacheco, of the pioneer Marin family, the club's only member who was born and reared in Marin County. Miss Pacheco gave her family's history and that of its land grant, San Jose. Maj. Varner also called on the husbands of the members for talks.

Present were Dr. and Mrs. Guterman, Maj. and Mrs. Varner, Messrs. and Messdames Sobel Good James Thornton George Longley Tracy Harron Ronald Giambastiani, Jay Alpers, Elias Day, Mrs. George Alpers, Mrs. Frederick Croker and Miss Pachecc.

Shifting Patterns.

Shifting patterns of color — such as those in a kaleidoscope —have inspired California designers to create a bright new look for beach and patio in 1961. The colors are bold, brilliant and unadulterated. Varying shades of coral, violet and gold get special emphasis. The designers also are stripe-happy —using stripes from hairline to barber-pole size.

Today is Thursday, Dec. 29, the 364th day of the year with two more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1808, Andrew Johnson, 17th president of the United States, was born.

In 1848, President Polk and the entire household staff witnessed the installation of the first gas lights in the executive mansion.

In 1851, the first Young Men's Christian Association to be established in the United States opened its door in Boston.

In 1940, Hitler's airmen staged the biggest and most violent air raid ever attempted to date on the city of London.

In 1947, Henry Wallace, former vice president and cabinet officer, announced he would accept the presidential nomination in 1948 on a third party ticket.

A thought for today: Greek author Aesop said: "Better beans and bacon in peace than cakes and ale in fear."

Can't Go Wrong Playing Safe In Lucky, Unlucky Marin

Marin had both a lucky and an unlucky Christmas weekend.

We were lucky because no one died in traffic accidents, although a bus driver was struck and killed just before the weekend officially started.

We also were lucky because no one died in fires, although deaths from fires last weekend across the nation approximately doubled the toll last year.

We were unlucky because at least a dozen persons were injured in highway accidents.

We also were unlucky because three homes and three businesses were destroyed or seriously damaged by fire.

There is something particularly pathetic about such accidents around the holidays. Nothing seems more heartbreaking than a burned Christmas tree and the ashes of gifts around it, or the sight of a family entering a hospital on Christmas Eve.

This is a time for happiness, not sorrow.

This is the time for special precautions against accidents, both in traffic and in the home.

This coming weekend will be another period of danger. The New Year's weekend, like the Christmas weekend, is noted for death and destruction. It is a time for care.

Strangely enough, apparently none of the Christmas weekend fires were directly related to the Yule tree and its decorations. But we must remember that these holidays there are usually more people home, more lights being used, and, as at present, it is cold so heating facilities are in continuous use.

It is important, therefore, for all of us to be alert to possible dangers. A blown fuse or a tripped circuit breaker could be a warning of a serious situation. If it happens more than once, don't neglect to find out why.

And of course on the highways, every driver should drive as if every other driver on the road is crazy. Maybe they aren't, but New Year's is one of the seasons wettest — and we don't mean rainfall. You can't go wrong by playing safe.

Trees To Save The Soil

Marin happily is a tree-filled county. Where trees don't grow naturally, we tree-loving Marinites have planted them. It is doubtful that the people of any county in the U. S. are more tree conscious.

Ours is a rainy land, where the many hills erode and the vital top-soil washes away without the networks of tree roots to bind it. Of course, grass and other plant roots help hold the soil too, but it is obvious they do not have the holding power of trees.

Trees are part of Nature's system of conservation and must be preserved and encouraged.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

ELUDES DEATH THREE TIMES

Death pursued a man three times in Chattanooga, but left him unscratched.

To begin with, his car stalled at a grade crossing just as a freight train came roaring toward him. He managed to get out of the vehicle seconds before the locomotive plowed into it. No sooner did this happen than the impact of the collision sent the auto reeling towards the bewildered man. Once more he jumped out of danger as the wrecked car crashed into a railroad signal-crossing pole.

The pole was slammed so hard that it broke in half and toppled to the ground immediately behind the fleeing man.

You may never experience such a triple brush with death. But even those who lead a comparatively quiet existence should need no reminder that they have no lease on life.

Cram as much good as you can into your life and no matter when you are called, you will go with full hands before the Judgment Seat.

"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life."

(Apocalypse 2:10)

Keep me constantly aware, O loving Father, that the longest life is all too short to prepare for death.

Getting Ready Your Resolutions? Many Of Them Involve Success

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of Americans will probably write as their biggest resolution of 1961—"I will become a success."

Millions probably made the same stern resolve a year ago.

What happened? Most of those who sought success failed to attain it.

The reason why is hard to figure—particularly if, as we can probably assume in most cases, success is defined as the acquiring of more money.

There is no great secret about this. Almost unanimously those who have achieved wealth by their own efforts say they did so by a single means — concentrated hard work, intense application of their energy to the simple goal of making more money.

This is true in any field. It takes more than a gun and raw courage, for example, to become a successful bank robber. It takes endless hours of planning, study and rehearsal.

Even Jacques Casanova, the world's greatest tattle-tale lover, had to climb hundreds of trellises to hundreds of balconies to win undying fame. It wasn't easy.

Hard work as a means of success, however, has never been a popular recipe with the masses. They cling to the superstition there is an easier way.

There is. In fact, there are two:

1. Marry the boss' daughter —if he has no sons to leave his business to.

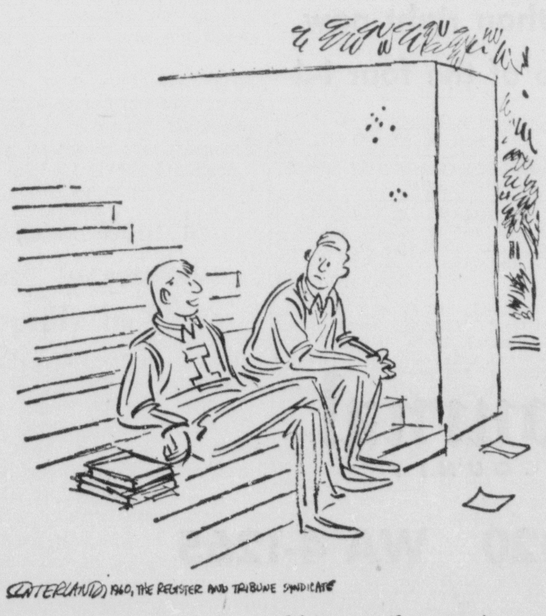

2. INHERIT MONEY.

But since there is a shortage of bosses with marriageable daughters, and few doting old aunts with fat bank accounts, many seek still a third easy magic formula.

THE LITERARY market is flooded with books giving so-called inside tips on how to achieve success.

In most cases these self-help books don't actually make one a success. But if read in bed at night, they sometimes provide a remarkable cure for insomnia—thus giving one more strength to daydream at the office on the job during the day.

Americans Choose To Live In Slums

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re news coverage of Redwood High School board meeting on books controversy:

Can scientists, statesmen, and philosophers be produced in a climate such as was created by the booing mob in attendance at this meeting, as one fellow human being sought to exercise his right to petition a governing board?

Is such a climate a cause or an effect of our rapidly perishing ethical perspectives? The ideals of democracy are loudly professed and rarely implemented by the individuals who lend a voice to a mob.

Can such individuals quarrel with the noted anthropologist who asserts "that the American family chooses to live in slums—psychologically, spiritually, and sociologically."

No Assurance Of Land Use

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Thank you for your editorial of Monday, Dec. 19.

We, who are against a premature urbanization of Marin County, are violently opposed to being railroaded into rezoning by grandiose presentations and "promises" of increased revenues.

First, we think Tower dwelling creates a density of population that can be handled only by big city facilities. BUT —even if we were in favor of this type of development (and many people are), we have NO assurance that once the land is rezoned it won't be thrown on the market to the highest bidder — who could conceivably build a less glamorous but more lucrative project.

We think land should be rezoned as the need arises, not for an individual's private gain over the wishes of the local community.

There's Need For Election Reform Other Than In Electoral College

WASHINGTON — Practically everybody, including the politicians, are now saying that we ought to reform the election laws.

But which election laws and what reforms?

We tend to forget that the laws, good and bad, which govern the election of President, Vice President, and members of Congress, come from 51 different governments—the 50 states and Washington.

The danger today is that we may become so allured by the prospect of doing something about the Electoral College, which is now just about everyone's target, that we fail to make the most needed reform.

I am not arguing that some reform of the Electoral College is not desirable. It is.

BUT WHAT IS more urgent and more needed than a change in the Electoral College is a uniform state and federal election law which will do the following:

1—Provide the same voting rights and protections to every citizen of the U. S. in electing the President, Vice President, and members of Congress.

2—Provide better enforcement of the election laws so as to reduce the corroding evil of voting irregularities, false count, and fraud.

This 1960 Presidential election should warn us all that just one vote—our own vote —can decide who shall be President.

THIS IS WHY it is absolutely imperative to strengthen and perfect the election laws so as to insure the integrity of the popular vote and to avoid the uncertainty that, maybe, the loser was the winner.

The Electoral College distorts the popular vote, but usually in favor of the winner. We can be glad that the Electoral College verdict is at least decisive. It stands 300 to 219 and John F. Kennedy is the certified President-elect.

There has been no evidence sufficient to conclude that a fully supervised, total national recount would have wiped out Kennedy's hair-breadth 112,000 majority out of 69,000,000.

But there has been sufficient indications of irregularities, fraud, and miscounting, to make it essential that we do more to protect the integrity of the national ballot.

IT HAS BEEN clearly established:

That there have been districts where more votes were cast than people living there.

That citizens, who had carefully registered, went to the polls to find their registrations carefully "lost."

That a disproportionate number of Republican ballots were thrown out in heavily Republican districts.

That thousands of citizens were disfranchised because of inequitable and uneven absentee ballot laws.

WHAT CAN be done?

We need a uniform state-federal election law to insure the right of all qualified citizens to vote for President, Vice President, and members of Congress—plus better guarantees against fraud and irregularity.

Redwood Books Dispute Produced Interesting, Yet Expected, Results

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees ended the year on a note of controversy when they slammed the door last week on a book-banning attempt at Redwood High School.

The board members said "No" to a demand by Rev. Michael Barkowska of Larkspur for removal of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" and J. D. Salinger's "The Catcher In the Rye" from Redwood's approved reading list.

But the door creaked open again when Mrs. Anne Smart insisted her letter of formal complaint against the same books be placed on the board agenda for Jan. 9. Mrs. Smart is the Larkspur lady who led a book-banning drive in the Tamalpais district six years ago.

THE BOOK HASSLE produced two very interesting (and expected) results, as Lyman McBride of San Anselmo pointed out at the board hearing last week.

"Have you tried to buy a copy of the Steinbeck or Salinger books in Marin or San Francisco for the past two weeks?" he asked. The two targets of all the controversy have had a "far more thorough reading than they would have had," he observed.

The issue also produced a record high attendance for a board meeting. "It's a shame you can't get as much interest on other items," McBride said.

WE COULDN'T HELP thinking the same thing as we sat at the meeting. Aroused citizens filled every seat, stood along the side of the room and in the lobby, and when they could no longer fit in the building, they remained outside and leaned in through open windows to listen to the proceedings.

It was a bitterly cold night, too, but the half-frozen people outside—including a number of students—seemed determined to hear what was going on. Several times persons in the darkness outside called in to ask speakers to raise their voices.

One of the most applauded speakers was Hans Schiller of Mill Valley, a native of Germany, who declared that it was necessary to remind Americans from time to time of their freedoms.

"DO NOT FORGET, it is not the issue of a few words or a book. It is question of principle. It started in many countries as a simple matter of objecting to a few words . . . ideas . . . then there was book burning, and people were burned by the millions.

"These books have to stay on the shelves because people have to be aware that these words are being used," Schiller pointed out.

We were impressed by a soft spoken young Negro student at Tamalpais High, who told the crowd that use of the word "nigger" in the book "Tom Sawyer" for example, doesn't bother him. The author uses the word to "get over a characteristic," he observed. "People don't write books to express dirty words," the young man added.

THERE WAS ALSO the good-humored lady from Mill Valley who aptly quoted the classic remark of the late Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York when a question about books came up:

"No girl was ever seduced by a book." Said the lady to the trustees: "I ask you to remember that when judging what can be read."

The book controversy apparently produced its share of family squabbles, too. The board received two letters on the subject from a man and wife. One was for banning the books; the other was opposed.

YEAREND ROUNDUP

Most Quickly Forgotten News Stories Of 1960

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This is the season when newspapermen engage in the production of retrospective articles known in the trade as "year enders."

These pieces usually take the form of reviews or summaries of the major happenings of the year.

If you don't mind, I will go ahead with my "year ender" herewith, a month-by-month chronicle of "the most quickly forgotten news stories of 1960:

JANUARY—Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich., introduced a bill to create a free capital guide service. He claimed there was a precedent for this in the distribution of free government booklets on "the sex life of bullfrogs."

FEBRUARY — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., opened presidential campaign headquarters next door to a rubber stamp store.

MARCH — Teddy Nadler, the biggest money winner in the history of television quiz programs, applied for a job as a census-taker but funked the test.

APRIL—A former page girl at the DAR convention filed a slander suit against two DAR officials.

MAY—Sen. Oren E. Long, (D-Hawaii), complained that a Hawaiian liqueur called "passion fruit" had been banned in Texas.

JUNE—During a call on Vice President Richard M. Nixon Shirley Temple disclosed that while attending a Hollywood reception for Nikita Khrushchev she touched the Soviet premier on the tummy.

JULY—The Library of Congress uncovered a letter revealing what Abraham Lincoln did on the fourth day after he was nominated for President. He stayed home and caught up on his correspondence.

AUGUST — The American Bar Association met here for its national convention. One of the speakers was Raymond Burr, television's Perry Mason.

SEPTEMBER — Mrs. John F. Kennedy began writing a weekly column called "Campaign Wife."

OCTOBER — The Smithsonian Institution concluded, after an agonizing reappraisal, that counting the number of rings is not always a reliable method of determining the age of a tree.

NOVEMBER—The White House was repainted and Mrs. Kennedy ceased writing her column.

DECEMBER—Sir Edmund P. Hillard decided that the "abominable snowman" was only a myth.

Irregular Behavior Typifies Girl Entering 12-13 Year Age Group

She's a wonderful young lady. She drives you wild, but you couldn't live without her. Can you guess who she is?

After school she puts on jeans and a T shirt. She streaks across the lawn. She climbs trees like a monkey. She rides bikes too fast. She gets her face dirty. She loves dogs, cats, horses, birds. She gets a kick out of TV westerns. Still a tomboy in many ways.

But she is changing. She now listens to the disk jockeys on radio stations. She picks up new slang. One day she'll be as happy as a lark the next as blue as indigo. Formerly she had a sunny disposition. Now she frequently surprises you.

She's beginning to want grown-up clothes. A year ago she scorned everything dainty and feminine. Now she demands party dresses, and gets them. She can be a roughneck in the afternoon and a fragile little princess in the evening.

Part of the time she is rude. Part of the time she's so polite it hurts. Formerly she hated Emily Post and all her rules. Now the rules seem important. Contradictory, isn't she?

She studies, but she has other interests too. She chatters a lot. She quarrels with you. She has tantrums. But still she loves you, and says so.

The greatest factor in her new life is boys. She is just discovering them. Not playmate-type boys. Put great, big, masculine boys. Boys as boy friends. Her taste may be poor, but it is intense. She has crushes. She makes phone calls. She writes notes. She loses sleep.

Recognize her now? Of course. She's your 12 or 13-year-old daughter. God bless her.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Dean Rusk To Be Stay-At-Home State Dept. Head

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Dean Rusk will be a stay-at-home secretary of state, one who will seek counsel, but make his own decisions, one who believes in the United Nations, but feels we don't have enough manpower there to do an effective job.

These things emerged from a frank talk President-elect John Kennedy's newly appointed secretary of state gave at a world affairs conference sponsored by the Associated Students of Mills College in Oakland.

Just eight days after the election, Rusk told the Mills gathering that there are "deep reservations" in the United States against summit diplomacy. He called it "ineffective" diplomacy, saying that the formality of regular diplomatic channels "takes away accidents of personality." "Personality problems" are among the things "we are trying to remove from foreign relations," he said.

The talk, given little attention by the public and press because Rusk had not emerged as a new cabinet member, was attended by Mrs. Russell R. Klein of Kent Woodlands. Mrs. Klein, a member of the board of governors of the Mills Alumnae Assn., took extensive notes (on which this report is based).

The new state secretary taught history and government at Mills from 1934 to 1939 and in addition served as dean of the faculty from 1939 to 1941, when he entered the armed forces. He is married to a Mills graduate, the former Virginia Foisie, sister of Jack Foisie of Sausalito, and the president of the New York Mills Alumnae Assn.

Rusk told the group a secretary of state must improve his relations with the president, there should be no "middle man" between the president and his secretary; with the Department of State he must "have daily contact with department activities"; with Congress, through two policy and two appropriations committees; and with the press and public, the press "is inclined to think they represent the public" and to "usurp their prerogatives."

The president and congress "have all the powers necessary" to conduct our foreign affairs, Rusk said. He noted that "national action" should be taken with "national consent."

But he warned that "everyone affected by a decision should participate in making it" is a "dangerous doctrine." He said the alternative to it is "line responsibility," that we should be "more specific" about where responsibility lies and to limit the delegation of authority.

A committee proceedure is a "built-in device for procrastination and delay" by those who oppose a policy, he went on. The United States should "move back to simpler pre-World War II days" when individuals were called upon to make the decisions.

The jobs of the president and the secretary of state require that they stay in Washington at their posts, he declared.

The chief delegate to the United Nations should have comparable ability and standing to the secretary of state, Rusk declared. Most votes in the U.N. are cast without instructions from the delegates' governments, so the delegates themselves are in fact policy makers and should be so considered.

To be effective in the U.N. it is important that we make the right approach to other delegates. One man can not possibly make proper contacts with 100 different delegations and he can't treat them as groups.

There fore, the United States should have at least three men of ambassadorial rank representing us the year-round at the U.N., Rusk said. They would be the "hard core" of our Assembly delegation there.

Rules of protocol in international relations should be brought up to date, he believes, at an international conference. Present rules were devised in 1815 and have never been systematically revised. He proposed getting rid of "expensive and time consuming formalities, but of improving "the little things."

The United States makes bad impressions in the method we receive such people as the delegates of new nations and visiting national leaders, Rusk went on. The Rockefeller Foundation has tried to remedy this situation somewhat by finding out who new delegates would be and inviting them privately before they came here officially.

The standing of cultural attaches in other countries should be upgraded, Rusk believes, at least to the level of military attaches. They should be selected for language competence and receive additional compensation for such a skill.

"I believe in the United Nations Charter," Rusk declared, particularly the preamble and Articles 1 and 2, which make health, food, and education "our objectives just the same as that of people all over the world."

He said that in the long range the United States foreign policy is to build a better world for all. "In the long run, the builders will win," he declared. "This is why I am an optimist."

In another speech to the same group, Rusk discussed the responsibility of the citizen in world affairs. He told his listeners to "start from where you are" to play your role, whatever it is, to the best of your ability."

DOUBLES AS SHELTER

N.M. Town Building Underground School

ARTESIA, N.M. (UPI)—A completely underground elementary school designed to double as a community fallout shelter in case of nuclear attack is being drawn up for this New Mexico town in the first such project of its kind.

The $430,000 prototype school bomb shelter, whose walls will be made of 18-inch reinforced concrete, will be able to withstand all but a direct hit, according to officials, and would ward off more than 99.9 per cent of outside radiation.

The school will be only 30 miles from the construction site of an atlas intercontinental missile base which military experts feel would be a prime target of the enemy in case of attack.

Citizens in Artesia have offered mixed reactions about the school, which is expected to be completed in the fall of 1961. Comments have ranged from strong approval to those who said: "I don't want my kids to go to school in a hole."

The extra cost of building the school underground will be borne by the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization, which has approved the project.

The shelter is expected to draw government and civil defense officials, architects and engineers from every point in the nation when it is completed. Already, inquiries have been received from across the United States and Canada for details.

Architect Frank Standhardt of Roswell, a key figure in drawing up the school's basic design, told school officials he would have the final plans ready for bids by Jan. 15.

Plans call for a building completely below-ground level that would shelter 2,080 persons four weeks in case of atomic attack. Artesia has a population of about 8,500.

There will be an emergency power supply, food supplies, sleeping facilities for 50 per cent of the emergency population, an emergency water supply to be drilled directly below the school, and a morgue.

The building itself will have 18 classrooms, a multi-use room, a food serving area, mechanical equipment room, administrative rooms and toilet facilities. Three stairways would provide entrance to the school, and space for 420 regular students would be provided.

The top of the school will be ground level for use as a recreation area.

The idea of seeking federal funds to help build an underground school originated among members of the local school board in 1959, after they heard a discussion of the subject by representatives of the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization.

Mrs. C. P. Bunch, the board president, and Supt. Vernon Mills took the initiative and explored the problems further. With the help of Standhardt, plans were drawn, revised, made public to test opinion in Artesia, then sent to the civil defense office in Washington.

The office approved the plans quickly, and the Artesia school board hopes students will be in the new classrooms by this fall.

Work is scheduled to begin before spring, if no unexpected financial troubles develop.

AWOL Jail Inmate Gets Five Months; No Work Furlough

A county jail inmate on work furlough, who went AWOL and got drunk during Christmas holidays, must spend the next five months in county jail — with no work furlough.

Leonard Amuel Trimuar, 25, of 1256 Cambridge Street, Novato, who has been arrested four times in four months, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court.

Last August, Trimuar was caught intoxicated and drew a weekend jail sentence. He repeated the offense in October and got a 90-day jail term, with work furlough privilege.

He left jail last Friday on work furlough and failed to return to his cell. Police caught him intoxicated at a Fourth Street bar on Christmas Eve. Earlier this month, Trimuar was also caught for making false statements to get unemployment benefits.

The judge ruled that Trimuar must spend 135 days in jail for these repeated violations, after he serves the balance of the original 90-day sentence.

There now are about eight million licensed drivers and more than eight and a half million registered vehicles in the state.

Convicts Himself

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—A speedy conviction was returned in criminal court here in a drunken driver case. The jury gave its guilty verdict after witnesses testified that the driver staggered from his car and up to a dead cow, killed when struck by his vehicle, and remarked in slurred tones: "This man seems to be hurt pretty bad. We better get him to a hospital."

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Businessmen Say 1960 A Good Year, Looks Even Better For Next Year

For this final column in 1960 we decided to look at the picture in Marin County for the past 12 months and its prospects for 1961 through the eyes of some of our local businessmen picked at random.

Here are the views of:

JESS J. FRANCE JR., resident manager in San Rafael for York and Co., investment securities:

"The picture continues to look bright—each year brings us thousands of investors. Despite a 10 per cent drop in security prices during 1960, York and Co., including the San Rafael office, has increased business about 15 per cent and its staff about 25 per cent. The security outlook is difinitely 'bullish'."

E. F. SWEENEY, San Rafael British motor car dealer:

"My opinion on any setback in the imported car industry is that it was caused by too many different foreign makes hitting the market this last year. It is leveling off and well established makes are holding. Our sales of the more expensive models were far ahead of 1959—about 150 per cent. Our bread and butter in 1961 will be in prestige and sports cars."

A. L. NIERI, assistant vice president, First National Bank in San Rafael:

"From our viewpoint, Marin County has made great strides during the past year. The banking business is a good barometer in that it reflects the overall growth of the county and local progress. We now have nine banks in Marin; our resources have gone up almost five million dollars in 1960 to a total of nearly 62 million dollars. With figures like this we have every reason to be optimistic for 1961."

FRANCIS FOGARTY, manager of J. C. Penny Co., San Rafael:

"I see a lot of good trends for 1961. The smooth, day-by-day results of the holiday season season were better than last year's — a splendid cause for optimism. I was particularly impressed that all departments showed an increase in volume for the year—nothing spectacular, but steady. We in Marin County are fortunate geographically, with room for expansion and in drawing the type of people we do to our area. Since I came here in 1946 from San Francisco I have noticed remarkable improvements —in streets and buildings, and above all in the tempo of living."

CHARLES HOWARD ALLEN, Frank Howard Allen and Son, real estate:

"I am a professional optimist —otherwise I wouldn't be in the real estate business—so it's natural for me to predict better things for next year. Our offices sold more of the expensive type homes in 1960 than in 1959 and the same trend will probably continue into 1961. We are expanding our business; we have five offices in the county now and I'll have an announcement for you on something else after the first of the year."

JULIAN C. LEONE, circulation manager, Independent-Journal:

"During 1960 we've had our biggest 12-month gain in circulation. I was amazed myself in looking at the figures—1,934 over last year—and I predict an even better 1961."

Marin Retail Sales Gained In Summer

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Marin County was among the 39 in California whose retail sales during the July-September quarter showed gains over the same period in 1959, the state Board of Equalization reported today.

Sales in the county for the third quarter totaled $41,085,000, producing $1,232,550 in the state's three percent sales tax. This was a gain of 3.7 per cent over the third quarter of 1959.

On a statewide basis, retail sales subject to the tax rose to an all-time high for the quarter, $5,832,070,000, the state board said. This was an increase of only one-half of one per cent over 1959 and failed to keep pace with the state's growth in population and personal income.

Of the 39 counties which had increased business during the third quarter, Trinity County made the biggest gain, with a 35.2 per cent increase. It was followed by Sutter, with a 15.9 per cent gain, and Sierra, where business was up 15.1 per cent.

Largest falloff of business was noted in Amador County, where sales dropped 15.9 per cent from the third quarter of 1959. Humboldt County sales declined 10.1 per cent and San Diego retail business was off 10.5 per cent.

Gift Gallery Fund Helped Family Agency

Proceeds from the Christmas Gift Gallery made a happy and timely present for the Family Service Agency when the Family Service League presented $1,000 to Executive Director Nicholas Suntzeff.

The agency is completing a three-month interim period in a change-over of its fiscal year to Jan. 1, to co-incide with that of the United Bay Area Crusade, its main means of support.

Suntzeff said the league's gift tided the agency over until the new year starts.

Several hundred persons viewed the colorful displays of 40 Marin shops at the Frances Young Gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center during the three days of the exhibit in November, and ordered gifts to be picked up or sent for Christmas. The League plans the gift gallery as an annual event.

Its newest project, which will continue the year around, is the Children's Cottage at 21 Madrona avenue, Mill Valley, where slightly worn and outgrown children's clothing is for sale, plus toys, games, books, records, baby furniture and maternity clothes.

Donations of salable items from the inevitable after-Christmas closet clearing will be welcomed at the cottage on Monday mornings, or pick-ups can be arranged by calling:

Mill Valley area, Mrs. E. E. Crawford; Strawberry, Mrs. Warren Callister; Belvedere-Tiburon, Mrs. F. M. Parke; Sausalito, Mrs. George Roth; Northern Marin, Mrs. John Barrie Jr.

The Cottage is open for business Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of each week (except between Christmas and New Year's), from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and is staffed by Family Service League members.

'Whoops!' Reopens Tomorrow Night

"Whoops!" original musical revue, reopens after Christmas vacation tomorrow night and will be given a special New Year's Eve performance Saturday at Sausalito's Gate Playhouse.

Top-lining the cast of 15 are comediennes Anne Haslett, Frankie Dewey with Reta Bowen, Andra Wahl, and Bill Asp musical stand-outs. Directed by George Felker, "Whoops!" was written by Jerry DeBono and Larry Paxton.
